

The Same... Old Sarsaparilla.

That's Ayer's. The same old sarsaparilla as it was made and sold by Dr. J. C. Ayer 50 years ago. In the laboratory it is different. These modern appliances lend speed to skill and experience. But the sarsaparilla is the same old sarsaparilla that made the record—50 years of cures. Why don't we better it? Well, we're much in the condition of the Bishop and the raspberry: "Doubtless," he said, "God might have made a better berry. But doubtless, also, He never did." Why don't we better the sarsaparilla? We can't. We are using the same old plant that cured the Indians and the Spaniards. It has not been bettered. And since we make sarsaparilla compound out of sarsaparilla plant, we see no way of improvement. Of course, if we were making some secret chemical compound we might... But we're not. We're making the same old sarsaparilla to cure the same old diseases. You can tell it's the same old sarsaparilla because it works the same old cures. It's the sovereign blood purifier, and—it's Ayer's.

CORRESPONDENCE

PICKERING

While riding a bicycle in Buffalo a few days ago Miss May Gordon fell and in doing so broke her leg by colliding with the curb stone. Both bones were broken and she will be confined to her room for some time.

Mrs. Dean, of York, England, is visiting with her cousin, Mrs. W. J. Dale, and last week attended the Friends' yearly meeting. Before returning home she will visit Niagara Falls and other Canadian points of interest.

Philip Kehoe, who served his apprenticeship at blacksmithing with Richard Moore, met with an accident in a saw mill at Rat Portage the other day, and in consequence lost his left arm just below the elbow. His many friends here will deeply regret his misfortune.

For the next few weeks the city papers will speak in the most affectionate terms imaginable of the country cousins. This epidemic seems to pervade the metropolitan sanctuaries for a few weeks annually and does not show much signs of abating until after the exhibition, when the most back and hayseed phrases take the prominent shelves.

In this age of hurry and bustle we are apt to forget the resting places of our venerable and beloved dead. A visit to our various cemeteries will at once convince the most skeptical of this point. While the struggle for bread may prevent many from devoting the time that would be required, during the working hours, the evenings are long, and a few hours' labor spent would reclaim the forgotten plots. We would desire to direct special attention to the public yard adjoining the Friends' cemetery. Let us in a proper and substantial way perpetuate the memories of those of our friends who have gone before.

Mark Horn, who has been employed with W. E. Vanstone as butcher for the past year left last week for his home in Bowmanville. A. Sturgess, of Whitby, has arrived and will fill the vacancy caused by Mark's removal.

While attending to his horses the other day John Greenlaw met with an accident of a painful nature. One of the animals stepped upon the man's foot and since that time his left pedal extremity has been a source of much annoyance and considerable inconvenience to him.

W. E. Anderson, formerly of the Pickering Pharmacy, but lately of Toronto, has been appointed manager of the Petrie drug store at Guelph for the summer months. As this is one of the most extensive stores in Western Ontario we must congratulate friend Anderson on his success.

W. H. Gee and wife, of Calgary, Alberta, are here with his parents for the vacation. We regret to say that he has been ill for some weeks and his medical care for type is very good. But while regretting this, his presence here in an improved condition is a source of much gratification to his numerous friends.

Mrs. Vanstone, who has been in Toronto for a fortnight, was taken ill the other day and had to be taken to the hospital for treatment. Her little girl, who has been in the hospital for some time, is not improving much in health. The speedy recovery of both is anxiously wished for.

Two weeks ago Miss Sarah Peak fell down stairs at John Greenlaw's residence while carrying a crock of cream from the milk cellar, but beside a scalp wound which was promptly dressed by a physician, nothing was thought of the accident. During the past week Miss Peak complained of other illness, and a doctor was called in when her condition was found to be indeed critical. All efforts possible were put forth, but she succumbed on Wednesday evening. Deceased was in her forty-ninth year and resided on the farm now owned by her brother-in-law, John Greenlaw, all her life, it being her birthplace. The funeral took place last Friday at 10 a.m., when the remains were interred in the family cemetery on the farm.—News.

