

WE'RE MOVING REAL SOON

the NEWS

is moving into their new office in the Cullmar Building (corner of Mill Rd)

at the End of May

Thank You

The family of the late Sadie Benko wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all of our family and friends who helped us through this time of sorrow.

Your kind words and expressions of sympathy have given us much comfort in knowing that Sadie was a special lady, not only to her family but to everyone who knew her.

A special thanks to the Doctors and nurses of Port Arthur General and McCausland Hospitals for their care and kindness during her illness.

Also to the women of the Moose and the Ladies Auxillary of Terrace Bay Community Church whose help and support showed how much Sadie was loved.

Sadie will be sadly missed and always remembered. "Rest in Peace, Sadie".

Your family John, Bob, Marilyn and Valerie

Northern Insights: Whistle blowers deserve protection

Mr. Hampton, you are now the employer. Facts that might be exposed by whistle-blowers could be embarrassing to your government. But you made an eloquent case two years ago for the principle of public accountability—the idea that, regardless of who is in power, the public has a right to know whether harm is being done to public resources.

Besides, as you told those hearings in Fort Frances two years ago, (page 36,459 if you want to look it up) "in politics, there's two ways of approaching the problem: You can deal with the problem, or can deal with the public relations of the problem."

"I think the government has chosen to deal in the last few years with the public relations of the problem, and that means convincing people that everything is okay."

Premier Bob Rae has frequently used words like "openness" and "partnership" to characterize your style of governing.

Thus, if you want to convince us that your government is actually dealing with problems, rather than "the public relations" of problems, I urge you to pass strong whistle-blowing legislation. By passing the legislation, you will convince a skeptical public that you really do not have anything to hide.

Sincerely,
Larry Sanders
