United States Elections

Wm. McKinley has been elected president by a tremendous majority. Wm. J. Bryan having carried most of the south and the silver states of the west. Latest returns yesterday gave the results as follows: For McKinley—Connecticut 6, Delaware 3, Iowa 13, Illinois 24, Indiana 15, Kentucky 13, Maine 6, Maryland 8, Massachusetts 13, Michigan 14, Minnesota 9, New Hampshire 4, New Jersey 10, New York 36, Ohio 23, Oregon 4, Pennsylvania 32, Rhode Island 4, South Dakota 4, Vermont 4, W. Virginia 6, Wisconsin 12—Total 277. For Bryan—Alabama 11, Arkansas 8, Colorado 4, Florida 4, Georgia 13, Idaho 3, Kansas 10, Louisiana 8, Mississippi 9, Missouri 17, Montana 3, Nebraska 8, Nevada 3, North Carolina 11, South Carolina 9, Tennessee 12, Texas 15, Utah 3, Virginia 12, Washington 4, Wyoming 3—170. Doubtful—California 9, North Dakota 3.

Early in the campaign it became apparent to Bryan that all the great politicians of the Democratic party had left him, and that he must fight out his campaign alone. His platform had been made by Henry George who argues that to hold a deed of land is a sin in God's sight, by Debs who believes that the employees of a large institution may wreck it whenever they are dissatisfied, by Gov. Altgeld, who pardoned the haymarket murderers of Chicago, by Coxy and Harvey who believe that irredeemable money should be made by the state in unlimited quantities, by Tillman and Waite who claim that government should own railway, telegraph and telephone lines and that the blood of those now owning these lines should be shed by pitchforks. Bryan found himself in a wretched company, but he pitched into it and made the most phenomenal campaign on record. He delivered 600 speeches and traveled nearly 20,000 miles.

The main issue was the money question, but the Republicans also hung their hopes on protection. On the former plank they had the support of a large body of gold Democrats. On the latter they kept their own forces together. Bryan had every single-taxon, anarchist, socialist, federalist, law, and every other dishonest man on his side, a panic being the thing they aim at and thrive upon. No man ever had more enthusiastic followers; but their sympathy lost him all support of the classes who would lose by a general destruction of property rights, and the very fear of Bryan's election caused men of wealth to subscribe enormous sums to bring about his defeat. Only for money and a great campaign of education Bryan would have won.

Associated as he was with all that is evil in United States politics, the people could not wisely place a young man like Bryan at the head of their affairs, but the 5,000,000 votes he got shows how many evil tendencies there are in United States politics, for clever and dishonest men are, his cause in this election stood for every bad and scheme that had fled from the ballot.

The next Congress and Senate will be Republican. That party will now be in a position to enact any class of legislation it chooses. The Republicans appear to have made a sweep of the governorships and state legislatures in most places throughout the union.

Short Notes.

"We may rejoice—with trembling—over McKinley's success," said a prominent Whitby man in the CHRONICLE office yesterday. This about expresses it. No Canadian would object to McKinley's election except that it portends barriers to trade between the two countries. Some American journals have lately been recommending a decent treatment of Canada with a view to inducing her to annex and probably the new president may try treating us for a while with a view to swallowing our country. It has become apparent that the Americans find a market here for twice as much goods as we sell them, and if they again try a McKinley will no doubt two will take a hand in the game.

Whitby Town Locals.

Mr. L. Burnett, M.P., was in town on Monday. W. H. Piper keeps repairs for all kinds of pumps. He has the best windmill for sale. Wells cleaned. Miss Ham entertained a few friends on Monday night. Mrs. Davey, of Chicago, was the guest of the evening. The rush of apples to the Whitby evaporating works during the week has been continuous. Some parties had apples many miles to sell them here. Kelly has an Irish name, but he knows how to sing "The March of the Cameron Men."—Toronto News. Music hall, Monday evening, Nov. 10th. Yesterday and Wednesday were devoted to an incessant downpour of rain, the weather clerk feeling that there was no need to withhold since the United States elections are over. The boys organized a caravan for Mr. N. Colville on his return from his wedding trip on Friday night last. He was accompanied by the football team with their pants and coats being given them some money.

distinctly that our terms of subscription are cash in advance, otherwise fifty cents a year extra will be charged, with interest added if neglected over a year.

Miss Eleanor M. Ladd, essayist and poetess will give a lecture at concert hall, the college, Friday, Nov. 6th, 8 p.m. Miss Ladd's subject is Robert Browning. This lecture has met with wide felt appreciation. One does not need to be a student to appreciate the beauty of Browning scholar to enjoy it, for Miss Ladd presents her thoughts so clearly that one becomes a learner and truth is easy to comprehend. All who love the beautiful, the true, and the good, will find a feast spread before them. Admission 25 cents.

