LOCAL LAOONICS.

The Misses Woodcock are visiting Chautauqua.

Miss Bella Dow, Pilot Mound, Manitoba, is visiting friends here.

Mrs Dr Crayderman, Detroit, is visiting her sister, Mrs Thomas Rice.

Miss Forsythe, Toronto, is visiting her sister, Mrs Wm Newport.

Mr Erny Boreham has secured a situation on the Toronto street railway.

Rev and Mrs Kenny, Grafton, have been visiting Rev and Mrs J S Clarke.

Miss Stephenson and Miss Clements, Peterboro, are visiting Mrs Dartnell.

Mr L Bogart has gone on a military survey making a war map of this part of Canada.

A boy named Hopkins, grandson of Mr John Blow, broke his arm by a fall at the bay last week.

Mrs John Robinson, Toronto, took in the Garden City excursion on Saturday and spent the afternoon in town.

Mr Ed Davey, Pittsburg, is home. He brings tidings of over 100 in the shade down there, but will stay a month till the hot spell is over.

Those who voted for cows to destroy and bedaub the sidewalks should not kick at bicycles which do no harm except to people whose envy is strong.

Thomas Jewell, late of Whitby is in town renewing old acquaintances. Mr Jewell still has a high regard for Cobourg. He will make his home in future with his son at Napanee—Cobourg Post.

If there is no blight, and the insects do not destroy the plums, there will be an abundance this fall. The trees in the orchards of this locality have put forth their best effort, and their blossoms will send and break under the heavy load before the fruit ripens.

A new light has been discovered, electricity being the fundamental principle. It is known as the etheric light. One light is equal to twenty lights of former use, and the cost will be reduced fifty per cent. The light of a room may be altered by changing the capacity of the circuit.

Died. On August 7th at 25 Major St Toronto, Wilfrid, infant son of Albert and Helen Singer.

Another Sharp Order. Notice has been issued by the G T R management to the effect that employees who wish to absent themselves from duty even for a few hours, must make formal application. When books are kept and the agent wishes a days holiday the books are first to be audited.

Fined $5 and costs. J T McGeary appeared before P M Harper on Monday night to answer the charge of assault upon John Patterson, the squabbling being an outcome of the bus rivalry. McGeary and Pattersons fight was described in these columns two weeks ago. Mr Dow appeared for McGeary, and stated on behalf of McGeary that the latter would plead guilty of common assault and pay a fine, and would undertake to say that there would be no more trouble so far as he was concerned. Mr Patterson, who had agreed to this. The magistrate said he would accept the understanding, since it pleased all parties. These rows, he said, had continued until the public was complaining strongly, and he hoped this would be the end of the trouble. One man has a good right to run a bus as another. He imposed a fine on McGeary of $2 and costs, $3 in all.

The Town Finances. The town budget this year makes a very favorable showing. There will be less than $20,000 to raise, and by careful figuring the tax rate has been reduced from 25 to 23 mills. Part of this reduction is owing to a tax sale which will be realized from a tax sale to be held this fall. The main figures of the budget will be found in our report, and by comparison with last year there is a decrease in almost every line except the interest and debt account, which will take a big drop next year for the year following. This fall we pay off the debts incurred ten years ago in connection with the foundry, the Martin Mfg. company, and the Atlas Woolen Co., (known locally as the woolly works). This will effect a saving in the yearly budget of $300 in principal and interest. Under ordinary circumstances this would mean a further fall in the tax rate from 23 to 21 mills, but we have to raise $2000 next year to pay off the last debenture on the collegiate institute, and will miss $1000 in next year's budget, through having no tax sale, therefore a rate of 21 mills will be the best we can hope for. In 1899, if nothing happens, a rate of about 19 mills will be possible, which will mean a reduction of 25 per cent. in our taxes in 3 years including 1897. Whatever else may be said of our town fathers they manage our civic finances well. A reduction of 2 mills per annum for three years is a pleasant prospect for the taxpayers to look forward to, and especially so as it does not entail any injury to the towns service or to the streets or walks.

