BOOTH'S Oscillating Truss.

An entirely new and scientific invention.

We claim the following advantages for this truss

1.-It is light, weighing from four to five ounces, according to size. 2.-It is neat and clean, because the mater ials used in its construction cannot absorb the perspiration.

3.- It is easy to wear, because of the novel way in which the pad is made to oscillate. 4.—It never leaves the position in which it is placed on the body, because the pads occupy soft places. 5.-It does its work perfectly, because the proper positions of pads can be se cured with every truss.

the man to fit the truss. 7.—It is the laborer's truss, because he can adjust it to a strong pressure for extra hard work, and can change it again to an easy pressure in a minute.
