

Will you host a child from another country

By participating in Interculture Canada's year hosting program, area families can enjoy rediscovering the beauty of their world as seen through the eyes of a young person from another country.

Interculture Canada, a not-for-profit, charitable organization administering international exchange programs, has officially launched its 1989-90 host family recruitment campaign. Close to 200 students from as many as 30 different countries are on their way to Canada for an entire school year.

These ambassadors of friendship, aged between 15 and 18, look forward to fully experiencing Canada by living with a Canadian family and studying in a local high school.

Thanks to Interculture Canada, those who welcome a student into their home can expect to live an intercultural adventure tailored to their family profile. Interculture Canada carefully selects students from a large pool of applicants and, through a sensitive family-matching process, makes every effort to ensure a positive climate for exchange. This way, families and students not only discover their similarities, but also grow from the richness of their differences.

The program is open to all family types: two parents with children, single-parent families, childless couples - all are welcome.

The pleasures of hosting largely rest on the acceptance of the student as a true member of the family. Explains one parent hosting a Finnish student, "We've let her become part of the family and now it's as if she always lived with us.

It's going to be tough when she goes home in July."

Host families are not asked to absorb any outstanding expenses for the student beyond the food, housing and incidental expenses they would for their own teenager. Both student and family benefit from the support of Interculture Canada staff and volunteers throughout the experience.

As a member of AFS Intercultural Programs, Interculture

Canada is part of the world's largest network of high school exchange programs. Established in 1947 and operating in 66 countries, this educational movement promotes intercultural understanding and international development.

Families wishing more information about hosting, and individuals interested in becoming Interculture Canada volunteers, may call Judy Barker at (416) 729-2683 or, toll-free, 1-800-361-7248.

PUBLIC INVITATION TO PARTICIPATE IN THE PREPARATION OF TIMBER MANAGEMENT PLANS

Kimberly-Clark of Canada Limited has commenced preparation of timber management plans for the Longlac and Nakina Forests and the Geraldton Management Unit. Upon approval these plans will direct harvest, renewal and maintenance operations undertaken by the Company and the third party agreement holders, Weldwood of Canada and Lecours Lumber. The plans will also address road locations and access to the forest, and consider the concerns of other users of the forest.

You are invited to participate in the preparation of these plans by providing additional background information and identifying areas which contain resource features, land uses or values that might be affected by timber management operations. Interested persons are encouraged to state the issues and concerns they wish to see addressed by submitting comments to the District Manager at the address below, or visiting their local district offices in Geraldton, Terrace Bay, or Nipigon.
