Dr. McCurdy, the distinguished Assyriologist, "Arabia in the Old Testament". India needs our help; the famine is upon her, and according to the estimate of the highest authorities, the lives of six millions of people are in danger-a British population greater than that of all Canada. Both the Imperial and Indian governments are moving in the work of relief; but this is a case that cannot be left to governments alone. It appeals to humanity generally. The people of Britain have taken up the work of relief, and their example is being followed in other lands. Even the Russians are sending money and food to India. Canadians cannot turn a deaf ear to the cry of their fellow British subjects in the far east, and the means of sending effectual assistance has now been provided. A relie fund—the first to be started in Canada—has been opened by the Montreal Star newspaper, and its publishes has headed the sub-scription list with a donation of five hundred dollars. Premier Laurier has written the Star a letter, in which he expresses hearty approval of the relief movement, and he contributes a handsome cheque to the fund.
