There were two picnics held at the park last week. On Friday the Canadian Order of Foresters, of Weston, to the number of about 200, and on Saturday the Central Methodist church of Toronto, held its Sunday school picnic. There were about 300, mostly children, and all were delighted with the park and its accommodations. A very pleasant event occurred at the home of the Rev. Wm. Hastings, on the evening of the 24th June, when their eldest daughter, Sarah, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Edwin Williams, of the G. T. R. Toronto. The Rev. Allin tied the nuptial knot in his usual jovial manner. The bride, who was very tastefully dressed in white cashmere with silk and pearl trimmings, was supported by her sister, Miss Ruth, while little Lily Hastings, cousin of the bride, suitably dressed in white muslin, made a charming maid of honor. The bridesmaid looked well and was most ably supported by her friend, Joe Hastings. The presents to the bride were handsome and useful, showing the high esteem in which she was held. After the ceremony the guests (only their nearest relatives) were shown into the dining room, where they all did justice to the good things provided by the bride and groom. The happy couple, amidst a shower of rice and old slippers, took the train for Meaford, the home of the bridegroom's parents, to spend their honeymoon. Dominion Day. Dominion day here was hot, but from one source and another a very fair crowd came into town, and was about equally divided between the beach and the park. At the lake there was a splendid breeze. Nothing could be more pleasant or bracing. Added to this there was the big camp meeting of the christian brothers, and some baptisms in the lake of the converted ones. At the arena in the forenoon, and was completely swamped in five innings, and was completely won by the Bowmanville lacrosse 17 to 1. After dinner the Bowmanville lacrosse club had a match with Oshawa. The condition of the field does not admit of good lacrosse being played, and besides this the clubs are both novices at the game, and the ball was out of play about half the time, and when the scramble was finished the crowd was glad. Bowmanville won by 2 to 1. The next came another baseball game between the Eureka of Toronto and Oshawa. This was almost a repetition of the morning game, the Oshawa being able to walk away with their opponents. Our boys batted out nearly enough home runs to win the game, the score of which stood 21 to 5. The bicycle races were fairly good, but went to outside cracks in every instance, and in most cases by prearrangement. Early closing. We have to run up against the majority on this question of early closing. Each line of business which is to be shut up by the town council, in response to petitions now being sent in, is a legal business. Most of the men pay rent and taxes to enable them to do business here. They all have to pay their debts if they are honest men, and not many of them can afford to close their doors to trade at any hour of the day or night. A shop might as well be closed by the bailiff as by the law. Our notion about business is that any trader or professional man should be ready and willing to accommodate his customer at all hours. The plan of closing up stores and allowing barrooms and clubs to remain open and defile people nearly all night, does not impress us at all. We could see some sense in this move if it were directed to closing evils, instead of winking at them and closing up the trade of men who badly need all they can make out of their shops. Some of the loudest talkers in favor of early closing were to be seen and heard around the clubrooms and barrooms at midnight. This shows how people can be made to run away with an idea, and led to do an insane thing. We are assured by parties who cannot be mistaken that some of the clubrooms in this town are dens for gambling and social evil, and that many who get free from business by the early closing racket are patrons of these evils. There is no use in mincing matters when talking over these things. Town councils have no moral right under any circumstances to pass arbitrary laws compelling men to close their doors to honest trade, and those who ask for tyrannical enactments are seldom found agitating for really useful measures. All the business places in town are to be shut up for the sake of a few, who would in many instances be better employed in their shops. Lebanon lodge, No. 139, G.R.C., A.F. & A.M. Mr. Holiday spent Sunday and Monday in Toronto with his little daughter Vera, who is in the hospital, and reports her to be very much improved. Miss Madden gave her pupils and friends a picnic in Hardens grove last week when the afternoon was spent in singing and games. Everyone enjoyed themselves. Why do young men stand on the street corner Sunday evening after church to blockade and annoy the people by sneering and laughing. Young men go home, it would be more respectable. Quite a number of the sons and daughters of the division went to Epsom on Tuesday to attend the district division. Your scribe not being invited a treat as they report having just a lovely time. Two men met on the street one evening to have a talk over the election. One of the parties, a Tory, became angry and dealt the poor girl a very severe blow. Why talk politics if you cannot help it? Why will you withhold the names as they are respectable citizens, and hope this will be a lesson for them. Mr Branton and wife and Mrs C Goodman and family, Oshawa. The anniversary services on Sunday were a huge success. Rev E E Howard preached in the morning to a large congregation. In the afternoon Dr Harrison, of Keene, and the pastor, conducted a platform meeting, which was highly appreciated by the school. In the evening the pastor and Dr Harrison again conducted a platform meeting which was very interesting and instructive. Mrs Dr Harrison sang a solo in her usual charming manner. The children of the sabbath school, under the leadership of Mr A B Cryderman, rendered an abundance of choice music at each service. The church was packed in the evening. SHINGLES, MYRTLE.
