Thrifty Local Story.

THE GENEROSITY OF A RICH UNCLE.

—HIS GREAT KINDNESS TO HIS NEWLY MARRIED NIECE.—A REALISTIC ROMANCE OF WHITBY, IN WHICH A NUMBER OF PROMINENT BUSINESS MEN TAKE A VERY CONSPICUOUS PART.

"Miss Summers—Polly—1—1—er—dare But the speaker took a header over bashfulness, only to hear a sweet "Yes, Charley."

"Can I aspire to—er—to—that—is?"

Again a lapse into silence, followed by an encouraging "Yes, Charley."

"Oh, if I might only hope to—er—to—" Another failure of language. It was seemingly a hopeless case, and might have been, only for a demure

"Charley, I have said 'yes' twice, and if you mean it, mean it, and—er—and—er— And to this day that young man will insist that he popped the question.

All this happened away down east, and it was long before there was a wedding. Not much longer before there came a letter from Polly's Uncle Josh over here, who wrote effusively of his delight at her exhibition of what he called "grit," and he proposed that if the young people would in life, as a wedding gift. Of course they accepted, and were soon bidding their friends adieu.

A few weeks subsequent to the above conversation a travel-stained party arrived in Whitby. Our friend, Uncle Josh, was in charge, and he led the party straightway to a hotel. "The Royal hotel," said he, "is a typical Canadian hotel of the best class. I have known J. E. Schiller, the proprietor, for years, and he is mine host after mine host, through business man, endowed with that delightful intuition that makes a guest feel at home, comfortable, contented and in a happy mood. The house is of convenience; the apartments are well furnished and the cuisine excellent. I have engaged rooms here until your own house is in readiness."

"After breakfast," said the old man, "I am ready to go and buy your outfit. To expedite matters I have ordered a carriage from J. T. McGeary, our enterprising liveryman. When the handsome carriage and prancing horses drew up in front of the hotel Polly declared it the "finest turnout she had ever seen." "Yes Sir—er," replied Uncle Josh, "the three S's, Speed, Safety and Style, is McGeary's coat of arms. So, there folks, when you want to take a drive, either for business or pleasure, go for a rig very tight." His wedding, picnic, and funeral equipments are unsurpassed. It was in one of his stylish turnouts that the rounds of the town were made.

At this point, somewhat to the confusion of Charley, the old man indulged in a half serious criticism of his personal appearance. "You are decidedly off style for a young man," said he, "and we had better go and see A. D. Fraser, the merchant tailor, about some new duds. He is an up-to-date tailor and has a splendid stock of suitings from which you may select. And on the subject of hats, I guarantee that when you get togged out in one of A. D. Fraser's suits you'll look more like a newly married man. It always pays to have a stylish tailor make your clothes, because they look better and last longer than ready-made ones." Charley left his measure and when the fine suit was finished it fit to a tee. So he made a resolution then and there, after he had a customer of Mr. Fraser, the tailor.

"Oh, say, Uncle," exclaimed Polly, "where can I go for dry goods? This dress is hardly suitable. I must admit." "Well, my girl, if you want to select from one of the most popular establishments in the town, I will direct you to the well-known dry goods, carpets and cloak house of W. G. Walters, Oddfellows building, who carries a stock of dress goods that for variety and value is seldom seen outside the largest metropolitan cities. He carries all the latest weaves in fashionable dress goods and you are sure to be guided right in your selections. You will find Mr. Walters pleasant to deal with and the employees polite and expert, while the prices cannot be duplicated." Polly got some beautiful dress patterns, a handsome mantle, and a pair of gloves. She also bought some of the latest styles in hats, and she was very pleased with her purchases. "Law sakes!" suddenly exclaimed Uncle Josh, "all this trading and shopping round town has caused me to forget one of the greatest essentials to future existence. I have heard it said that newly married folks could live on love and scenery, but an old man of experience knows better—your table would look slim without bread; it is the staff of life, you know Polly, you must meet Dave Mathison, the baker. His bread, pies, cakes and nicknacks are conceded by all to be the finest on earth. Remember, Charley, there is no use of your tooty wooty bothering herself much about baking, so long as there is such a good baker in town as Mr. Mathison."

"Yes, and while we are on this important topic of gastronomy, we must not forget meat. It goes hand in hand with bread. Now, to locate a meat market where you can get fresh, wholesome meats at all times, I direct you to the meat market in town and is popular with everybody who is particular to have the best. The reason for this is all because he is very careful in the selection of stock and gets the freshest of everything, and keeps nothing but the very best. To keep your 'hubby' in a good humor, Polly, trade with Mr. Sonley every time."

