Some person or persons are very anxious to burn Mr Story's premises. Some two weeks ago his barn adjoining his house was burned down, and last Saturday evening Mrs. Wm. Beall and daughter, Whithy, about nine o'clock his porch was discovered to be on fire. It was put out before much damage had been done. Whoever the incendiary is he must be very bold to attempt to do such a thing so early in the evening. Some few weeks ago some one set fire to Mr S Glidden's fine brick house, but it was discovered before any damage was done. It is a pity that anyone having so little regard for human life or property should be allowed to run at large.
