Mr. Van Ham and wife, of Chatham, were in town on Thursday as the guests of their aunt, Miss Ham. They are returning home after going through New York State on a bicycle tour. They expressed themselves as much pleased with the trip.

Mr. James Campbell's many friends were pleased to see him here on Saturday last. He has become accustomed to the ways of Chicago, and has been working hard getting his sons established in business. He joined in the jubilee with good heart.

The South Ontario Farmers' Institute has made arrangements for a grand excursion to the model farm, Guelph, on July 6th. A special train has been engaged to start at Manilla Junction at 6:15 a. m. Madame La Sage Whitby is at present enjoying a short visit from Madame La Sage, phrenologist and palmist. This well known lady is a recognized authority in these two branches of occult science. She has made them her constant study for fifteen years, and the great success which has attended her work is attested to by the number of testimonials which she holds from prominent bankers, teachers, merchants, lawyers and others in various parts of Canada and the United States. Many of these admit they own their success in life to her advice. Madame La Sage will be in Whitby for a few days only, and may be consulted at 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. After leaving Whitby Madame La Sage will visit Oshawa for a fortnight, and then go to Port Perry.

Rev. Thos Manning's Farewell.

There was a large congregation at the Methodist tabernacle on Sunday night to listen to the parting words of Rev. T. Manning. He took his text from I Timothy 1:15. To preach Christ, he said, is to have a theme which will do people good. He is worthy of acceptance as the saviour of all mankind. When the gospel was first preached most men thought it ridiculous. A few believed in it, and went and preached it earnestly to the world, until to-day none can have all who will cry it down. It is the most permanent force ever given to mankind. Preaching is what has given Christ his grand position in the world. Indels admit that Jesus Christ was undoubtedly the best of mankind. If He were nothing more than this He would be the greatest impostor the world has ever seen. Christ is the saviour of the world. Preaching has satisfied the world to save sinners. His mission makes a fine theme for preaching. Every person requires salvation, and there is salvation for all. If men could purchase it, there is not a man in the world who would not give all that he has living persons to buy it. Yet all may have it free. We must have it. We have no other hope but in Christ. It is of the greatest advantage to all people to place themselves right in this world to save sinners. Christ came into the world, and Jesus came to save them, yet they are not saved. He exhorted his hearers to accept this salvation, and not delay it whilst pastor after pastor comes and goes from this church.

Jubilee Notes.
A successful Jubilee.
God Save our Queen.
Didn't Whitby look ray?
The town looked beautiful.
Everybody took a hand in.
Now for Oshawa July 1st. Let it be another county celebration.
The measure of loyalty is full when the rule of the sovereign is good.
No person living ever saw a diamond jubilee before, or ever will again.
The gallant volunteers did their part well under Major Farwell's command.
The decorations in the Methodist church were the finest we ever saw.
The Citizens' band surprised their friends by their strong turnout and very fair music.
The Boys' Brigades from the bay and from Oshawa deserve credit for their marching and drill.
The celebration was a costly one, but with the small gate money charged proved a financial success.
Conductor McMillan had his train decorated from the cow catcher to the last wheel on the great coach.
In all the jubilee celebrations throughout the world scarcely an accident happened, and not a life was lost.
There were very few cases of whiskey jubilation. Men did not disgrace Her Majesty by getting drunk.
The Daughters of England made a special turnout, hiring a lot of fine rigs to carry them in the procession.
Many passed highly complimentary remarks upon the splendid appearance and fine marching of the firemen.
The work of decorating the Queen's carriage here, as well as the arrangements for her comfort at the Park was elegantly accomplished.
The jubilee crowd in London, England, was the largest number of people ever known to congregate in one place during the history of the world.
Hon. Wilfrid Laurier becomes Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the Lieut.-Gov. of Ontario becomes Sir Geo. A. Kirkpatrick. Many other eminent Canadians were so honored.
To the surprise of all only one rural public school completed for the $50 for the best turnout, the Town Lines. Their exhibit was grand, and they received their $10, the other $10 being saved.
The County Council granted $50 to assist in defraying the expense of military parade. The members of the council joined in the procession, and took a hand in the celebration wherever they could find anything to do.
It was the bloodless triumph of modern civilization that we celebrated, and the nation or people who looked sullenly upon the proceedings is to be pitted, is a back number in the history of advancement of the age.
The New York Sun sets itself up as the great intellectual guide of the continent, yet it was at a loss to find epithets and to concoct yarns sufficiently abominable to express its hatred of the Queen and the British Empire. When the Sun fails in ability to furnish its detestation of Britain, hell itself could furnish no assistance.
Mr. James Hubbard, Brougham, was in town over Sunday. He is 85 years old, was born near Brougham, and as may be seen had live a quarter of a century when Her Majesty ascended the throne of Great Britain and Ireland. Mr. Hubbard very well remembers the rebellion of 1837, and was hard pressed to take a hand in but declined. He carried mails through these parts commencing in 1838.
We are not able to give individual credit to all who decorated their residences, or places of business, but it would be unjust to overlook the grand illumination of the Queen's house and beautiful grounds. The effort was magnificent. The court house and grounds was also well done. Among the business places Gros & Granger, and S. S. The Royal Hotel was trimmed up in a manner which won everybody's praise. We only wish we could accord special mention to all who deserve it.
Mr. Warden Chas. King made a worthy suggestion in his opening address before the grand stand. He said he hoped that out of this day would grow a strong sentiment in favor of marking the occasion by the inauguration of a home for our worthy poor. He hoped that the matter would be taken up by those in the jubilee, and that petitions would be signed almost unanimously from the shores of Simcoe and the Severn to Lake Ontario, asking the county council to take the work at once, in order that the corner stone may be laid before the Jubilee year closes.
Oshawa did nobly, turning out as many people as could find conveyances to bring them here, whilst hundreds could not come because they had no rigs. We trust that the people of Whitby may return this compliment by joining in great numbers and with good heart in the Oshawa celebration on all the July 1st. Instead of quarrelling adjacent while, towns like these so closely adjacent, should be mutually helpful in everything, even in honest rivalry. The good feeling which prevails between Whitby and Oshawa is the outgrowth of years of pleasant intercourse between the public men of the two towns, and, if we may be allowed to add, of reasonable conduct on the part of the local newspapers of the two towns. We hope this friendly feeling may not merely continue, but may grow great between communities, in a business as a social way.