"And as you are going to keep a horse," continued the old man, "or course you will need harness. The boss horse milliner of this section is F. J. Jones. He uses only first class material and give personal supervision to the minutest detail of manufacture. There is nothing in harness that cannot be had of him—heavy and light, single and double, plain and fancy, work and buggy harness, or can make them to order, besides every other kind of turf goods imaginable." After a visit to the harness store, Charley said he thought "if a man could get satisfied it would be his own

BROOKLIN

Mr S Bond from near Columbus has rented the Hoar farm, from which Mr Beckle is leaving, and will shortly move onto it. Another purchase of books will shortly be made for the public library.

Mr R H Walks, B. A. of Lindsay, was in town on Saturday. Dr Lambly is engaged in bible society work this week. He was to address four meetings, at Omeme, Pontypool and two other points.

We have a large assortment of lined gloves and mitts now in stock. New styles and low prices make a good combination. We have also special values in top shirts. Holliday Bros.

Mr Robt Balfour of Hamilton, whose recovery from a recent severe illness was hardly hoped for, is now much better and still slowly improving. Mr Balfours many friends here will be pleased to learn this.

On the same night that Mr Croxalls sheep were attacked by dogs (as reported in last weeks issue) Mr Wm Jeffrey had three valuable lambs killed. The mutton bill presented to council on Monday was a heavy one.

The Royal Templars of Temperance are known to be specially fond of cold water, but the elements poured rather too much of it on the arrangements they had made for rally night, which was to have been celebrated on Tuesday last. The event was postponed till next meeting, 16th inst, when the programme will be carried out.

Balsam & Mt Zion.

Miss Jennie Wilson is improving nicely. There was a large attendance at church on Sunday. Mrs Everett is visiting with her daughter at Greenbank. Mrs Hickingbottom is visiting friends in this neighborhood. Miss Rosa Sadler, Whitby, is spending a few days at Mr Mutchers. Thomas Davidson sold a valuable colt to American buyers lately. Mr Wm Birks sale was a grand success. Feeding cattle brought good prices. The trustees met at the school on Friday and engaged Mr Madill for another year at an increased salary. Mr Joo Burckett is on a deer hunting expedition in the north country. Mr T. Denny always has stock for sale. This week he sold two fine cattle. We believe it is the intention of the beef-singers to have an oyster supper soon. With the exception of the removal of a few calves, halloweas passed off very quietly here. The new bridge on the C. E. R. near Glen Major near completion. It will be a fine bridge when finished. Mr J. Hudson and party left last Friday morning for the hunting grounds. They expect to fetch home the limit. Messrs Lawrence and Madill went to Toronto on Saturday to see the rugby football game between Toronto and Hamilton. Dont forget next Sunday and Monday. The annual hot supper will be served on Monday. There will be lots of duck, geese and turkeys. Come and get full. The market at Balsam was exceptionally good Wednesday. Better than eggs added for 26c. Farmers, bring along your produce and you will receive a good price for it. The meetings at Mt Zion closed with a very impressive service Sunday evening conducted by Rev. Class. Eleven new members were added to the church, which shows that these meetings were not in vain. The following is the report of Balsam school for the month of October: V. class, Wm. Miller 66 per cent; IV. class, Fred Denny 59 per cent; Janet Balaban 74 per cent; Alma Ward 70 per cent; Edna Denny 65 per cent; Llewellyn Denny 62 per cent; III. class, George Jones 41 per cent; Ray Ward 34 per cent; II. class, Eva Burgess 72 per cent; Viola Philp 72 per cent; Janet Davidson 59 per cent; Ray Wilson 55 per cent; Elmer Lockhart 49 per cent; Wilbert Denny 39 per cent; Newton Burgess 37 per cent; Allan Walker 35 per cent; John Quinn 35 per cent; Part II, Gerie Walker, Frank Quinn; Part I, Randolph Birks, Lawrence Manser, at the Progress, Leo Lockhart; First class, David Philp, Gerie Manser, Rosa Philp.

PORT PERRY

Victor McMechan is home on a visit. Archie Weir returned from the northwest last week. Mr E Burton of Uxbridge was in town last Sunday. James Boxall of Lindsay was in town on Monday. Ed Rundle of Oshawa was home on a visit last Sunday. T C Nicholls of Uxbridge was in town on business on Monday. Mr and Mrs W Lally of Little Britain have returned to town to live here. Hon Jno Dryden was in town last Friday in connection with the foundry. James H McBrien, son of Inspector McBrien, is at the desk in the Western Bank. Mrs S H Graham of Whitby has this past week been visiting friends in this vicinity. A meeting of the hockey players will be held next Tuesday evening, 9th inst at the St. Charles. Chas Pearn has bought the bakery business lately carried on by J Deshane, who intends removing to Oshawa.

