

MEMORIAM

JAMES-Lawrence (Larry) Edward, passed away, at Red Deer Extended Care Unit, Sunday, March 18, 1990. He was the son of the late Herbert Robert James and the late Una Mae Henry James, of Lindsay, Ontario. He was born November 1st, 1903, at Lochlin, in Haliburton County, Ontario. In 1907 the family moved to Lindsay, Ontario, where he grew up. Larry joined the Ontario Provincial Police Force, in 1928. He worked throughout Ontario, notably, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Kenora, Thunder Bay (then called Fort William), Schreiber and Ignace areas. He is recorded in the book, "Saga of the Shield, Ignace", written by Betty Carr. He left the police force and began working for Canadian Pacific Railways, in Schreiber, Ontario, in the early 40's. In 1955, he left the Schreiber area, and worked at various jobs throughout Northwestern Ontario and Northern Manitoba, retiring in 1973, to Thunder Bay, Ontario. In 1978, he left the Thunder Bay area, and moved to Creston, B.C., where he resided until January of 1989, moving, then to Red Deer, Alberta. He is survived by six children: Lorraine, Mrs. William Fadden, Creston B.C.; Una, Mrs. Robert Jackson, Dryden, Ontario; Ariel, Mrs. Rodney Harmatuk, Sardis, B.C.; Jean Roney, Salmon Arm, B.C.; Beverley, Mrs. Joseph Cobbitt, Fort Nelson, B.C.; and his son, Herbert Robert James, of Red Deer, Alberta. Also, seventeen grandchildren, twelve great grandchildren and one great, great, grandson. He is survived, also, by three sisters, Velma McNickle, Elsie Archer and Pearl Ford, all of Lindsay, Ontario and one brother, Allan James of Peterborough, Ontario. He was predeceased by his parents, brothers, Norman and Clarence of Toronto and sister Lillian James, also of Toronto. One granddaughter, Susan Fadden, of Thunder Bay. The funeral service was held in the Red Deer Funeral Home, with burial by cremation and interment in the family plot, Lindsay, Ontario.

urban environments in which we live. While some people appreciate the beauty and importance of these creatures, many others despise or regard these animals as "nuisance wildlife". This unwarranted, negative attitude is unfortunate for several reasons. One reason is that people are responsible for destroying wildlife habitat and forcing wild creatures to take refuge in man-made structures.

Wildlife plays an important role in urban, suburban and rural settings. It not only brings joy to those people who take pleasure in sharing their environment with nature, but also adds some life to those concrete jungles people have created in name of "progress". Wildlife also plays numerous other vital roles. We must learn to live in harmony with wild creatures for our very existence depends on their survival.
