

Get ready to hit the slopes as Glen Eden opens Friday

The sharp drop in temperature has no doubt lifted the spirits of many local skiers and snowboarders.

After an especially mild December stretch wiped out the possibility of a holiday opening, this week's bone-chilling conditions have allowed Glen Eden Ski and Snowboard Centre to resume snow-making operations. To that end, the park is set to open Friday at 8:30 a.m.

"We're still making snow for a good portion of this week and the goal is to have as many runs and terrain open as we can for our opening this weekend," said Glen Eden Manager Sean Durkin. "Thank-you to all our customers for their patience and understanding, we are excited to get the season started and look forward to seeing you."

Glen Eden is expected to kick off the season with five lifts and eight runs, as well as with the Terrain Park set up for snowboarders and skiers.

Daily conditions, as well as information on lessons and camps, can be found at www.gleneden.on.ca.

Glen Eden snow-making has resumed this week, with a season opening set for Friday.
