Ministry of Community and Social Services

Managing Social Services in the Rural Thunder Bay district:

A Challenge for the Future

Appointment to District Advisory Committees

Request for Submissions

An invitation is extended to the citizens of the rural Thunder Bay District by letter, either their own name or names of others (with their consent) to be considered for nomination to serve on one of two seven member District Advisory Committees. The role of the Advisory Committees is to assist the Thunder Bay District Office of the Ministry of Community and Social Services in reviewing the existing social services for children and families, and recommending potential alternatives for efficient and effective service delivery. The committees will be composed of individuals from different sectors such as consumers, parents and municipalities. The individuals, however, should expect to represent their own communities as individuals, and not necessarily as employees of any organization. It is anticipated that staff from agencies currently providing services will also be included as potential members of the committees.

Qualifications

The persons nominated should have an active interest in improving services for children and families in the rural Thunder Bay District. They should be knowledgeable about children's services and relevant issues associated with the delivery of services. They should also be willing to seek opinions from their own communities in order to effectively represent community interests in the committee's work. The nominated individuals should be willing to volunteer about six working days during a nine month period. The meetings will be held in different communities in rural Thunder Bay District. The actual food and travel expenses will be reimbursed.

Role

The role of the committees is to:

- *review current children's services in the rural district of Thunder Bay
- *explore potential alternatives for effective service delivery
- *advise the Ministry of several options for improved co-ordination and delivery of current services with clear vision, efficiency and accountability mechanisms.

Duration

The committee will be task focused and time limited in its nature. The committee will probably meet for one day meetings, about once in six to eight weeks, over a period of eight to nine months. Initially the Ministry will take the lead role in establishing and conducting the meeting. The committee list will be finalized by the District Office of the Ministry of Community and Social Services.

Applications

Interested individuals should send their resume (or nominate others with their consent) or a statement of interest to the following address.
