

It's okay to take a dip in town

The weather is sure to be hot this weekend, so why not hit the beach? And unlike last weekend, people can go swimming right here.

According to the Halton Region Health Department, two of Oakville's beaches have safe levels of bacteria for swimming, and only one is still unsafe. That's in contrast to last weekend, when the health department reported all beaches were unsafe.

The safe beaches are Bronte Park Beach and Coronation Park East.

Coronation Park West, however, was found unsafe to swim this week.

The health department does weekly testing for bacteria levels at recreational water spots through the summer months.

All other Halton beaches are safe for swimming as well. They include: The Beachway North and South in Burlington; Kelso Conservation Area in Milton and Prospect Park Old Beach in Halton Hills.

Vacations Made You Feel Guilty About Leaving Mom Alone

This year you left, but she's not alone

Mom looks forward to your daily conversations and feels more secure knowing that you're just a phone call away. So, when you're on vacation, she feels uneasy and so do you.

Chartwell welcomes long and short term stays for a variety of reasons. Our residents and staff look forward to meeting new people and make them feel right at home.
