performance undoubtedly showed that she has reached the front rank amongst Canadian pianists, a position she can no doubt attain wherever she appears. Mr Bruce Bradley was very successful in the numbers given by him. He is the ablest exponent of the methods used by his mother, one of the leading Toronto vocal teachers, and his fine voice and cultured style gave great satisfaction to the audience. Mr Bradley's first number "My Heart Adores Thee," Keigh lev, was well adapted to display the range and quality of his fine tenor voice, the easy production of the upper notes giving evidence of the admirable methods of study adopted. Mr Bradley responded to encores for both this and his second number, "If with all your hearts," which roused his audience to great enthusiasm. The students of the college and those residents of Whitby who were fortunate enough to be present are hearing a high class recital, one which was