The boys and young men were more than busy with their tricks on Saturday and Monday nights celebrating hallowe'en. The band of hope had a successful concert on Tuesday evening. The little folks acquitted themselves very creditably. Miss May Bennett returned home on Tuesday evening from Milwaukee, where she has for sometime been visiting her brother William. Messrs L Quackenbush, J Goudy and W Anderson were in Uxbridge on Monday evening, the guests at a party of the "Jolly Five" in that town. This is Guy Fawkes day. The True Blues of the town will celebrate the day by an oyster supper in the Sons of England hall this Friday night. A recital on the new pipe organ will be given this Friday evening by Prof Geiger of Oshawa in the church of the Ascension. A silver collection at the door. There will be a hot time in the old town to night, "was nothing in comparison with the howling old time at the pie social at Prince Albert on Monday evening, Cosmorama. The ladies and gentlemen comprising St Johns presbyterian church choir purpose giving something unique in the way of an entertainment on Thanksgiving evening Nov 25th in the town hall, Port Perry. The programme will consist of instrumental music by an orchestra, choruses, solos, marches, etc. Something novel will be shown in the way of advertising. Look for it, wait for it, buy a ticket for it, go to it. Mrs Joshua Wright was stricken with paralysis on Wednesday of last week while preparing to come to Port Perry with Mr Wright, and while conscious was not able to speak to those who waited upon her, and died on Tuesday of this week. The deceased lady was a resident of Prince Albert for many years and was respected and loved by all who had the privilege of her acquaintance. Mrs Wright was a devoted wife and an affectionate mother, and a consistent christian woman, and will be missed by the family. The long funeral cortege yesterday—Thursday—testified to the esteem in which the deceased and the family are held in this vicinity. Dr J H Sangster of this town was in Toronto on Monday and Tuesday of this week attending the Normal School Jubilee and the unveiling of the portraits of the three past principals of the school. Rev R P McKay, a student of the doctors, unveiled Dr Sangsters portrait, who was the second principal of the Normal School. On Tuesday afternoon the doctor delivered an historical address, and in his hands was no doubt a rare treat to listen to. There are very few better able to deliver such an address. A lively time. A man moving to Dryden township with a car of settlers effects and which was billed from Whitby, had a rather peculiar time here on Tuesday morning. While looking after his horse the cow got loose from her fastenings and made a bolt for liberty—the car door was only open about eight inches—and crowded the door open enough for her to get through when she jumped to the siding and made a dash to get away. Previous to this the cow got into the duck pens and broke the pens, and they also scattered and crowded for liberty. The car had to be left behind and the settler with help at the station caught the cow and ducks and they were again safely placed in the car, and the car proceeded on its way on the evening train. The affair was the means of delaying the man from the morning train until night. The Wild West. The Great Wild West had a rehearsal at Manchester last Friday evening. Some fourteen members of the company left town on a flat and proceeded in grand and imposing array to a burg to the west. Shortly before reaching the capital the company marched in procession headed by the only wild west band of all colors, and proceeded to that famous hostelry kept by Mine Host Tooley. The time was spent in song, chit-chat, and side-splitting jokes. In due time supper was served in good style and the wants of the inner man were satisfied. After supper the members of the wild west repaired to their respective homes and on the way home captured something which they duly prized. Billy the postillion did his duties to perfection, the grey was very docile; thus ended a very enjoyable rehearsal of the great wild west. The next will be duly noticed. W. J. NOTT.

BAGGOTTVILLE.

The Lynde family, residing very well we are glad to say and we trust they will soon be all around again. We are sorry to report that the fever has seized another victim in the person of Miss Nellie Hoar. She was away visiting friends when taken sick. The farmers are very busy taking in turnips. They report a very good crop in most cases. "The melancholy days have come. The saddest of the year. Of walling winds and naked woods And meadows brown and bare." So were we all saying on Monday and Tuesday but to our surprise summer came again on Wednesday. "To that the human countenance With a color of romance." Let us not deceive ourselves, friends; economy is not something for almost nothing, for according to the price so shall the quality be. But economy is getting something good at the price it is worth and then making use of it as long as possible. We often think we are saving a great deal when we get something at a low price, while in reality all we save is a dead loss because when we get it used.