For Our Swelled Head.

Feeling that our illustrious past would be swelled to abnormal size as a result of our participation in the jubilee celebration here, some friend has since sent us a circular for the Keely Gold Cure Institute, Toronto, which inebriates are supposed to have all the desire for alcohol apparatus needs the systems. Our gastric apparatus needs the gold cure the worst way. But it strikes us that if the Keely people would send us the gold cure, we can compound a beverage accordingly to our needs. We are in authority on this subject. If the gold business requires that one go to Toronto to have the trick performed, we shall subject ourselves to the ordeal right away. In the meantime we return heartfelt thanks to the kind but we return heartfelt thanks to the latter day circulars of this boon to those who have drunk. The circular contains many testimonials from men who had been sunk by the retrenchments to the level of the beast and lower and who have been restored to all the beauties of pristine youth and glory by a few weeks of gold cure. We feel that a prospect ahead of us is irrefragable, and our friends will have to excuse us for a few weeks whilst we go and partake of this new Ellixir of Life.

Mr. Wm. Saunders, of New York, is in town on a vacation of three weeks.

Dr. Wm. McGillivray, Pipes me City, Minnesota, is home this week visiting his relatives. He looks well, feels well, and is doing well in the west.

Mr. James Hunsay, Finlay, son-in-law of Mrs. G. C. Groom, and brother-in-law of Judge Dartnell, died on Tuesday at Guelph and was buried there yesterday.

The Sunday School of the Methodist Tabernacle will hold their annual picnic at Grimsby park on Monday July 13th, leaving Whitby, per str. Garden City, at 8:45 a. m.

The Whitby Highland Club will run an excursion to Niagara Falls by the palace steamer "Garden City" on Wednesday, July 14th. Highland music and other amusements on board. Watch for posters for particulars.

Mr. N. H. McGillivray made an unique bicycle record here yesterday. He rode from Miss Logan's corner to the electric light plant, without putting a hand on the handles of the bicycle. He did the steering by movements of his body.

Mr. E. Stephenson has ticketed this week the following: Mr. J. Hobson, London Eng., and Londonderry, Ireland; W. H. Bess, Montreal, Miss Montgomery, to Canton, Ohio, Judge Dartnell to Guelph, Miss Thompson to Napanee, Miss McKee to Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Greenwood to Mitchell, Dr. Carson to Trenton and Pictou, and 75 O. L. C. pupils and teachers last week to their different homes throughout Canada and elsewhere.

