

Plant sale in Terrace Bay

by Darren MacDonald
The News
 The Terrace Bay Horticultural Society held its annual Plant Sale June 6, and about 150 people lined up at 8 am to get first choice of the flora on the floor. Some of the more popular items included marigolds, they spent more than $1,000 on their planting this year.

Society member Ken Randle says that the planting the group did this year adhered to the theme of Canada 125.

"Everything we planted this year was red, white and purple," says Randle, who says

The group has planted or plans to plant flower beds in front of the post-office, the CIBC, and the township office.

"This year we have a SEED student that's going to go out and weed all the beds around town" he says.

Randle says that with more than 200 members, Terrace Bay's Horticultural society is the largest in the District—larger even than Thunder Bay's.

In addition to the spring planting, the group holds a home beautification contest in the summer, and a house decorating contest at Christmas-time.

Pam and Patrick Jones are pleased to announce the arrival of their second grandchild,
