Homemakers give much to help others in the area

To officially support the function of Homemakers, the Ontario Legislature has declared the week of October 16-23, 1988 as Visiting Homemakers Week.

Ontario's 6,000 Homemakers will be given recognition during Visiting Homemakers Week.

Homemaker services run the gamut from light housekeeping, laundry, and shopping to meal preparation, personal care and child care.

Homemakers often provide their clients with important emotional support such as relief for care givers, or simply an empathetic ear.

They help clients by encouraging their participation in household routines and by helping them cope with the stresses that often accompany debility.

It's the giving, caring, and responsive attitude that make Homemakers special people. They are women and men who help the elderly, handicapped and families during a medical crisis or chronic illness. The support is priceless as many clients can testify because the skilled Homemaker must tend to practical needs plus any emotional turmoil.

Homemaker services, administered through the Thunder Bay Red Cross Society, have been available in Rossport, Schreiber and Terrace Bay for the past year.

Red Cross recruits, selects, trains and supervises Homemakers. As well, they co-ordinate services with organizations that provide funding, such as the Thunder Bay Home Care Program, town offices, Department of Veterans' Affairs, the Cancer Society, and family and children's services.

This week is in honour of the many homemakers who give so much of themselves to so many people who dearly appreciate them.

For further local information about obtaining services or becoming a Red Cross Homemaker, please call Phyllis Mosley, assistant homemaker supervisor at 825-9076 between 9 a.m. and noon.