A great many people visited the free reading room at the opening on Saturday night. For a commencement they were well laid with periodicals, though some of them were not current issues. The daily papers will be there from now until spring, and one can spend an hour or two to great advantage each evening pursuing some of the best pictorial and scientific literature. A great many young men and boys were in on Saturday night, and were made welcome, as this is one of the main points of its existence.

On Wednesday night Mr. Major Harper invited a number of his friends in to celebrate his sixty-first birthday, and it also happens that it was the fortieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Harper. Among other things the party indulged in cards and at the close the worthy police magistrate was the worst beaten man in the house, the special nature of the occasion having no weight with his opponents. We tender our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harper upon reaching nearly half a century of happy married life, and trust that the remaining ten years may be given them to enjoy a golden wedding.

The Buffalo Illustrated Express says of Miss Ladd in connection with the Federation of Women's Literary and Educational Organizations of Western New York:—"Miss Eleanor M. Ladd is the first vice president of her well known in Buffalo, who is her home. Her whole life has been spent in literary work. She gives scholarly lectures on English literature and has published several volumes of verse, the latest of which, 'Ocher Bloom,' appeared last spring. At Ontario Ladies' College, Nov. 6. Musical Recital.

Some of the music pupils of the Ontario Ladies' College will give recital next Monday, Nov. 9, at 4 p.m. All are welcome.

Life Size Photos.

Henry & Putney, of Oshawa, made the first and only life sized photographs ever made in this vicinity.

Deaths. Reuben King, Port Perry, aged 84 years; Philander Hurd, Port Perry, aged 86 years; Mrs. L. H. Hurd, Toronto, formerly Miss Oke, of Port Perry, aged 36 years. The Myra Collins Co. This comedy company has been playing to good houses in the musical ill since Monday night and will continue until Saturday night. They have changed the programme daily and have won unlimited applause by their clever, spirited and respectable acting. Myra Collins is the star of the company, but the general opinion here is that its members are of equal merit, or nearly so. They will give a Saturday matinee for the children at 5 cents for school children and 10 cents for adults.

A True Report. In another column we publish a report of an extraordinary cure through the use of the Pink Pills. This is not copy sent to us to publish. We have known Mr. Thompson, whose case is spoken of there, for a quarter of a century and are familiar with his case. We do not know how efficacious Pink Pills may be, but they must have proved a great boon to Mr. Thompson in this case. Few would care to live as we have known him to be troubled for years, and yet no man of his age could expect to feel livelier or heartier than he does now.

Suppressing Information. Within the past month we have been several times asked to suppress information regarding prosecutions in liquor cases. We are very sorry to see people fined, but these cases have nothing about them calling for secrecy. We say in full kindness to everybody that the way to keep names out of the paper is to observe the law. If people will do wrong they should not make themselves believe that we do wrong when we publish actual news. Other papers publish a terrible long story about it if a poor man or friendly boy gets into a scrape, but one may look in vain in their pages to find the victim of a man of position. We treat rich and poor alike, without illfeeling towards either.

An Insect Marvel—the 17 Year Locust. It is certain that had the best known of its various names—the 17 year locust—rather than that which was chosen in the announcement, viz. the Cicada, or Harvest Fly, been coupled with the subject of the Rev. Dr. Hare's lecture in aid of the W. C. T. U. free reading room many more people who are curious about this marvelous insect would have gone to the Methodist Tabernacle school room Friday night to hear the Rev. Dr. Hare's lecture on the life of this strangely interesting story of its life so graphically and with such animation and spirit as only the learned and eloquent principal of the Ontario Ladies' College puts into his studies of natural history. The Rev. Dr. Hare was that the "small boy" who delighted to get on the front seats upon these occasions was not a larger constituency of element of the audience, for he said that he always found it easier to catch and hold the interest of his listeners by the added zest of question and answer between himself and them. There must have been nearly a hundred people present to hear the lecture, for the proceeds netted upwards of $9 to date, for admission. The historic bug, the Cicada, has some funny relations as disclosed in the Dr's humorous account of who were its cousins and aunts. Thousands of years ago this insect was the subject of Greek fable for one of the classic writers amongst those cultured Hellenic people of long ago worked out a joke on that time-worn topic—a woman's tongue and her aptitude in its use—as we tell them, and if they again try a McKinley will no doubt two will take a hand in the game.

been laid. There were many other quite as interesting things told about the Cicada by Dr. Hare as well as the showing of specimens of the insect in various stages of development and also fine samples of its carpentering. Then, too, the pictures and blackboard work to illustrate the lecture. A vote of thanks, moved by Dr. McGillivray, seconded by F. Howard Annes, was most heartily adopted and presented to the lecturer—Dr. Hare—in reply to the speakers' remarks expressed in wish accompanying the further lectures upon natural history subjects of which Dr. Hare is so accomplished and pleasing an interpreter might be given during the coming winter season.

The Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada. This strong and reliable company is now represented in this country by Rev. J. S. Clarke of our town. No other company in Canada is doing so large a business, or paying as great profits to its policy holders. As high as five per cent. per annum has been paid in premiums at the last division of profits. The sun not only pays what it promises, but in a number of instances much more than it has promised at the time of making the contract. Mr. Clarke will be greatly pleased to explain the plans and advantages of the company to all persons who may have the most remote idea of taking out assurance. Call on him at his residence and you will be satisfied.