Oh for home seekers excursions June 29th July 6th and 13th good for 60 days to return. Whitby, Pickering, Brookville, Myrtle, Toronto to Manitoba points and return $28 apply to E. Stephenson (opposite Hatch Bros) Whitby for through Tickets and all information. Also single fare return tickets for Dominion Day holidays at Stephenson's.

About 1000 people went to Whitby wharf on Saturday at 3 o'clock to witness the arrival of the Garden City with the gallant boys of the 34th. It was a fine sight to see the steamer coming in bearing its lines of red coats, and the disembarkation of the men and their equipment was an interesting spectacle. The faces of the volunteers were browned, and most of them had scaly noses where the skin had been completely burnt off. The removal of the horses and boxes was only the work of a minute or two. Capt. Wm Smith had a damaged eye, the result of a bayonet accident. It was a miraculous thing that the eye was not destroyed.

One of the best known residents of the base line, Pickering, Miss Maria Vail, passed away on Friday last. Miss Vail had been ailing for a number of years from an inward trouble, which could probably have been remedied had an operation been performed, which might have caused death. Rather than assume the risk her friends, as well as herself, would not let the operation proceed. The deceased always displayed a true and her demise will be mourned by many an admiring friend. The funeral took place to the Friends burying ground on Sunday, followed by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives. Miss Vail was a daughter of the late Eleanor Vail.

A Home for the County Poor.

The suggestion of Warden King at Whitby Tuesday that the county erect a house for the county poor was being the hour and the moment. The grand jury, who recommended it, the judges have endorsed it, and our better natures want to see the scheme carried out. The only fault that we have to find with the Warden's suggestion is that he asked the people to petition the council. The council has a knowledge that the institution is a necessity, and that the absence of it is a blot upon our civilization, and the profession of it is a hollow mockery unless our acts support our words. If the county council feel that a county house is needed, but refuse to act, unless enforced by the people, it is the fear of consequences that keeps them from action. A bold stand for what is right and just would carry more weight with the people who might find fault with the petition from these favorable to the scheme. We shall be pleased to see the council commemorate the year in so good a way as taking the initiatory steps towards founding a home. They will find the people behind them, and if they do nothing worse will have no cause to fear a reckoning with the electors. It is the Queen's wish that the poor be remembered.—Vindictor.

Mr. Manning's Departure

The general feeling is one of extreme regret that Rev. T. Manning's departure from the Methodist tabernacle to Lindsay. The itinerant system of the Methodist church may be good, but it is liable to make too sudden changes, and this is an instance of it. Mr. Manning is a man of great ability, a sound and deep thinker, and a forcible speaker. He is a true preacher of the word, not ministering to the idols of the world, but to the discipline necessary for his views into effect. As well as being congregational, there is a personality about his preaching which enables him in a social way to keep in touch with each member of his congregation. Personally, we shall miss Mr. Manning, whose frequent friendly calls at our sanctum have caused many a moment of well spent. We bespeak for Mr. Manning in some music and prayer, and J. S. Barnard made a very feeling address expressive of the sentiments of the hearts of those present. Mr. Manning and family took the train for Lindsay yesterday.

Drops to Smith.

This interesting case is putting up a nice bill of cost in appeals, counter appeals, motions, and counter motions. It will be remembered that Mr. Dryden's appeal to have certain parts of the defendant's defence struck out, but the referee dismissed the appeal. An appeal from this decision was taken before Judge Mease who has ordered the defence under separate heads and make such other amendments as may be necessary for that purpose or otherwise. Whatever may be the result of the part we have placed in quotations marks is not so certain but perhaps another motion or two before the judge may make it clear. The defendant Mr. Smith also appealed against a decision of Referee Cartwright who ruled against a subpoena to Mr. Dryden to produce his letter book and letters containing correspondence relating to the appointment of registrar for this county. The referee permitted by this defendant could not be permitted by this referee means to obtain in effect a cross-examination of plaintiff's affidavit, which itself is not permitted by the learned judge is inclined to agree with the referee upon his point, but affirms the order mainly upon the ground, viz., that while the appointment issued was for the examination of plaintiff at Toronto, his residence is in the county of Ontario, and he should be examined in Toronto. The plaintiff is the Commissioner of Ontario, and while he and his family reside at Brooklin, county of Ontario, and that is the place of residence, he is in the greater part of every week at Toronto in the public duties. Held, that in a case of this kind, where the plaintiff is in a position that he may for some purposes be deemed to have a residence within the jurisdiction, and in the writ of summons he designates one of these places as the place of residence, that place should be considered as the place of residence for the purpose of the writ of summons for the plaintiff in any event.
