

Gossip should stop

Dear Editor:

For the residents who receive this newspaper, you may be reading an article that may hit many people right at home.

I have lived here all my life and like most people, I have had my share of good times and bad times.

Why do people like to hurt innocent people through gossip?

You can't be so stupid to think that the people being talked about aren't going to find out. Why is it people are so jealous of other people? Why is it people choose to pick on single parents when people like us, who are married, may or may not have as many troubled times as single parents?

People think people who are being helped out by the government and being handed brand new houses on a silver platter are so well off!

I feel it's jealousy. We married people can have just as much as these other people but it's just a matter of being able to manage your money. Why are these married couples who have two incomes, bringing in $2,000 a month always broke?

Because they have to have brand new houses, two brand new cars, the best stereo on the market, raising 2, 3, or 4 children, they are going out every weekend and they expect to have $5,000 in the bank.

I must say that it's us married people who are in debt and with problems, not the single parents.

We must realize it's not easy to get ahead in today's society and we should give these single parents credit for trying to improve themselves.

We know how hard it is raising children with two parents, we must be able to imagine how hard it must be raising a child with one parent.

Allow me to make one suggestion. We should sit back and think about what people are doing to each other. Maybe we are the ones with the problems and therefore to cover our problems up, we are taking it out on innocent people, whether single or married. Think about it, let's stop hurting each other and let everyone be happy.

Don't hurt the people who are happy and content just to cover up our unhappiness.

Patricia

Thank You

Keith D. Ross

I would like to thank Dr. Raczycski for his care and kindness during my stay at McCausland Hospital.

Also thank you to all the great nurses and staff at the hospital for their care and humor (Tracy S.)

Thank you to Gino Caccamo and family for the fruit basket, everyone that visited, phoned, sent cards, and said prayers.

Thank you to my wonderful family John, Kenny, Sandralee, Steven, Dale, Shirley, Larry, Linda and grandchildren.

A special thank you to my wife Mary

God Bless you all.

Bystanders don't offer assistance

Dear Editor:

Last Monday, May 15, my friend and I were involved in a situation in which we desperately needed assistance.

I thought that being from a small community, people would be concerned and help in any way they possibly could.

However, while my friend was unconscious, and I ran to them and asked for their assistance, they were quite ignorant regarding my friend's safety.

Luckily, a police officer was close to the scene, and he called the ambulance.

I would like to sincerely thank Constable Glen Klentz, the police officer at the scene, Paul Marcon, Jon Figliomeni and Dave Schinbein, who were in the ambulance and the doctors and nurses in the emergency ward who were very compassionate and concerned.

Sincerely,
Alyson Graham and Cheryl Swlawson
