Student placement centre now open

By Dave Chmara
 The Canada Employment Centre for Students (CECS) opened its doors Monday, June 12.
 Open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday to Friday, the employment centre is a good starting point for students in their job search.
 Student Placement Officer Tammy Trach, will be enlisting the help of local businesses this week to find jobs for students.
 This week is Hire a Student Week and Trach said students can volunteer to help during the week.
 Monday was a chance for students to learn how to write and prepare a resume. Trach said students can come in at any time for help with resumes.
 Tuesday saw Trach starting an employer blitz in Terrace Bay and Wednesday she plans to be in Schreiber.
 From 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Thursday, Trach will be at Costa's in Terrace Bay to help promote the CECS.

 During the afternoon Friday, Trach will be holding a neighborhood blitz to find jobs for students.
 Even though the centre has only been open for just over a week, Trach said, "we have lots of jobs but very few students."
 She said when students come in to register they should have their Social Insurance Number with them as referrals to employers cannot be made without this number.
 To use the CECS services, you must be a student who is returning to school in the fall.
 Trach said students sometimes misunderstand what the CECS is all about. "It doesn't look bad to come here," she said. "It's where employers go to look for employees - it's not a sign that you can't get a job."
 A wide variety of jobs were available last week such as carpenter's helper, clerical, cooks helper, front desk clerk, home makers and labor work, of which Trach says there is a lot available.

 The CECS covers the area from Terrace Bay to Rosspoint and will be open until August 18.
 It is located in the Multi Purpose Room of the Terrace Bay Recreation Centre.
 The CECS phone number is 825-9072.
