Wm Smith, M. P., and John Ball Dow spent Wednesday evening of last week with the people of Harmony, who are principally all Liberals. There were only a few Tories present to hear the Conservative side of pub issues, but the Liberals turned out well and listened with apparent interest to the speeches. Mr. L. G. Drew occupied the chair. Mr. Smith took the ground that the remedial bill would not impose separate schools on the whole of Manitoba, but only families to keep them up. To maintain the system in such places he argued was in ac cordance with the traditions and constitution of Manitoba. He dwelt at length or the tariff issue, urging that it had reduced the cost of tea, sugar and other staple necessities to farmers, whilst protecting their produce from outside competition. Mr. Edmonson has secured the services of J. K. Williams, one of Toronto's leading stewards, who together with his assistants will prepare and serve the menu for the occasion. The aim is to supply a first class meal (dinner or supper) served in an up-to-date style for 25 cents. There is no doubt whatever that this will be done.

The Peterboro Examiner, of May 12th, in Rev. J P. We see every day little their fare from him saying they had been ling the dirty juice of chewing tobacco and and other ways every week, but the minions of the law perhaps think that the fact of justice being blindfolded is a sufficient excuse for their own short sightedness. A Mackie's great bankrupt stock sale in Shawa is the leading topic in that com munity at the present time. He not only sells goods at from 20 to 50 per cent. below regular prices, but he has adopted a system f giving presents to his customers with pur chases. For instance if a customer buys $5 worth of goods he gets a large, beautiful oliograph, free of cost. With a ten dollar purchase you get an elegant book, of from three to four hundred pages, your choice rom one hundred, free of charge. He also has the enlarged portrait system all free of charge when you make purchases of certain mounts. It will pay you well to call and aspect his goods and system of giving presents, as he got the great staple dry goods, gents furnishings and grocery stock of W M. Wightman at a low rate on the dollar, and he is making everything howl in Oshawa He also pays customer's fares from Whitby and return who call at his store to trade Nothing small about him but his feet and he wears about an eleven boot.

Just after dinner on Saturday fire was discovered near the cupola of the stove foundry. It was a singular blaze running in streaks in various ways along the roof, and was spreading at a great rate when the fire company arrived at great speed, and in few minutes the whole blaze had been stopped. In the hurry to get to the fire the wheels of the engine truck were damaged in crossing the railway tracks, as were also those of the ladder dray. It is obvious that these wheels were not originally intended to cross iron rails, and probably stronger run. SPECIAL BARGAINS May 13th, 1896.—24-2in.
