McColm

hits the road

Ken McColm is expected to arrive in our area next week.

According to a new travel schedule issued Jan. 10, McColm resumed his run in White River Jan. 10, and plans to average 5 km a day.

If everything goes according to schedule, he will arrive in Jackfish Jan. 20, in Terrace

Bay Jan. 21, in Schreiber Jan. 22 and in Pays Plat Jan. 23.

He has been reunited with his dog, Darren, who quit the tour last month.

McColm has been given a clean bill of health by his doctor, and a new sponsor, Greyhound, has loaned the group a bus for the duration of the cross Canada trip.

McColm is a visually impaired runner crossing Canada to raise awareness and money for the Canadian Diabetes Foundation.

He was forced to postpone his journey last month because of poor health and bad weather.

McCausland doctors

Schreiber and Terrace Bay come under the Health Care jurisdiction of the Ministry of Health Underserved Area Program. This program ensures that there will be four family physicians available to the residents of the McCausland Hospital Catchment Area, which runs from Pays Plat to Jackfish.

For the past 18 months, one long term and one locum tenen (or temporary) physician has occupied the Schreiber Clinic, and one long term physician has occupied the Terrace Bay Clinic.

Tenure of locum physicians range from one week to six months. The present locum tenures are Dr. Deshauer and Dr. Albuquerque, a man and wife team who are here starting Dec. 30, 1991 until June 30, 1992.

Recruitment of family physicians to fill the two vacancies on a more permanent basis is a continuous process.

There is a physician, a Dr. Hurst, who is interested in relocating to this area. If all documentation is in order, he should be in his local office by July 1 of this year.

All physicians practicing in Ontario are qualified and certified by the College and Family Physicians of Ontario and the Ontario Medical Association.

Also, most locum physicians rotating through the McCausland do not deliver babies.

Information session

The Northwestern Ontario Breast Screening Program will be hosting an information session on Monday, Jan. 27, at the Terrace Bay Recreation Centre. Everyone is welcome to attend.

A staff inservice will be held at the McCausland Hospital at 10:30 am Thursday, Jan. 28.

No longer taking applications

Ontario Credit Counselling ACCESS has announced that it will not be able to take any new applications because of a recent Ontario Ministry of Social Services decision to stop all Credit Counselling services on March 31, 1991.

Joyce Brown, senior credit counsellor at the toll-free telephone service, says she's extremely distressed at having to take this action.

"People are more desperate than at any other time in my experience," said Brown, who has been a counsellor for 12 years.

"The economy has been very slow to recover and it is the average worker who is suffering the most. For the province to stop funding at any time is inconceivable, but at this time it is irresponsible."

During the past six months, the service has counselled more than 461 families and individuals.

Brown said she and her staff are feeling like Scrooge.

"To turn away clients who are coming to you under extreme stress is the hardest action for a counsellor to take, especially where there is no other service available to them," she said.

"We hope the government can see its way clear to rescind this decision."