A VICTIM OF ASTHMA. HAD NOT SLEPT IN BED FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.

SEEMED DOOMED TO TORTURE AND CONTINUAL MISERY—FATHER, GRANDFATHER AND GREAT GRANDFATHER HAD DIED FROM THE TROUBLE—RELEASE COMES IN OLD AGE—THE CURE LOOKED UPON AS A MIRACLE.

For years stories of famous cures wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have appeared in the CHRONICLE. During this time we have been casting about for a local case of such a nature as to leave no doubt of the efficacy of these Pills. We have found several, but in each case it proved to be a sensitive body who could not bear to have his or her name and disease made public. Recently, however, a most striking case came to our ears. Mr. Solomon Thompson lives on a beautiful farm on the west shore of Mud Lake in Carden township, North Victoria. He has resided there for forty years, being the first settler around the lake. He was thirty-five years old, before the counties of Peterboro and Victoria were separated, and he used to attend the county council at Peterboro. He is a brother of Mrs. Donald Campbell of this town. Mr. Thompson has been a victim of asthma for forty years or more. However we will let him tell his own story about it.

On October 15th, '96, we took a trip to Mud Lake to visit the haunts long familiar to us, and made it a duty and found it a pleasure to call upon Mr. Thompson and learn from him how he had been cured. For twenty-five years we had known him as a gasping, suffering asthmatic, the worst we ever knew who managed to live at all. We often wondered how he lived from day to day. On calling he met us with a cheerful aspect and without displaying a trace of his trouble. Being at once ushered into his house, we naturally made it our first business to enquire if it were all true about the benefits he had received from using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. "Beyond doubt," said he, "how long have you used them, and how many boxes have you used?" He was asked, "I started a year ago, and took eight boxes." "We next asked him if he felt that the cure was permanent." "Well," said he, "I have not taken any of the pills for three or four months. Still I am not entirely satisfied yet. You see my father, grandfather and great grandfather died of asthma. My people take it sooner or later, so it always ends their days. I have lost three brothers from the fatal thing. Knowing my family history it is hard for me to gain faith, but I can tell you for nearly thirty years I never slept in bed until I took Pink Pills. As you must have known, I always slept sitting in the chair, or on a chair, I had a sling from that hook in the ceiling, and always sat with my head resting in it while I slept. I now retire to my bed when the other members of my family do."

"Seventy-six," he answered, "and I feel younger than I did thirty years ago. It troubled a great deal with rheumatism and other miseries, probably nervous troubles arising from want of sleep, but nearly all the rheumatism is gone with the asthma." During the conversation Mrs. Thompson, a sister of Dr. Hare's, mother of thirteen children, came in to hear the doctor's husband's recital of these matters, she too took up the theme. "I never expected that anything could cure Solomon," she said. "We were always trying to find something which would relieve me, so that he would be able to sleep night, and I had a great deal to make such difference. At last I took one of the pills after each meal, but after a time he increased the dose to two. We noticed he was greatly improved after taking two boxes, and began to have hopes. Later on, when he saw beyond doubt that he was much better, I recommended that he take a piece of mine, Miss Day, whose blood had apparently turned into water, and who had run down in health and spirits so that she did not care to live. Why, she had become as yellow as saffron, and looked hardly she would not live a week, but as hard as she believed it, but that girl was the healthiest and handsomest girl in the neighborhood before three months had passed, and all from taking Pink Pills."

Mrs. Thompson was called from the room at this juncture, to attend to some household duties, and Mr. Thompson resumed the subject of his marvelous cure. "I had a 'big idea,'" said he, "what it is to go through twenty-five years and never have a good night's sleep without pain. I can find no words to make plain to you the contrast between the efforts I now enjoy, and the awful life I had for so long." "I had a 'big family of mouths to feed and had to work when at times I felt more like laying down to die. I would come in at night completely tucked out, but even that was no guarantee of rest. There was a rest for me, I seemed doomed to torture and continual misery. When my folks urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I thought it would be useless, but I had to do something or die, and here I am as right as a fiddle." "The old remedy," said he, "gave me an emphasis to his last sentence, and looked like a man who felt joyful over the release of life, with all his old miseries removed.

After congratulating our old friend on his divorce from the hereditary destroyer of his kindred, we drove away. At many places in the neighborhood we opened discussions upon the case and found that all regarded it as a marvelous cure. Where the Thompson family are known, no person would have believed for a moment that anything but death would relieve him from the grip of asthma. Every word that he writes here can be verified by writing Mr. Solomon Thompson, Dalrymple post office, and an intimate acquaintance of twenty-five years enables the writer to vouch for the facts narrated above, and for the veracity of Mr. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by reference to the root of the disease. They renew and build up the blood, and strengthen the
