Miss Carrie Knapp, one of the junior league superintendents, will address the meeting next Saturday afternoon. The meeting will be held in the lecture room of methodist church at 3 p.m. All the boys and girls are cordially invited. As this meeting is specially for the children and will be very interesting, let there be a grand rally on Saturchurch neck Sabbath morning and evening. Offerings for the missionary fund of the church will not be called for, as the anniversary will be held later. But as this is missionary Sunday for the connection, the occasion will be made use of for the purpose of imparting missionary information and presenting missionary claims.

The presbyterian church has been reshingled, with the exception of a portion of the east end which was done a few years ago. and is still in good condition. This is the first of the work of church repair undertaken by "The Daughters of the Church" society. The cost of this job was about $80. next work they have in contemplation is to have the interior of the church re-plastered.

The fair was excellent, but the weather was disagreeable. There is no doubt that had that exhibition been favored with weather like last Monday was, that the directors would have seen very large crowds and placed the society in good standing financially as they well deserve it. Last Monday afternoon the town was aroused by the clang of the fire bell when it was found that the comfortable brick residence of Ms. Geo. Walling in the southwest part of the town was on fire. The engine was taken to the place and with the aid of willing helpers the fire was got under control, but not without doing considerable damage to the building. The contents were

W. M. Willcox's funeral.

All that was mortal of the late Wm Manuel Willcox was laid to rest in the Pine Grove Necropolis last Saturday afternoon. The funeral services were conducted at the house by the Rev. J Fletcher and were listened to by a very large number of our citizens and friends and acquaintances from other towns. The large funeral cortege showed that the deceased and his family were esteemed in town. Having occupied a seat at our town council board for many years, all the business places in the town were closed during the time of the funeral. Being a member of the Sons of England the funeral was in charge of Old England Lodge; the long line of members of that society marshalled by one of their members presented a very creditable appearance as they marched two deep from the late home of deceased to the cemetery, each member wearing a mourning badge and white gloves. At the cemetery gate the casket was removed from the hearse and was carried through the ranks of particular attention to surgical operations the Sons of England, the members having and dentistry.
