Schools plan activities for Education Week

Local Schools are celebrating education week, which runs May 4-8. This year's theme is "Make it Work with Education."

Schreiber Public School planned an Earth Day Parade May 4, in keeping with its plans to link Education Week with Environmental Week.

Also planned is a competition, open to all grades, to design a "green space" for the adjacent lot. A "Garbage Free Lunch" is also planned.

Former Terrace Bay constable guilty of assault

by Darren MacDonald
The News

Former Terrace Bay Police Services Constable Glen Krentz has been sentenced to a $600 fine or 30 days in jail after pleading guilty April 27 to assaulting an 11-year-old girl.

The plea is the result of an incident which occurred in 1985. He was charged with gross indecency late last year.

Krentz's lawyer, Lee Baig, declined to comment on whether or not he thought the sentence was light.

In a telephone interview Friday afternoon, Baig did say that in his opinion, a probationary sentence wasn't needed.

"At least that's the argument we put forth, and the judge (Bruno Cavion) went along with it," said Baig.

"In cases where probation is ordered, society has to keep a watch on him, and there was nothing in this case that indicated that was necessary."

"In cases where probation is ordered, society has to keep a watch on him, and there was nothing in this case that indicated that was necessary."

Although he said he couldn't comment on this case in particular, he did say that in general, a determination is made whether or not the crime is a one time incident, or something that might occur again.
