

Helpful travel hints

If you travel by train

*different trains have different degrees of accessibility, so be sure to check that the services you need will be available. Ask about both cars and stations;

*assistance from a porter is usually available, but arrangements should be made at the time you make reservations;

Womenmoose

The September Chapter night meeting of Terrace Bay Chapter #1426 was called to order by Senior Regent Sadie Benko.

There were 17 members present.

Publicity Chairman Rose Marie Dakin introduced her committee and stated that a raffle would be held and lunch served following the meeting.

Receipts and deposits were reported by Recorder Benita Vaillant and verified by Treasurer Annette Landry.

The ladies will cater for the Men's Slow Pitch League banquet on Sept. 26.

The annual Hallowe'en dance will be held on Saturday, October 31.

Raffle was won by Ann Stachiw and Clara Gould won the Pot of Gold.

Next meeting, our business meeting, will take place on Sept. 20.

S. Benko.

*if you have difficulty walking, getting around while aboard a moving train may pose special problems. Ask about having your meals brought to your seat or compartment;

*companions who must accompany a disabled person travel by train for free, but a certificate from a doctor or institution stating that the individual is handicapped and cannot travel alone is required.

If you travel by bus

*in making reservations, find out where and when you'll have to change buses.

You may even have to change terminals. Choose the route with fewest changes;

*verify in advance that the terminals you'll be using have the services you need. Have the bus line notify ticket agents along your route so they expect your arrival;

*if getting on and off the bus is difficult, take food and beverages along so you don't have to leave the vehicle unnecessarily;

*several major carriers have special programs which allow a disabled person to travel with a companion who can provide assistance.

Both people travel on the same ticket. Check with the bus lines for details.

If you travel by ship

*cruise ships have different degrees of accessibility. Ask about the ship's structure, particularly width of doorways, size of cabins and bathrooms plus accessibility of dining and recreation areas;

*if you have a wheelchair, check about any restrictions. For example, some cruise lines require wheelchairs to be no more than a certain width or to be collapsible. Some ships and islands do not permit motorized wheelchairs;

*some ships' anchor offshore at certain ports. Be sure there are facilities to get you from the ship to the launch, and then to shore;

*if you have never been on a cruise, consider a short "test the water" trip before you book a long ocean voyage. A weekend on the water will give you a good feel for ship travel and how you tolerate it.