Mr. G. R. Blunt, Methodist minister, Dresden, Ont., says: "After a protracted illness of a very nervous and weak, and troubled with severe pain. I took one box of Miller's Compound Iron Pills and am perfectly well now."

What Whiskey Did For Me.

BY EDWARD CARSWELL, OSHAWA.

Kind friends, I'm glad to meet you here. I stand before you all, A soldier who has served his time With old King Alcohol. I've stood by him through thick and thin, Until they called me sot, And when for him I sold my coat This was the coat I got.

I fought for him, I bled for him. As through the street I'd rave, And when through him I lost my hat This is the hat he gave. My boots were of the neatest fit, As fine as boots could be; For him I gave away my boots, And then he booted me.

My eyes were of the deepest blue. Nor lustre did they lack; But now you see they both are red, And one is also black. My nose was never beautiful, But still was not amiss; Old Alcohol, he touched it up, And what d'ye think of this?

He promised I should courage have For all the ills of life; The bravest thing he made me do Was beat my little wife. He promised he would give me wit, And I should ne'er be sad, Instead of which he took away The little sense I had.

The health and wealth he promised me He never, never gave; But when he'd taken all I had, I found myself a slave. So now I'll fight for him no more, For woe is all his pay; He's cheated me and led me to— I'll join the "Corps" to-day!

ZEPHYR

Mr. A. J. Christie has removed to Port Hope.

Mrs. Keller and family are visiting relatives in Sharon.

Messrs. Hamilton and Tunstead, of Uxbridge, were in the village on Sunday.

Miss Bertie Manning, of Toronto, is visiting at the home of Mr. Wm. Knight.

Mr. Jas. Rae, of Port Perry high school is spending his vacation with his parents here.

Rev. W. H. Webster, junior minister on the circuit for the past year, was presented on the evening of his departure with a purse of $15 accompanied with an address signed on behalf of the church and epworth league, thanking him for his earnestness and zeal in the work while here and wishing him every success for the future, individually, and in the advancement of the cause of Christ. Mr. Webster left for Queensville, where he is stationed for the next year.

The widow appeals to the sympathy of even the most callous-hearted. Here is a woman still in the springtime of life, deprived of the stay and support upon which she had every right to depend, and her future overshadowed by the loss of the one man in all the world upon whom she had centered her love and affection. A man has no right to sacrifice his life in the mad race for money, by neglecting his bodily health. A man owes it to himself and to his wife and children to live a long and helpful life. If a man would live he must keep his health. Health is a matter of little patch here and there. Look after the little ailments and the big ailments will take care of themselves. They will never come. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery keeps the body in perfect health. It promptly eradicates the little ailments that bring serious illness. If the serious malady has already arrived it promptly cures it by removing the cause. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver and makes the appetite keen and hearty. It makes the assimilation of food perfect and supplies the blood with the life-giving elements that build new and healthy tissue and firm muscles. It tones and builds up the nervous system, cures all diseases that derive from every organ of the body. It cures all diseases due to overwork and worry and faulty nutrition. It is an unfailing remedy for weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, cough, bronchitis, asthma and kindred affections. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption.

Mr. Isaac R. Downes, of Spring Valley, Rockland Co., N. Y., writes: "For three years I had suffered from that terrible disease, consumption, and heart-disease. Before taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I had wasted away to a skeleton; could not sleep nor rest, and many times wished to die to get out of my misery. I took the signs and realities of my health slowly but surely developed themselves while taking the 'Discovery.' Today I tip the scales at 150 lbs. well and strong. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' has also cured my daughter of a very bad ulcer located on the thigh."

Greenbank

(Crowded out last week)

Many of the farmers have started haying.

Mr. Fred Love raised his new barn on Wednesday of last week.

We are to have a change in the harness business of our village; Mr. Jas. Ashton is moving to Myrtle and Mr. Wm. Cragg, who is an old Greenbank boy, but lately a resident of Joliet, Illinois, is to take possession. We are sorry to miss the genial face of Mr. Ashton and welcome Mr. Cragg back to his old home.

