Owing to their rapidly increasing business the McLaughlin Carriage Co. have found it necessary to increase their present capacity. This season outside shops had to be used as a store room for finished work and there was not even then sufficient room for their men to work in.

Assessments reduced.
The Oshawa Railway Co. and the Bell Telephone Co. appealed against their assessment in Oshawa, and the appeal was dismissed by the Court of Revision. An appeal against this ruling was taken to the County Judge. Yesterday representatives of these interested companies met the mayor and other members of the Court of Revision and arrived at a settlement, which the Judge will be asked to confirm. The Telephone Co.'s assessment on poles, etc., was reduced from $2,000 to $1,200. The properties of the Railway Co. were reduced as follows: Station Power House from $8,000 to $6,000; Station and Freight Sheds from $5,000 to $4,000; the 103 acres of land occupied by the freight line from King Street to the Base Line, from $750 to $500; poles and attachments from $1,250 to $800. It was decided that only half of the Wood lot on King St. West is being occupied for railway purposes, the other half must pay full taxes. This lot is assessed for $700, upon which no reduction was made.

Mr. and Mrs. Stratton's narrow escape.
Mr. Tho. May, of this town, received a letter from his daughter, Mrs. Tho. Stratton, of Abbotsford, B. C., last Tuesday, stating that their home, together with all its contents, was completely destroyed by fire, and that she and her husband had a very narrow escape from being burned to death themselves. Mrs. Stratton says that some person who intended clearing land, set fire to a piece of brush about one hundred miles from where they live, and shortly after a windstorm came up and started the fire burning at a terrific rate. It reached Mr. Stratton's residence about four o'clock in the afternoon, Mr. Stratton was not at home at the time, and Mrs. Stratton was in the house asleep. She was awakened by the roar of the fire, and just had time to escape from the house, which, in fact all their contents, were completely destroyed. A great many other families in the same district also suffered to the same extent; by the great forest fire.

"Dab," who writes "Kinks" for the Vinicator, makes our clippings from the Vinicator one of the jokes. The difference between us and "Dab" is that he writes when we clip, whereas "Dab" steals jokes and passes them off as his own. It is at least twenty years since his joke about the almanacs.
The True Blues have completed all arrangements for their day of sports on Monday, and all that is required to make the day a success is first class weather. The town ought to have the largest crowd here that has ever been in. The programme of sports is all that could be desired, and management deserve credit for their efforts in getting up such a programme.

At the residence of the bride's father, Colborne street east, July 29th, by Rev. S. H. Eastman, Samuel F. Trevelyan, only daughter of Alex. N. McLean, all of Oshawa. On Saturday, Aug. 1st 1896, at the residence of the bride's mother, by Rev. C. Wilson, Wm. F. McArdie, Cadillac, Mich.; to Sarah J. V., eldest daughter of the late John Hislop.

Messrs. Coulthard, Hare and Murton attended the meeting of the commission to divide the county, at Whitby, on Monday. Oshawa was put in a district with East Whitty, and the combination will be known as Ontario. Two county councillors will be next year, and these will be elected at New Years. No fault can be found with the division, so far as this end of the county is concerned.

Overseer James Lenton has had all the rolling stones raked up and broken along the Kingston road from the town line to the cemetery. Let others follow suit. It should be made a misdemeanor, punishable with a fine for any road overseer to place grave containing large stones on the roads, or to allow large stones to remain on the turpicks, or large stones they got there. Mr. Lenton sees why should not the situation, and attends to it. Those who attend to the matter will find that it takes very little trouble to rake up and break all the stones, and the broken stones along the centre of the turpicks.

Sneak McCaw, Ed. Rogers and Walter Fife rode their bikes to Port Hope on Sunday morning last, and spent the day on fair ones whom the speed of the bike have brought into sparkling distance. On the way back they had a most trying experience. Rogers was seized with a puncture in his wind, and it took an hour to plaster up his machine. Next McCaw broke the frame of his machine, the lower tube being broken and pulled from a fence at the roadside, using barbed wire to wind it. This did not work, so they borrowed some cow-horn from a farmer's cow-barn, but these were too shaky, and a rail was broken in twain and the machine was abandoned. The boys were very late at night, but they kept on and arrived at Oshawa about 1 a.m. on Monday with one of McCaw's wheels about six inches from tracking with the other. This may be termed low under great trials and tribulations.

Oshawa-on-the-lake.
Bishop's old white horse, so long a familiar figure on the elevated tramway when unloading ships, stumbled and fell through the railing of the tramway the other day, killing itself in the fall.

