NOTICE TO SKI-DOOERS AND PARENTS OF SKI-DOOERS:

The property known as ML-196-E bordering the south side of Schreiber where the Graham home is located is PRIVATE PROPERTY. Due to damage to out buildings, theft of property, and littering, we ask that you do not cut through this property when ski-dooing or pursuing other winter recreation. This includes the road which goes to the cement block building. You can reach the hydro line by hydro installation and using the road outside the property through to the "old dump".

1987- the year in review

favourable and both sides are optimistic about reaching a conclusion, he added.

"Environmental Minister Jim Bradley has said that the new control order, expected by today, should not result in the mill shutting down."

Woodlands layoff (same issue)

"Dateline Longlac- Kimberly-Clark announced on Jan. 21 the lay-off of 19 permanent and one temporary salaried employees in its woodlands operations."

"David H. Linton, vice-president of K-C's woodlands operations, said that the layoff, part of the woodlands Survival Plan, would take place over the next few months."

"He also announced a major change in woodlands operating methods, under which the company's current tree-length haul and centralized slashing system would be switched to a bush slashing and short-wood haul system."

Kimberly-Clark accepts Control Order (Feb. 4 issue)

"...As of Jan. 30, Kimberly-Clark has indeed accepted the order."

"Jack Lavallet announced on Jan. 30 that the terms of the control order have been resolved and that K-C will continue a 'program to improve the environment at Terrace Bay'."

"...approximately $1 million in additional spending will be added to the order to upgrade the mill's condensate stripping system to further reduce effluent toxicity."

"Spending of an additional $1 million will also be accelerated to further improve the mill's air emissions compliance status."

"...Although the control order negotiations have been resolved, Kimberly-Clark maintains that K-C's U.S. parent still plans to close the mill if it doesn't show a profit by the end of the year."

Romanuk resigns from council (Feb. 11 issue)

"Peter Romanuk has resigned from council because as he said, 'I cannot continue to serve on council to the best of my ability under the system proposed'."

"...Romanuk was reluctant to comment but he did say he doesn't like the new system."

"It's not in keeping with practices of the last 10 years. I guess I'm not acceptable to changes. In a town this size, past practices have worked'."

"Romanuk told the News that he has been on council for eight and-a-half years out of the last nine or 10 years."

Rosspport Fire Truck (Feb. 18 issue)

"Last week the News ran a photograph of the new fire truck recently purchased by Rosspport."

"The truck, Rosspport's first-ever, is a 1959 International. It was purchased with help from the Ministry of Northern Development and Mines, said Rosspport Fireman Doug Stefurak."

"...The truck has a 500-gallon holding capacity and it can pump water at a rate of 625 gallons per minute."

"The above-mentioned ministry also assisted in financing the Rosspport Fire Hall, which was built in 1985."

"...The fire hall will be in operation once it is fully completed. Doug Stefurak set a tentative date of early June for commencement of operations."

Pollution Probe booted at meeting (Feb. 25 issue)

"The highlight of last week's Draft Control Order meeting was the public forum that followed presentations by Kimberly-Clark and Ministry of the Environment (MOE) officials."

Let us get to work

"...During the public forum that followed the presentations, it was Terrace Bay resident Bill Love (safety co-ordinator for K-C) who best-described how residents feel here about the whole Control Order situation and the surrounding turmoil."

"He said in his speech prepared for the meeting that just like everyone else who lives in this area, he has a big stake here along the North Shore."

"Everyone has felt the pressure from government and pressure groups, he said, that lack understanding and threaten the existence of everyone involved with Kimberly-Clark here."

"Love said there is no disagreement that the environmental performance (of K-C) must be improved upon. K-C must be provided 'a logical time frame to meet the challenges- get out of our way and let us get to work,' he said."

"His words met with a round of applause from the audience."

Pollution Probe

"...The atmosphere at last week's meeting suddenly became tense when Pollution Probe Researcher Kai Millyard stepped up to the microphone."

"As soon as he introduced himself, he was thoroughly booed by people in the audience."

"The first thing Millyard said was that he had enough guts to come to speak to the people in Terrace Bay."