Mr and Mrs Major Harper spent Sunday last in Toronto.

Mr and Mrs Finlay, Guelph, have been visiting Mrs Gross.

The storm of Tuesday had fine harvest weather in its wake.

Mr John Gordon, St. Hellens, formerly of Port Whitby, died on Saturday.

Mr Robt Brash and Mr John Birchall, Ashburn, were in town Wednesday.

Not more than half a dozen went on the excursion to Burlington Falls on Monday.

Mr Jos Rowan, Toronto, was the guest of his sister, Mrs Robert White, during the past week.

Miss Kathleen Hillary is the guest of Miss Berta Henderson at Pine Lodge, Pine Point, Lake Scougog.

If the mayor had called his meeting to-night at the lake and had chartered the band to attend, a crowd would have been assured.

About ten children have broken bones by accidents in town this year, but not a scratch has been put on a boy by careless bicycling riding. Not a single case of serious injury from bicycles is reported.

The prospect of a small crop of winter apples is encouraging holders of evaporated and dried apples to look for a market next winter at a profitable figure. Some dealers have been holding evaporated fruit for three years.

The thunder storm on Tuesday was only a wing of a much greater one that passed down the lake, but it managed to burn a barn, shatter a house, and play hob with the electric light wires here. There will have to be a lightning rod put on the town.

Mr A Soper, Port Perry, passed through here on Monday, bound for the Klondike gold district. He had probably heard that the liquor business was going on there without license and contrary to statute made an application, and will run a store up there to pay expenses while he has them all prosecuted. In the meantime it is hard to tell what will become of the Province of Ontario.

Wanted. Two or three Boarders for the summer. Home comforts. MISS HAYWARD, Laburnum Cottage, Whitby. May 27, 1897—1f.

Salvation Army Harvest Home.

The annual harvest thanksgiving festival of the Salvation Army is to be celebrated on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, August 28, 29 and 30. Capt Nevergreen, the energetic officer in charge and the local corps are evidently bent upon and seem sanguine of making this the most successful of all past efforts of this kind, and are arranging a programme of special meetings suitable for the occasion. Any cause that will mobilize, reform, and make temperate disciples and money should claim the sympathetic support of all.

A Yard of Pretty Girl.

Drawn there as if by a magnet, the artistic reporter of the CHRONICLE, whose love of the beautiful passes comprehension, discovered, one day this week, a yard of pretty girl in Johnsons window. It is a yard composed of photographs of a number of young ladies in white frocks. They—the young ladies—look as though they might be college girls, though none were identified as students of the Ontario Ladies College. The plan of arranging a number of photos fastened in the manner made familiar by the well known colored lithographs of "a yard of roses" is a novel one. In this case it is so well done as to attract the attention and arouse the admiration of all who pass the window.

An Excellent Programme.

Less than one hundred people went to the tabernacle school room on Monday night to hear the Stafford Bros sing, but those who did go were favored with a treat. The Staffords have fine voices, well trained, and they have no equals in this part of the country as singers of sacred music. They sing in abundance of songs, and render them in such a sweet, melodious, charming style that the audience is filled with delight. Whether in solo or duet the effect is perfect. Their voices are equally well cultivated, and blend with fine effect. The audience cheered the more than willing vocalists along with loud applause. Miss M Smith and Miss A Martin recited, and did their parts so well that they were accorded as much applause as were the singers.

Condit Fowl Sandy.

At Whitby station, July 29, at daylight, there was a large gathering of about forty Scotchmen, some in kilts, all in the train, which was to take them to Uptergrove for the Sons of Scotland picnic there. The Scotchmen were all in good humor, and quaint stories created much mirth and merriment as they waited. Just as the train steamed in the Chief of the Clan received a telegram stating that the picnic had been postponed. Many turned away disappointed, for they had come miles through the drizzling rain to attend the great event. The piper especially looked glum. Sandy McChern, from Pickering, in his tartans, boarded the train, and his last words as the train drew out were: "Hech, mon, I'll nae believe your leein' telegram. I've got Johnnie Gordon's letter." Sandy will have his picnic all by himself.—Orilla News Letter.