Count Punshon gave the boys a scare on Monday evening. He was swimming along in the harbor, and all of a sudden was seized with a cramp in his leg. His life was saved owing to the fact that the cramp was a leg one.

As a climax to the insults which Mr. Malloy claimed he received some two weeks ago at the hands of the shirt tail brigade, last week advertised his pavilion, cottage, stock-in-trade consisting of use of Northcott's park at 50c. on the dollar, or in the event of not being able to sell he will turn his pavilion into cottages. However, advertising his pavilion, cottage, and stock-in-trade, he is again wearing his usual peaceful and has concluded that shirt tail parades, these warden nights, are something not to be despised, and we will soon expect to see Mr. Malloy rates for these impromptu concerts. We hope that the promoters of this species of entertainment will not forget to extend the usual courtesies to the press, as we feel certain that our presence would add dignity to the surroundings.

Rev. E. Bell, Hamilton, is visiting his brother, Dr. Bell.
Miss M. Pickard of London is visiting Miss Chubb, of King St. East.
The choir and friends of the Port Hope Methodist church picked at Prospect Park on Wednesday.
Mr. and Mrs. True returned from their wedding trip Tuesday afternoon. They are living in the first house east of the American hotel.

On Monday Township Clerk Purves, Columbus, had a narrow escape from a runaway, his horse having taken fright at a street car.

Usually when merchants call on each other to talk of business, but not so with the Oshawa merchants. Their subject of conversation is baseball.

Mr. J. O. Henry's new warehouse at the station is very nearly completed. At present he has several coopers busy manufacturing barrels for their apple trade.

Last Saturday morning Miss S. J. V. Hislop was married, at her mother's residence, to Wm. F. McArdie, of the firm of McArdie & Co's of Cadillac, Mich. They left that morning for New York and sailed this week for a two months trip to England.

The steamer A. J. Tymon has been chartered by the employees of the Oshawa Malware Iron Co. to take them to Niagara on Aug. 13th. The boat is being fitted and will be as speedy, if not far more so, than any of the excursion boats running out here. It will leave at 7 o'clock thus leaving a good only be one dollar.

Monday next is civic holiday and will be the biggest day Prospect Park has ever known. Besides the athletic and musical part of the tournament there will be a balloon ascension by Frank Wiggins, who displays the novelty of a double drop by parachute. His dog being lowered by one and himself by the other.

Mr. Fred Alchin who formerly conducted a flour and feed business in Oshawa has gone into the balloon business. He purchased his outfit in Lansing, Mich., and has engaged to ascend with Prof. Wiggins. At present he is busy booking engagements ahead. His first engagement will be Aug. 10th when the True Blues have secured him as one of their chief attractions.

The Vinicator complains that he steal the outside writers, that is sent in by his some, but we never clip the items that are sent in from one place, as we do not allow our columns to be used for the purpose of writing an autobiography of any person. It may be a great deal of space to publish his personal paragraphs in newspaper columns, and such items would not be read by great many who otherwise would not see them, but still we can not afford to give paragon while they only furnished us with 3 or 4 line items.

The return match with the Parkdale golf club was played at the Oshawa golf green on Saturday last. The players, six in number, arrived on the 2.45 train and were home team suffered defeat, but it was not a defeat to be ashamed of as the visitors were won by 7 holes. The matches were arranged as follows: Captain Provan and Captain Kirk; Towler vs. Dick; Lovelink vs. Bailey; Beck vs. Johnson; Owens vs. Scott; Bab bet vs. McLaughlin. There was a very fair attendance of golf enthusiasts. The visitors were entertained to supper at the Queen's hotel and went home voting the Oshawa golfers "jolly good fellows."

The steamer A. J. Tymon brought down about 250 of the employees and friends of the Morrison brass works, Toronto. The party arrived at the wharf about eleven o'clock and were met by the electric cars and were immediately taken to the park gates. After dinner, a good programme of sports was carried out much to the entertainment of all present. Rain forced the company to appeal to the pavilion for shelter about five o'clock, after which dancing was kept up until the time to go to the boat. Every picnic party that the Oshawa summer season seemed highly pleased with the park and the accommodations that is given them. Mr. Edmondson is spoken of as the most entertaining of all the park owners.

