Full agenda at McCausland Auxiliary November meeting

The Auxiliary to the McCausland Hospital met Nov. 20 with 12 members welcomed by President Margaret Gander. Marg thanked all the members who baked muffins for the Regional Fall Conference in Thunder Bay and their excellent reception in hosting the hospitality.

Delegate Vicky Boucher gave a very informative report on the Fall Conference chaired by Elaine Mannisto. The speakers were excellent and included Peter McDonald from Pastoral Care in St. Joseph's Hospital explaining his pastoral care among patients and families.

He touched on the sorrow and grief and at times, anger, also his relationship with A.A. and Drug Addiction. Peter also talked on palliative care and dealing with the dying.

The second speaker was Elizabeth Hartwick from Northwestern Ontario Arthritis Society. This lady gave a brief history of the disease and its relationship with Lyme disease that we're learning about now.

She spoke of the research and treatments available now, and how desperate the need is for more funding for research. She concluded by displaying many items to assist the handicapped to be independent.

Committee reports: Three boys and one girl born in the last month at McCausland Hospital.

Lifeline will have 13 subscribers within the week. A motion was passed to pay the monthly telephone bill for the Lifeline telephone.

A sample of the Halloween tray favors was displayed by Vicky Boucher and she gave a detailed report of the Halloween party in the Hospital. She commented on the enjoyment of the patients with the children and their teacher on their fine performance.

A lively discussion ensued concerning the upcoming Christmas event for the patients in the hospital.

Membership campaign had been completed in Rosspport by Maureen Tychoniak with 29 members. Pauline Kidder's report stated not all canvassers had completed their areas in Terrace Bay and Schreiber's campaign under Ann Miller will be completed by the end of the month.

The Bake Sale and Gingerbread Draw was most successful and appreciation was extended to all involved.

Jeannie Randle will be painting various windows in the hospital in the Christmas motif. Students of the Schreiber Public School will donate art work to decorate the hospital for the Christmas season. December 7 will be the decorating night at the hospital.

Details for the Christmas Baking Tray project were finalized. The deadline date for orders will be December 8 with pick up December 15 by 7 p.m. at 582 Lakeview Drive.

Sheila Cassie, auxiliary member attending the H.A.A.O. Convention in Toronto spoke about her experience and that it was beneficial to her. She displayed some craft she had made and literature for ordering posters.

Marg's report stated there were some excellent speakers and presenters. Everyone of the over 900 attending soon were caught up in the theme "Catch the Theme". There were six concurrent sessions to choose from in the morning and seven in the afternoon.

Motivation and recognition of volunteers was excellent with many ideas to encourage people to become volunteers. Most of the delegates were very pleased with the entire program giving great praise to the volunteers who organized the entire four-day conference.

One statement which stands out is "Smile often - it generates enthusiasm, friendliness and goodwill".

Many ideas will be experienced in January and February at our meetings.
