Greyhound moves Terrace Bay agency

By Dave Chmara

Greyhound has moved its Terrace Bay agency from the location on the Mill Road to J.C.T. Pizza on Radisson Avenue.

Ken Horn, District Supervisor for Greyhound in Winnipeg and Alan LaBarge, District Manager in Thunder Bay, were on hand Tues. Dec. 5 finalizing the details of the move with owner of J.C.T. Pizza, Jacques Fillion.

The original application for the Greyhound agency was made April 20, 1989. During the following months a petition was signed with hundreds of names supporting the application and a long list of correspondence took place between J.C.T. Pizza,

Greyhound, Terrace Bay council, the Terrace Bay Police and Fire Departments and Gilles Pouliot.

LaBarge said the biggest problem with the application concerned the fire department and their concern that there is insufficient room for the fire trucks to leave the fire hall if a bus is parked outside J.C.T. Pizza.

But LaBarge said Greyhound has measured the distance between J.C.T. and the fire hall and said the 60 feet between the two allows for more than ample room for the fire trucks to get out of the fire hall, even if a bus is parked at J.C.T.

Horn said all Greyhound