Town Council.
The August meeting of the town council was held on Monday evening. In the absence of Messrs. Coulthard, Hare and Murton, presided. All the matters presented by Messrs. McLaughlin, Provan and Punshon. A. Hinds petitioned for a drain from St. George's rectory to Simcoe street and Mr. D. Deane asked by letter for the same service. Referred to next meeting. The residents of Mary street petitioned against the Oshawa Railway Company being allowed to lay a track on that street. Refer to the committee. The finance committee recommended payment of a number of accounts, and reported that the council had no power to change the magistrates salary. It is $200 and while they have to pay it the Ontario government has the duty of the annual by-law to exempt farm lands from taxes for drainage, sidewalks and street lighting was passed, as well as the poll tax by-law. Mr. Henderson gave notice of a by-law regulating the duty of the gun powder, coal oil, etc. Mr. Deane C. reported that it would cost $300 to lay 1300 feet of drain from King street south to Ceina street the box to be 10x12 inches. The work was ordered done. A drain 275 feet long is wanted on Richmond street. The three residents interested offered to pay $75 of the amount. No action was taken and the council adjourned.

"Notice to the Public."
This world is no longer a suitable abiding place for Charles Mallory, of Oshawa-on-the-lake. As recorded in these columns last week he was entirely overcome by the ever recurring misfortune of that place, have lost all his nerves. It was not at first supposed that the effect would be so violent and lasting, but later developments leave no hope of his restoration to happiness and equilibrium of mind. Little thought the mischievous youth of Oshawa's summer resort that when they held their ghost walk and shirital waltz in Mallory's on that awful Saturday night that they were making for the ruin of Charley. The dance and night shir performance might have ruined him, but when they hoisted their shir-tails over their heads they laid on the last straw, and poor Mallory became a nervous wreck from that moment. Hope was forever gone. Mr. Mallory has published the following "Notice to the Public" in the Oshawa papers:—"I hereby wish to notify the public of Oshawa, particularly the patrons of Oshawa-on-the-lake, that on and after Oct. 1, 1896, all my buildings, and general public-cottage holders, except the general public-cottage holder, except the treatment received by myself and especially my wife, without any reason, from a number of young men, who deliberately broke into my pavilion about one o'clock last Sunday morning and created a most degrading disturbance. My business arrangements with the Oshawa Electric Railway Company for the use of my premises through any act of theirs, I will transfer the lease of all my property at Oshawa-on-the-lake, which include all rights and privileges enjoyed on the Northcott property, boating, bathing, right-of-way through Henry's property to the lake, use of boat, etc., to I will sell the property at 50 cents on the dollar, value left to arbitrators. If not leased or sold by Oct. 1st, I will make the property into private property. The above change will be carried into effect without fail if it is needed. C. A. MALLORY, Oshawa-on-the-Lake, July 30th, 1896.

Base Ball Tournament.
Oshawa has more baseball in it to the square mile than has any town hereabouts, and so long has the disease raged here that it has become chronic. Even the business men have it to a great extent, although of no very special quality. For a few years there has been a rivalry between King and the Simcoe streets as to which could play the better ball (some say the worse), and on Friday last they and about five hundred rooters each went up to Eli's to decide matters. All the Rugby and baseball paddled in town were collected and donated, and when the two teams lined up for play, one would judge from their sunburnt muscles, rounded shoulders and stocky legs that they were mostly professionals from Bowmanville. Simcoe (Teddy) C. Simmonds, a German opened the game auspiciously with a home run, the result of a hit over the left field fence. The Simcoe's made the mistake of supposing that when one has a good record for batting he can play easy, so they never hit any more during the game. That is, they never hit the ball any more—they hit the atmosphere regularly. Nott and Cumming officiated as the King street batters, and Thompson acted as umpire. Simcoe and Thompson, but German soon fell a victim to the royalists, and when they changed places Thompson broke his arm above the elbow when striking out the third man in succession. Then the King street men in their attempt to stop the royalists, they were mad career of batting, but failed. Finally McLean, who had been manufacturing twists and curves in his mind ever since the game was talked of, took the box and circulated leather spheres all about the batters in spiral curves suggestive of an eagle. Had he been called to the central point at the start there is not the slightest doubt that King street's score could have been numbered with goose eggs. Simcoe struck made a baseball score of 11, while the royalists ran a cricket tally stick of 30. That royalist baseball magnate, Bob Kirkpatrick, umpired the game with a startling amount of skill, fairness and satisfaction, calling balls and strikes impartially, and without even taking into consideration whether they were high or low, or over or under the plate. The following is the list of players: Simcoe street: German p., Miller f., Butler r. f., Thompson s. b., McLean 2 b., Chubb 3 b., Thompson (and King street men in their Brooks s. King St.—Adams 2 b., Kinaird 3 b., Nothersill 1 b., Nott p., Cumming c., Weeks f., Morgan c. f., Porter s. s., Ellis (and Luke) r. f. The score by innings was as follows:
King St. 1 3 5 2 0 3 10 5 1—30
Simcoe St. 1 0 0 3 2 2 3 0—11
