Mazda dealer leaves Acton to relocate in Milton

By Frances Niblock

After more than 33 years in business in Acton, Achilles Mazda is closing its dealership and service department and will open at a new location on Steeles Avenue at the Fourth Line in Milton within months.

"This was not an easy decision to make," Achilles Pelitus Jr. said in a telephone interview on Wednesday, adding his mother, who helped her husband Achilles Senior (Les) build the business, and still is a daily presence at the dealership, has shed "lots of tears" over the move.

Pelitus said the decision, in the works for three or four years, was prompted by a Mazda directive to "re-image" its dealerships to certain standards and a certain look by this December.

"The decision was really was from a self-preservation perspective. If we didn't make the move to Milton then Mazda would have put a dealership, undoubtedly in Milton within the next 18 months, so that would have really put us in a very tight spot up here in Acton, servicing only Acton and Georgetown," Pelitus said, adding the move would allow Achilles Mazda to maintain its priorities in Acton, Georgetown and Milton.

"It was never our intention to say 'hey, we have to leave Acton' for business purposes or anything. We love Acton and would have preferred to stay here for as long as we possibly could after making a good go of it for 30-plus years," he said.

Pelitus said all of his 15 staff will make the move to the new location and are "excited to go."

He said the future of the Acton dealership and repair shop is undecided, although they would like to continue to have a "presence" in Acton. He said they don't have to sell the Acton location to make the move to Milton, but in the long run, if the best decision is to sell the Acton location, then that's what will happen.

"My absolute best scenario would be to retain it with some sort of automotive capacity. The unfortunate thing is that a satellite operation is not feasible from a cost perspective and from Mazda's re-imaging instructions," he said.

In a press release, Pelitus said, "Acton has been tremendous to my family. However, the opportunity that Milton presents to us is enormous. We are very excited."

Les and Litsa Pelitus immigrated to Acton in 1971, and within two years, opened Achilles Motors, a car repair facility. They began representing the Mazda brand in 1977. Achilles Jr. has been the dealer principal at the family dealership since 2000.

ACHILLES LEAVES ACTON