"The difficulty he said he's had is that the company (K-C) has stuck its heels in the ground and taken a hard line position that if the government was tough (with the Control Order) it would shut down and throw people's futures out the window."

"That is not a constructive way to solve problems,' he said. It all comes down to 'how we solve problems and who is making the decisions'."

Huggies and Kleenex

"Millyard then turned the microphone over to a part time Pollution Prober from Thunder Bay, Bruce Hyer, who was also heckled by members of the audience."

"Hyer, who was later seen carrying mill effluent in a juice bottle, said he had some suggestions for Terrace Bay. One was that hopefully someday Huggies and Kleenex will be made here."

"He said all of K-C's profits go elsewhere to the U.S.- more value on jobs and income must be placed here in Terrace Bay."

"Hyer said he does not believe Pollution Probe has endangered jobs-workers should control their own fate and destiny in case K-C does pull out of the North. 'The timber licence should not go to whoever buys the mill (if it is sold),' he said."

Houston new councillor to replace Romanuk (March 11 issue)

"New Councillor Bill Houston...was officially sworn in at the Feb. 23 meeting of Terrace Bay council...- he replaces Peter Romanuk who resigned."

"Houston was a councillor before for three years and his last term was in November of 1985."

"At that time he ran for reeve of Terrace Bay against Counc. Ollie Chapman."

"Houston said he feels the same way now as when he ran for reeve a few years back- 'duty bound'."

Terrace Bay-Schreiber News moving after 30 years (March 18 issue)

"News flash- The Terrace Bay-Schreiber News will be moving from its location in the basement of the post office to the recently vacated spot at 13 Simcoe Plaza (formerly Sun & Fun Sports) beside the credit union."

"The move was decided upon in order to give the paper more exposure to the public not to mention giving the News a more modern look and a newer and fresher atmosphere."

101 employees to lose jobs in May (March 25 issue)

"Another step in the continuing effort by Kimberly-Clark of Terrace Bay to streamline its pulp operations, the closing of the Longlac sawmill, has been announced and it will take effect on May 15."

"The closure will result in the loss of 101 jobs- this includes 59 hourly sawmill employees, four salaried employees and 38 woodlands employees."

"President of K-C of Canada and General Manager of the Terrace Bay mill Jack L. Lavallet told those at a meeting that he was making the announcement with 'great reluctance'."

"He said the sawmill business (and the sawmill operations) has been analyzed and it shows that there will no be reasonable rate of return in the future to ensure K-C's primary objective- quality pulp."

"...therefore K-C 'cannot accept the drain on all the resources of our company that the sawmill is placing on us'."

Board meetings explain both sides (April 1 issue)

"Both the Lake Superior Board of Education and the North of Superior District R.C.S.S. Board have held public meetings to inform citizens about the North of Superior's plan for French Catholic extension in Manitouwadge and the resulting impact on the Lake Superior board's educational system..."

"...The Lake Superior board contends that this move will narrow the public board's tax base resulting in an increase to remaining public taxpayers."

"The board (Lake Superior) says they cannot afford even now to provide a varied selection of courses for the students."

"The present situation will get even worse if the extension goes through, claims the public board- the separate board's plan will threaten the viability of the existing public-run high school."

"Therefore, their plan does not meet the criteria of Bill 30 (Bill 30 gives separate school boards the right to operate Catholic high schools without affecting the viability of public high schools)."

"The 'whole truth' did come out at the North of Superior school board's public meeting on March 24."

"One impression received at this meeting was that the plan is not a plan to fragment, but a plan to give Francophone students the education they are entitled to."

"George Matys, director of education for the North of Superior D.R.C.S.S. Board, said the Francophone ratepayers now have a right to govern their own education and the North of Superior board is just the mechanism through which they can now attain governance."

"Paul Bourrassa, principal of Ecole Notre Dame de Lourdes in Manitouwadge, said that the French culture is very precious and that it should be retained at the secondary level."

"Rose Dumais, French sector chairperson of the North of Superior board, said people seem to think of French as just another course like Math or Geography."

"She said it is not just another course, but a culture and a way of life."
