High and Public School Acts, 1896.

PUBLIC SCHOOL AMENDMENTS.

(1) Provision is made for "Continuation S Classes" in public schools situated in a municipality in which no high school has been established. Pupils who have passed the entrance examination to a high school, or who have finished a public school course, may continue their studies as far at least as the second form of the high school. Boards of trustees are at liberty to collect reasonable fees from pupils who have passed the Public School Leaving examination; pupils who have passed the entrance examination only are to be admitted free. The trustees shall appoint for such classes a teacher with the qualification of an assistant in a high school, unless the teacher in charge is reported by the inspector as fully qualified to give the necessary instruction. The county council may aid such schools by a grant equal to the Legislative grant, or such further sum as it may deem expedient. The Minister of Education is authorized to pay for the maintenance of each pupil the average amount paid for high school pupils.

(2) In all elections for rural school trustees, a farmer's son, qualified to vote at a B municipal election, is qualified to vote for a B school trustee or may be elected as a school A trustee. (Sections 9 and 12.)

(3) Boards of school trustees are required to hold their first meeting for the organiza- M. tion of the Board on the Wednesday following the annual meeting, at the bour of four o'clock in the afternoon, and at the school Oshawa house. (Section 16.) (4) Walls or fences for the enclosure of Reach the school premises shall be erected and E. Whitby maintained by the board of trustees at the expense of the school section. (Section 34.)

(5) A petition for the formation of union sections will be legal if signed by five ratepayers of the municipality asking for the appointment of an arbitrator to consider the formation of a union section. Heretofore Majority every such petition required the signature of five ratepayers from each of the municipalities concerned in the formation of a union school section. The award of the arbitrators declaring that no change should be made in the boundaries of union sections, or that no union section should be formed, al though petitioned for, is binding for five So may those flowing tears of thine years unless appealed against. (Section 43. (6) Assessors are required to report with regard to the equalization of union school sections on or before the 1st day of June instead of the 1st of July, as in the old act. Section 51. (7) The grant heretofore made by councils as the equivalent of the government grant is dispensed with. Township councils are authorized to levy the sum of $50 for each But, brother, do not yield to grief, school, in addition to the sum of $100 which they were authorized to raise under the act of 1891. As the sum formerly levied by the county amounted to over $30 per school, the increased contribution made by the township is less then $20 in excess of what it for merly was. As the law now stands, every township council will be required to raise $150 for every school in the township. In the case of schools with an assistant teacher, $100 additional is required for such teacher. The advantages of the change are briefly these: (a) The routine of collecting the grant through the county from townships, And when that quiet sleep is o'er which was merely a matter of book-keep- She shall awake to "life eternal;" ing, is dispensed with. (b) The inequality Then shall ye meet to part no more, which exists in the township with regard to But reign in life and love supernal. the rates to be levied for the maintenance of schools will be reduced and the smaller sections, which for local or other reasons could not be enlarged, will be aided. (c) Township councils will be to a great extent relieved of the disagreeable duty of altering school boundaries with a view to meet the complaints of taxpayers. (d) The loss to a school section by rendering useless school houses that might have to be abandoned by the change of school boundaries will be obviated. (e) Small school sections that were heretofore open for six months only will be able to keep open during the whole year. Section 66. (8) Municipal councils may issue school debentures for amounts less than $100 if deemed expedient. Section 70. (9) Any bylaw exempting any portion of the rateable property of a municipality from taxation, in whole or in part, will not apply to exemptions from school rates. Section

(10) County boards of examiners are to be appointed annually. Section 79.

(11) Easter holidays in rural schools are extended four days. It is the intention to hold the teachers' institutes during the summer holidays in order to prevent any interruption to the ordinary working of the school. The holidays at Easter will therefore be made up by dispensing with the teachers' meetings during the school term.

For the garden party at Mr. John Davey's on Friday, June 26th, teams will leave the tabernacle at half-past four and at six o'clock, and carry passengers both ways for ten cents.

HIGH SCHOOL AMENDMENTS (1) Pupils from any high school the county shall be considered unless they attend the high school trict in which they reside. S tion 31, sub-section 2. (5) County councils may pay for the main-tenance of pupils attending a high school in an adjoining county where the high school district is contiguous, at the same rate as for to Oshawa last week to hear Sir Chas Tupcounty pupils. Section 31, sub-section 7.

(6) Any grant given by county councils in addition to the amount for which the county great C.P.R. picnic at Merrickville on Tuesis liable for the maintenance of county pupils day of last week. shall be in proportion to the liability of the council, that is to say, this liability may be doubled or trebled but specific sums regardless of such liability cannot be made. This provision of the new law does not come into force until after the 31st of December of the present year. In this provision high schools mentioned in sections II (6) and 3I (6) are included. To a Friend, on the death of his wife.

Brother, I will not bid thee dry The fount of tears so freely flowing, For falling raindrops clear the sky, And swell the buds of promise growing.

Help to remove the clouds of sorrow ; And though to-day no sun may shine, May brighter skies appear to-morrow.

'Tis hard to take the last farewell : Ah, my own heart, thou knowest its an-

Those only who have felt can tell The pangs which make the spirit languish. Nor let thy heart indulge in sadness : A Father's voice can speak relief, And turn thy sorrow into gladness.

To be with Jesus-to depart Unloosed from every earthly fetter-Ah, brother, that may wound thy heart, But for thy loved one it is "better."

She sweetly sleeps-she is not dead; Death to the good is only seeming : A guard of angels watch her bed, Her peaceful couch that knows no dream-

O sun, unlock the gates of day ! O God, reveal thy full salvation! Cause "all things old" to pass away. And usher in the "new creation!" Ross Johnston.

(3) The trustees of any high school may limit the optional subjects to be taken in such high school, provided always that any course required for matriculation into the university is taken. Section 9.

(4) Where county pupils pay high school fees, the amount of such fees, if advantage is taken of section 31 of the Act, is to be deducted from the whole amount for which the county is liable for maintenance. This was the intention of the High School Act of 1891, but not being clearly expressed, some counties were required to pay for the maintenance ance of county pupils without being credited with the fees paid by county pupils.
