High School Promotions. The following promotions from form I to form II of the high school have been confirmed by the department of education:—F. Armstrong, H. Baker, M. L. Davidson, E. A. Ellis, N. W. Elliott, F. G. Rose, A. C. Hezlewood, E. Leek, W. Lauchland, J. O'Brien, M. Mitchell, B. F. Peacock, F. Phillips, W. J. Salter.

We are indeed glad to hear that Mr. Borsbury has purchased the music hall and purposed to renovate it and bring it up to the standard of modern public buildings. We are in hopes now that some one buy up the post office block and modernize it. But such a thing must not be expected where the public are satisfied to have their own public buildings bear the appearance of being a thing of the 19th century instead of the 20th. Every day we hear remarks from visitors about our post office.

The Vindicator is in ecstasies. It has long been looking for cause to pitch into the fire brigade and the management of that department, and now they have supplied ample material for condemnation. The inspector of the fire underwriters association struck town on Thursday last, and had the fire alarm sounded. The lines of hose were stretched in a minute or two, but no pressure could be had from the engine for nearly twenty minutes, and even then only 40 lbs., the machine refusing to carry more steam whilst refusing. The delay in getting the engine started was due to the fact that the heater was not attached, and it turned out that it had not been in working order for a month. Worse than this, it had been known to the engineer ever since the engine came to Oshawa, but he had not reported it. Miss C. A. Mothersill who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. L. Walton, Parry Sound, for the last two months, has returned home.

A song recital will be given in the Metcalf street Methodist church here on Tuesday night by Rev. Geo. Stafford, tenor, and Mr. Frank B. Stafford, baritone. These young men are beautiful singers as well as noted revivalists, and those who attend their song recital will find it a treat indeed.

Five Yesterday morning. About 4 o'clock yesterday morning the fire alarm went off, and the blaze turned out to be in Murray & Co's merchant tailoring store. The fire engine was hauled to the tank beside the Dominion bank, but when the suction hose was lowered it was found there was no water. The tank is fed from a reservoir at the town hall by a 6 inch pipe, which was turned on. The engine showed 80 lbs of steam with three streams flying upon the fire, which, however, did not stop it until Murray's store and Weston's grocery and the three story building over them had been consumed.

The Vindicator has a great time explaining its inconsistency in regard to Constable Hoover, but squares itself by explaining to the public that the CHRONICLE is loony again. It would appear that the loony only tackle us occasionally. The Vin. wanted to stand in with the constable badly, but it wanted harder to sweeten the six prominent men who were pulled by Hoover and fined. Therefore the CHRONICLE is loony and is trying to stay the hand of justice. We do not envy being loony—this is the silly season—but when we are charged with trying to stifle justice we need only appeal to our readers, and to the memory of those whose offences have never been hinted at in the Vin., but who have in every case met the public gaze through the CHRONICLE.

The Vindicator and Reformer are engaged in a powerful controversy as to the present state of Dominion politics. For weeks each has been pouring hot shot into the other, each about a question of its own, though they aim to deal with the same subject. What interest the local public has in having each of them prove that the other does not is not in talking about, we do not see. As a matter of fact each of the town papers has long ago displayed beyond doubt its utter ignorance of Dominion or any other politics. They are of the class of people who are ignorant but don't know it. Some others are ignorant and do know it.

On Monday evening, M. D. Campbell and James Finney started from here for the Arctic gold regions. They are sent out by a syndicate composed of A. Hinds, F. H. Pusey, Dr. Kaiser and Fred Lambert. They will go to Winnipeg and there consult with Hudson Bay Trading Co officials as to the advisability of taking the old Hudson Bay route to the north country. If that route is not practicable they will go to the coast and take steamer for Deyea, and pack their camp outfit through the White Horse Pass and by that route reach the gold country. They will get their provisions at Winnipeg and will take a horse with them to carry their outfit over land. They will take a year's provisions with them and are likely to remain three years. Of course that depends altogether upon the luck they have. Everyone who knows of their venture wishes them luck. The World of Monday says:—Three hardy Canadians were last night registered at the Walker House who are leaving this morning for the Klondike gold fields. They are M. D. Campbell and James Finney, Oshawa, and E. Tucker, Guelph. These plucky Canadians take the Hudson Bay route believing that they will get through sooner this way than by any other route for the reason that large numbers are going by the other routes. They take a year's supplies with them, much of which they have purchased in this city; the balance such as furs, etc., they will procure in Winnipeg. Messrs. Campbell and Finney go as representatives of an Oshawa syndicate while Mr. Tucker represents Guelph capitalists. They will proceed direct to Dawson City, and upon arrival there will then decide as to their future movements.

