Barring baseball and numerous drunks there was nothing doing in town on Monday to celebrate labor day. The Port Hope baseball club came here and won and lost games to the Oshawa seniors by 13-12 and 23-4. The morning game was pretty good, but that in the afternoon was a rotten exhibition of baseball. It may be added that although the Oshawa baseball men have stuck to it all summer they have not succeeded in forming a strong or satisfactory

More light needed.

The officials of the Simcoe st. methodisi church could add much to the convenience of their congregation if they would arrange, on dark Sunday evening's, to have the gas lamps in front of their church lighted. Last Sunday night several persons nearly sustained talls while coming down the steps in front of the church. Strangers who are un acquainted with the church would welcome the lights as nearly every case they miss their footing coming out of the church.

Several mischievous boys and possibly young men have been committing depredations lately on Centre street which if not

Our Italian fellow citizens, not content with monopolizing a good third of the walk in front of their fruit stores with the display of their goods have taken to daily giving exhibitions of their spirit of rivalry. If one dealer thinks the other has had a better day's business than he has enjoyed there is sure to be bad blood over it and possibly a scrap. Mr. and Misses Alfred Gifford and Misses . and R. Gifford, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Gifford, Mrs. D. W. Rogers, Mr. E. E. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Conant visited Newcastle on Friday last to take part in celebrating the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Middleton. About 300 relatives and friends were present. Mr. Moment of Orono addressed the happy old couple on behalf of their many friends, and they were then presented with two great easy chairs, two pairs of gold-rimmed spectacles and a pin for Mrs. Middleton, Mr. Middleton delivered a fine speech in response, his feeling references and stirring reminiscenses drawing tears and laughter alternately from the friends who so numerously surrounded him. The Vindicator gives an account of the affair written in Mr. Conant's best style, but owing to the oversight of that wealthy gentleman in not taking his notebook along he was unable to record that any person was present but himself, or that anybody else gave addresses, although he was certainly not marked by the brilliancy which characterized the others, being largely devoted to a re-Messrs C Russell and A Osborne, of Bow- cital of his personal exploits whilst traveling manville, was the guests of Miss Lena Hobbs eleven times round the world without stopping.
