

THANK YOU

The family of the late William (Bill) Stachiw wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to their family and friends for their generous gifts of food, baking, flowers, donations to the Cancer Society, McCausland Hospital Building Fund, and for the many sympathy cards. A sincere thank you to King's Funeral Home, organist Clara MacDonald, Community Church Ladies and the Women of the Moose for the delicious lunch, and to Beth McLean for her support and prayers. Special thanks to Dr. Rohani and to the wonderful, caring nurses at the McCausland Hospital. Many thanks to our family and friends who attended from out of town. The kindness and concern shown by everyone will always be remembered.

Cash for conservation

This energy efficient lamp was just one of the many ways of conserving energy suggested at an Energy Forum held at the Aguasabon Golf Club on Oct. 30.

The gathering was sponsored by the Northwestern Ontario Associated Chambers of Commerce (NOACC), in association with the Ontario Ministry of Energy.

The forum was aimed at commercial building owners, and speakers informed the audience about ways to cut down on their energy costs.

One NOACC program offers free energy audits for building owners, while a spokesperson for Ontario Hydro outlined how it plans to spend $6 billion over the next 25 years on cash incentives to encourage people to conserve energy.

Hydro is spending the money on the conservation plan, rather than build another nuclear power plant, which would cost an estimated $12 billion, and in any case has been forbidden by the NDP.