Monday was civic holiday in Toronto and Oshawa. The Scotchmen of the two places combined and held caledonian games at Prospect park. The games were under the patronage of the Grand Camp Sons of Scotland and were managed by the Toronto and Oshawa camps. The weather was all that could be asked for and shortly after 9 a. m. the special train with the Scotchmen came in from the city who were carried to the park. At 11 o'clock the Gaiters City brought down 500 more exultantists who went back after another load which arrived in the afternoon. In the forenoon the Crawfords, of Toronto, and Young Marines, of Oshawa, had a game of ball. In the first innings the Crawfords ran up 14 runs, 10 hits and 5 errors. The Young Marines instead of getting rattled got down to business and held the visitors down while they began to pile up a score. At the end of the 5th innings the score was 18 to 8 in favor of the Crawfords, when they left the field. The only motive for the Young Marines to play was that they feared defeat, even with the odds in their favor. At 1.30 p.m. the caledonian games began on the athletic grounds at the park and continued throughout the afternoon. The program consisted of pipe music, dancing Highland fling, sword dance, sailors hornpipe by boys and girls and adults. There were foot races, bicycle races, jumping, and contents between heavy weights in throwing the hammer, putting the stone and tossing the caber. The 200 lbs took place on the track, the dancing on the platform before the grand stand, while the heavy weights had their sports on the green. In the wheel races A. Thompson and Will Cinnamon competed but the company was too fast for them. Tillie Misset won second in the girls foot race, but outside of that the competitors were from the city. The only contest there was any controversy over was the 100 yard foot race. This race had to be run over again because just at the finish a friend of one of the competitors ran after him with his hat near the finish. In doing so he got in the way of R. W. Harrison, Toronto, one of the competitors, who gave him a shove in the back of the neck which sent him rolling in the dust. A foul was claimed and the race run over again. J. Blode was the winner. F. Davey, Whitby, appeared to be second man but the judges gave second place to R. W. Harrison, which caused the controversy. There were two spills in the wheel race but no damage was done. The event of the day was the appearance on the platform of the oldest lady on the grounds. This distinction belonged to Mrs. Robt. Ashton, of Columbus. Mr. L. Corkindale, chairman of the Toronto committee, introduced her to the audience. Mrs. Ashton is 91 years of age, and still enjoys good health and is quite active in spite of her age. She said her neighbors wanted her to come to the grounds but she would not get the saddle of tea that was offered for the oldest lady on the grounds. Mr. Corkindale offered the prize and promised it to be the best saddle he could secure in the city of Toronto. At the close of the games the visitors had refreshments, and then took the train home. There was a good attendance from the town and surrounding country.—Vindicator.

Corkindale, chairman of the Toronto committee, introduced her to the audience. Mrs. Ashton is 91 years of age, and still enjoys good health and is quite active in spite of her age. She said her neighbors wanted her to come to the grounds but she would not get the saddle of tea that was offered for the oldest lady on the grounds. Mr. Corkindale offered the prize and promised it to be the best saddle he could secure in the city of Toronto. At the close of the games the visitors had refreshments, and then took the train home. There was a good attendance from the town and surrounding country.—Vindicator.

Monday was civic holiday in Toronto and Oshawa. The Scotchmen of the two places combined and held caledonian games at Prospect park. The games were under the patronage of the Grand Camp Sons of Scotland and were managed by the Toronto and Oshawa camps. The weather was all that could be asked for and shortly after 9 a. m. the special train with the Scotchmen came in from the city who were carried to the park. At 11 o'clock the Gaiters City brought down 500 more exultantists who went back after another load which arrived in the afternoon. In the forenoon the Crawfords, of Toronto, and Young Marines, of Oshawa, had a game of ball. In the first innings the Crawfords ran up 14 runs, 10 hits and 5 errors. The Young Marines instead of getting rattled got down to business and held the visitors down while they began to pile up a score. At the end of the 5th innings the score was 18 to 8 in favor of the Crawfords, when they left the field. The only motive for the Young Marines to play was that they feared defeat, even with the odds in their favor. At 1.30 p.m. the caledonian games began on the athletic grounds at the park and continued throughout the afternoon. The program consisted of pipe music, dancing Highland fling, sword dance, sailors hornpipe by boys and girls and adults. There were foot races, bicycle races, jumping, and contents between heavy weights in throwing the hammer, putting the stone and tossing the caber. The 200 lbs took place on the track, the dancing on the platform before the grand stand, while the heavy weights had their sports on the green. In the wheel races A. Thompson and Will Cinnamon competed but the company was too fast for them. Tillie Misset won second in the girls foot race, but outside of that the competitors were from the city. The only contest there was any controversy over was the 100 yard foot race. This race had to be run over again because just at the finish a friend of one of the competitors ran after him with his hat near the finish. In doing so he got in the way of R. W. Harrison, Toronto, one of the competitors, who gave him a shove in the back of the neck which sent him rolling in the dust. A foul was claimed and the race run over again. J. Blode was the winner. F. Davey, Whitby, appeared to be second man but the judges gave second place to R. W. Harrison, which caused the controversy. There were two spills in the wheel race but no damage was done. The event of the day was the appearance on the platform of the oldest lady on the grounds. This distinction belonged to Mrs. Robt. Ashton, of Columbus. Mr. L. Corkindale, chairman of the Toronto committee, introduced her to the audience. Mrs. Ashton is 91 years of age, and still enjoys good health and is quite active in spite of her age.