Golden Wedding Bells.

One of the most pleasant gatherings that have occurred in South Ontario took place on Tuesday, when Mr and Mrs Daniel McBrady, old residents of the township of Pickering, surrounded by their children and grand children celebrated their golden wedding. Few, if any, of the old people of South Ontario are better known or more highly esteemed than Mr and Mrs McBrady. Mr McBrady was born at St Johns Point, Co Donegal, Ireland, in the year 1817, and settled near Whitby, where for the past sixty years he has lived and prospered. A man of sterling qualities, a man whose word was his bond, a man who enjoyed the highest esteem of all classes of people, devoted to learning and education, his large family enjoyed the very best advantages our country affords. In 1847 Mr McBrady married Ellen Bradley, a bright and beautiful girl of sixteen, fresh from her home in beautiful old Kilkenny. Twelve children, seven sons and five daughters, blessed this marriage, and were one and all able to come from far and near to be with their parents on this auspicious occasion. The sons are: The Rev Robt McBrady, director of St Basils Novitiate, Toronto; Daniel, accountant of the supreme court of British Columbia; Will, barrister, Port Arthur; James, farmer on the old homestead; at home, barrister, Toronto; Frank, at home, and Herbert, of Spencers Arcade, Victoria. The daughters are, Mrs J H Lowry, wife of one of the well known Ontario grain brokers; Sister Bathilde, Loretta convent, Niagara Falls; Kate, at home with her parents; Lina, wife of C O'Neill, L.L.B., barrister, Chatham; and Josephine, wife of J P Dunn, Esq., C P K agent at Chatham. Mr and Mrs McBrady received from their children and friends many beautiful and appropriate presents. Mass was celebrated in the house at 10.30 by Rev R Gallagher, assisted by the Rev Father Gallagher, P. F. and Rev L Brennan, St Basils, Toronto. At the close of the ceremony Rev Father Gallagher in a few well chosen words congratulated Mr and Mrs McBrady on their golden jubilee and prayed that the autumn of their lives might be as full of blessings as the spring and summer have been. At dinner past one the whole party sat down to dinner, and after the good things had been done justice to the health of Mr and Mrs McBrady was proposed by Rev Father Gallagher, and fittingly responded to. Other toasts followed and at four the whole family assembled on the lawn and were photographed by Mr O'Brien. The CHRONICLE joins with the hosts of friends of Mr and Mrs McBrady in wishing them many more years of health and happiness.

Mrs and Mrs Fuller, Toronto, are visiting Mrs Broughal.

Mr T. S. Arnold and family will move to Toronto in about a month.

Miss Ella Burns is visiting county councillor R. A. Webster at Udon.

Ladies blouse waist at half price on Saturday Aug 14 at W G Walters.

Mrs James Johnston is in Toronto with her daughter, Mrs Albert Singer.

The first farmer done harvesting has not reported yet. It takes time to get in the big crop of 1897.

Our ice cream parlor will be open during the season with the best of ice cream. D. Mathison.—1f.

It is said that a man will not feel the cold in the Klondike after he has been there for a little while. He will be dead.

Young man, if you cut no ice here go to the Klondike. Your chances will be good there next winter.—Orilla Packet.

Rev Geo Stafford and family left for their home in Barnston, Que., yesterday morning after spending a most agreeable holiday here.

The armistice between the rival bus lines continues, and the prospects of a treaty of peace are good. The powers that be have agreed upon an ultimatum declaring that no territory shall be ceded to either.

The Uptergrove times cite a case where a child was killed in Toronto by a hay cart, carriage and demands protection for little children. If it were a bicycle that hurt the child it would not be left for the newspaper to demand satisfaction.

