ACCOUNTS

The CHRONICLE starts the year with goodly increase in its lists, and so far our renewals have been satisfactory. This week we send out renewal notices to as many as we could manage, and hope for a prompt return. It costs money to write out all these accounts, and we wish all to understand that Glover, E Whitby; Geo Rice, Whitby; Wm our object is to secure immediate and full remittances. Each person concerned will Graham, Pickering; W R Warren, Mara; Joo pleased note this, as we do not do business Bartlett, E Whitby; C Ross, Scott; Thos Newfor our health.

Last Saturday night, while Bailiff Gundry, was taking a prisoner named Farrell from Goderich to Kingston penitentiary for three years for raising notes, Farrell leaped from the midnight express one mile west of Brighton. The express was running at the speed of 40 miles an hour One of the guards leaped after the prisoner, but in the darkness he could not find him. The train backed up and they found Farrell's coat and vest. He was shackled when he jumped. The guard was pretty badly bruised. The country round was thoroughly searched, but Farrell has not been recaptured.