Greenbank as usual all alive on Dominion day and how better can any show their loyalty or patriotism than by their interest in the rising generation. The Methodist Sunday school were exceeding fortunate in securing Rev. A. C. Crews for the key note on Sabbath preceding in his most interesting and masterly style to the anniversary of 97. Rev. J. M. Cameron, and J. Edmunds, a former pastor, contributed greatly to the interest of the mass meeting on Saturday afternoon. A beautiful sight to see all the children of the two churches and neighborhood together as if taught, "One is your Teacher," "I am the good Shepherd," "Food My Lamb." A kind Providence gave perfect weather for Saturday and Thursday. The various committees gave their departments success by care and attention. The children were well trained and gave pleasure to all. The tea was one of the best. The concert by Sunderland choir was par excellence. The recitations by Mrs. W. R. and Clara Broad were well chosen and given, and the order was praiseworthy considering the crowded state of the church and all were pleased to have a large place for these gatherings. After the social which was well attended the proceeds netted $112.

Dr. J. D. Kellough's Dysentery Cordial is prepared from drugs known to the profession as thoroughly reliable for the cure of cholera, dysentery, diarrhoea, griping pains and summer complaints. It has been used successfully by medical practitioners for a number of years with gratifying results. It suffers from no summer decay, and it is just the medicine that will cure you. Try a bottle. It sells for 50c.

At Bryson Judge Gill sentenced Louis Nes to imprisonment for life for shooting with the intention to kill Joe Girvin.

They Don't Throw Mud.

An important feature of the Electric Tire that is not generally recognized, is the fact that the construction of the herring bone tread is of such a pattern that the usual suction found in other tires is broken and it is impossible to throw mud. When the rider of the Electric Tires strikes a wet, slippery road or pavement, he does not suffer mental torments, but watches the other fellow get the streak of mud up his back as he slips and slides along. The Electric Tire is a boon to cycling humanity, for it renders it possible for the righteous as well as the wicked to ride in slippery places. Go thou and do likewise.

SAINTFIELD

Haying and turnip hoeing is the order of the day.

M. Harman is kept busy extracting honey these days.

Messrs. B. Brown and J. Whitford have become members of the Methodist choir. Quite a number from here attended the celebration of the battle of the Boyne in Uxbridge on the 12th and report having a good time.

Quite a number from here attended the bee, erecting the new church sheds at Wick.

W. E. Moore and sister Annie left last Tuesday to spend a few weeks visiting friends at Teeswater.

S. Baird general merchant of this place has erected a new shed for the accommodation of his many customers.

Levi Horne had a bee last Saturday drawing stons to Blackwater. His intentions are to erect a new store there.

What might have been a fatal accident took place on Saturday last. Wm. McMillan was in the act of reloading when the hammer suddenly stepped ahead throwing Mr. McMillan on his shoulder and he occupied with a few slight bruises. We wish to see him around again in a few days.

The Bulbul of Pohick.

She Writes Scotch Dialect Poetry and Keeps Up With the Progression. "It is without fear," writes the Bulbul of Pohick, "that I take my pen in hand to write a Scotch dialect piece. The great demand at the present time is for things that is up to date, and if me and the nine muses has not managed to hit the pace this time I am much mistaken. It is an evident fact that anybody who wants to get along in the poetry business now has got to hustle and keep up with the progression. He must consult the popular taste and not let his fancy wander at his own sweet will, as the old time writers were enabled to do, owing to their taking up the business before the field got overworked. My latest composition is entitled:

THERE ARE OTHER SCOTCH DIALECT WRITERS. Gentle reader, I have heard it insinuated of late there is too much poetry wrote which is not up to date. Everybody must admit that the public does not enjoy finding beautiful thoughts put into language which is accustomed to employ. And although I never heard it talked in our neighborhood, I expect that there really are a number of people who speak the Scotch dialect. That how they learn it is not comes handy and natural I do not know. But the fact that I am not familiar with it should not prevent my writing it now and a wee bit.

For I have ever held that any first class poet or poetess, as the case may be, can stay about any and every thing. My politics is to protect home manufacture, and I do not see why Americans should not make just as good Scotch dialect as anybody could. Of course some critics may sneer at these lines of mine. But critics have done thus since the days of long ago.