The services in the baptist church next Sunday will be as follows: In the evening Rev John Craig, a returned missionary from India, will preach. In the evening Rev G M Lehigh, late of Brandon, Man, will preach. Both of these gentlemen are former pastors in Ontario and will be welcomed by many old friends.

A Fatal Mistake.

The infant son of Mr and Mrs Albert Singer, Toronto, died on Saturday night of a dose of strychnine given by a trained nurse in mistake for crsor oil. Much sympathy is felt for the heartbroken parents.

Last Moonlight Excursion.

The 34th battalion band and orchestra will run the last moonlight excursion of the season to-night. The Garden City will take the music from Whitby, Oshawa, and Bowmanville. The band will give a concert of vocal and instrumental music for the first half of the trip, and the orchestra will furnish music for dancing on the way back. There will be a full moon, and it will be a delightful sail. Fare 25 cents.

Barns Burned.

Monday morning about 3 o'clock the fire alarm started and kept dingling until well on in the forenoon. A fire was seen west of the town, and it turned out to be Jos Heards barn on the Adams estate. The barn and stable and a big stock of hay were all burned. The loss was on hand as soon as possible, but the fire was beyond control before it was first discovered. The burning of this barn looks like the work of tramps. All of Heards harness and stable wares were consumed. There were sufficient surplus to have covered everything, but it is a question as to whether the hay can be considered, as it was stacked.

The Editors Holiday.

For four years the editor of the CHRONICLE has not been absent from duty a week, being determined that every issue of the paper should contain every item of local interest. Our readers know that nothing has been left out. Now we want a holiday and in order to make things pleasant for the occasion we are sending out this week more accounts than usual, and a whole year's subscription by all who take the CHRONICLE. These have got to be collected before the holiday comes off, if it takes till Christmas. In a friendly way we ask every subscriber to remit at once. Those who do will earn our high regard, and it is untrue that we are not settling for the same amount of money again. We have faithfully done our duty; let others do likewise, and they will do so at once if they are wise.

Somebody is in Error.

Either the CHRONICLE is lying about the 34th battalion rifle matches last year or else the Uxbridge Times is, as will be seen from the following clipped from the Times. "It is not true, as stated by the Chronicle, that Mr Raines and Mr Mustard were given prizes. No battalion money was won by those not entitled to it, and it is untrue that a shot as a militiaman who is not in uniform. The insinuation that men who were not bona fide militiamen were allowed to shoot under the sheltering protection of friendly officers is entirely false." We of the CHRONICLE take exactly the same position as stated last week. It is true that Mayor Raines and Prof Mustard did not receive prizes; but they were entitled in a bogus manner to strengthen the Uxbridge clique which had formed to try and gobble up all the prizes. They were allowed to shoot for the prizes, and it is a mere quibble to say they did not win. We do not know what the Times means when it speaks of "battalion money." We complain that these men were improperly allowed to shoot for prizes. If so, there was hippodroming. The insinuation is true "that men who were not bona fide militiamen were allowed to shoot under the sheltering protection of friendly officers." It is also true that "even one officer threatened to resign" because of the objectionable manner in which last years matches were conducted. We do not accept Col Paterson or any other man as being better authority than ourselves upon matters that we know. The Times goes on to say that the CHRONICLE tries to harm the 34th battalion; but the 34th battalion should be so conducted that the truth could not harm it, a lie can never do it harm in the long run. Until these things are put on a straight and up-and-down basis they had better not be mentioned in the meantime. Later—Since the foregoing was put in type we have received a letter from Col Paterson denying the most of our statements of last week. He says Prof Mustard was allowed to shoot, but was not paid the prizes he won. Mayor Raines could not shoot straight enough to win anything. Now we put it to Col Paterson straight: Did he not consider their appearance, shoot for the Uxbridge company as a prize? Did he expect them to go to camp this summer? Who was running the matches? On what grounds were other men ruled out after winning prizes? Did Thos McGrattan ever figure in Col Patersons mind as one who would go to the front this year?