My own heart tells me I have wrote some rather bonnie poetry before now. And I don't care much for other people's opinion, anyhow. Indeed I once heard a man who got paid for writing declare that on the whole tribe of critics he was writing declare.

And once he said to a critic's face, and it raised a great storm. "Ah, well, I dinna ken, you're nat see warn." But in speaking of these highlanders I must confess that I do not exactly approve of the way they dress. Their clothes stop short right at the knees, and when the cold winds blow I should think I may be prejudiced, but if I knew a Scotch gentleman I should think more of him if he wore a tree, or on his limb.

To Prevent Hog Cholera.

A Wisconsin stock grower, writing to the Iowa Homestead, says:

We believe, if you could educate the breeders and feeders how to feed and take care of their hogs, there would be very little hog cholera in the country. We believe hog cholera can be prevented. We have raised hogs for 35 years and have had cholera but once during that time. There is too much corn fed to pigs. A variety of feed should be fed. Young pigs should get very little corn until they are 6 months old. If they are fed for health and growth the first six months of their lives with proper care, the chances are they never will have cholera. Afterward they should have the run of a good grass pasture and all the salt and ashes they will eat, plenty of mill feed, good water, and above all a good place to sleep. Their pens should be cleaned out every day, and their bedding renewed a week. If farmers would grow more root crops and less corn and feed their hogs a good supply during the winter, there would be less cholera in the country.

Rev. Leggot and family are with Perry friends.

Miss Ella Ramhor is here with people for a short stay.

Miss N. McLaren is the guest of friend, Miss Jennie Mitchell.

Miss Chapman, of Toronto, is with Gibbons and family for a visit.

Miss Downe has returned from month's visit with city friends.

Miss Nettie Gibbons and Miss Walf of Toronto, are here with friends.

Mr. Milne, V.S., of Toronto, was here with his mother and sisters over the Bay.

Arnott Leslie and Archie Kerr, of Port Hope, were here on Sunday with D. K. and wife.

Geo. Gerow, Esq., has been confined to the house for a week but is now better. A heavy cold was the trouble.

Peter Leaper, of Toronto, is home with his parents just now. He has some notion of visiting the old country this summer.

John Whitson raised a commod barn on Tuesday afternoon, when the assistance of the neighbours came in handy.

Mr. and Mrs. Brodie of Markham, here this week with their son, Dr. C. and Veterinary Charles. The old couple are in good health.

A H. McKay and bride have returned and are now nicely settled in their little home opposite the market. They wish their long life and much happiness.

Mrs. Harry Thompson returned from Detroit on Monday where she had with her daughter Sophia, who has been ill for some weeks, but is now much better.

The congregation of Erskine church held a meeting on Monday evening, after considerable discussion, it was voted not to extend a call to any minister for some weeks yet.

The band boys were at Brong Monday evening playing at the Stearns garden party, and we hear that music was much appreciated. A number of our villagers attended.

The picnic on Dominion day here under the auspices of the Methodist school passed off very pleasantly, the attendance was very good. The races were much enjoyed by the crowd.

Ira Boyer's driver got fearfully off a wire fence the other day, and it did not fit to drive for weeks. It is surprising the number of accidents that occur through barbed wire, yet each year material is used more extensively fencing.

A couple of deer have been seen recently in D. Forsyth's woods, south of the village, during the past two weeks. They are but fawn. As this is close season for such animals it is to be hoped that no one will be foolish enough to shoot them. If they could be trapped some way and domesticated, what pets they would make.

Recently the body of a man was lying beside the railway track three miles east of here. He was dead fairly well, but there was no upon the body that would serve for identification. In the pockets were a brush, soap and small glass, a me chalk line, a pearl handled knife foot rule and some chewing tobacco an Ottawa Journal, bearing date of 25th. The body was that of a about sixty years of age, and weighed about 180 lbs. Death was either sunstroke or heart failure, as was no mark of violence on the Coroner Sturwood decided that a quest was not necessary and the remains were taken charge of by Under-Bundy and interred. The man's identity still remains a mystery.—News.
