

THE CANADIAN CHAMPION.
MILTON, OCT. 21, 1886.

THE INSPECTOR'S REVOLVER.

Last week's Action Free Press contains the following:
The Champion has the Free Press to thank for not reporting the shooting case of Inspector Brothers and a Toronto lawyer, A. Devereaux, Vice-President of the Standard Press, in which the latter charged the Free Press with being so concerned in an awkward scrape. There is nothing certain, however, this journal cannot be charged with maliciously representing the case in the manner of a public officer, who was in no sense a tenant previously referred to. This young man who was wounded. This cannot be said of our maligning cotem.

Before charging the Free Press with suppressing the shooting case of Inspector Brothers and a Toronto lawyer, A. Devereaux, Vice-President of the Standard Press, in which the latter charged the Free Press with being so concerned in an awkward scrape. There is nothing certain, however, this journal cannot be charged with maliciously representing the case in the manner of a public officer, who was in no sense a tenant previously referred to. This young man who was wounded. This cannot be said of our maligning cotem.

Unless the Free Press reproduces its report with the published any, and gives the date on which it appeared, we shall be forced to believe that our contemporary was untrue in that our contemporary has been guilty in the above item of quibbling more contemptible than any indulgence in a little of the latter, too, when it accuses us of misrepresenting the facts connected with the shooting in the slightest.

If the falsehood and quibbling of the Free Press are contemptible, it is more so in that it accuses us of misrepresenting the facts connected with the shooting in the slightest. Ontario Voters' Lists.

Judge Miller held a sitting for the revision of the voters' lists at the Court House on Monday last. George Heustack was changed from owner to tenant. Rev. D. M. McKenzie was placed on list as owner. J. A. Brothers and Anon Brothers were changed from tenants to landowners. Rev. W. H. Caldwell, landholder's son. W. Yannalton, wage earner.

AT IT AGAIN.
One of the defendants in the late libel suit feeling sore apparently over the result and the price, from $400 to $600, which his slanderous abuse cost him and his associates, made for his personal attack on the proprietors of this journal in last week's Oakville Star.

The Sheriff Snatches Them.
(World.)
The Kingston Whig has been informed that certain lionstone Liberals who do not like its style propose to start another organ in that city. The Whig accepts the proposition philosophically.

A Crushed Judge.
The Toronto Globe takes exception to Mr. Justice O'Connor's interpretation of the law in the Sarna dynamite case. It will now be in order for the celebrated judge to retire from the bench and regard his old time occupation, wood chopping.

Prohibition in Georgia.
Atlanta, Ga., is a prohibition town not much larger than Hamilton. There were 22 arrests for drunkenness at Hamilton on Saturday and Sunday last. There was only one arrest for drunkenness in Hamilton on Saturday and Sunday last—Spectator.

The Winner of the Jockey Club.
The winners in the Jockey Club and Hunt Club races at Toronto on Saturday were: Greyhound, Viola, open cash handicap, Wild Rose, with Geo. L. second; hunt cup, Bruce; open cash handicap, Echo; hunters' race, Pawbroke. Shamrock was killed in the open steeplechase, and the favorite, White W. broke.

Georgetown Liberal Temperance Union.

On Friday last a branch of the National Liberal Temperance Union was organized at Georgetown, with a goodly number of the leading citizens as members, and every prospect of a very large membership being secured in the village and surrounding country. The following officers were elected:—Dr. Wm. Farrar, President; D. Reid, W. Thibbs, Freeman, Vice-Presidents; W. Thibbs, A. Devereaux, Sec.-Treas.; and W. Byder, W. Moore, J. Matchett, T. S. Conover, Free Press a little more carefully before charging us so boldly with "being so concerned in an awkward scrape."

The Rev. Sam Jones Smokes Cigars.
THE EVANGELIST DRIVES UP TO HIS HOTEL IN A FRAGRANT VANNA IN HIS MOUTH.
The other day a correspondent wrote to The World enquiring whether it was true or not that Sam Jones had quit using tobacco, as was reported from Chicago. On the strength of information received from a prominent member of the committee having in charge the revivals at "Tahquamenon," the World answered the question by saying:—"Mr. Jones does not use tobacco in any shape." This is untrue, for he was seen to do so at the King-street entrance of the Rossin House. It was a small cigar, and he was seen to puff it away at a lighted cigar, which he held as he passed over the pavement and through the hall and upstairs to his room. Mr. Small smokes cigarettes, and apparently he does not care who knows it, but he can afford to be seen promiscuously in the ample corridors of the Rossin with the modest little cigarette between his teeth.

Booby Bloods.
(Argus in Action Free Press.)
I would respectfully suggest to the young bloods who found it difficult to get up to the various homes on the completion of a night's jollification (last week, that the next time they would find it far easier if they took a little exercise along and a boy to wheel them home in time. And if the boy would kindly rest his load under a convenient pump, and notify me I should be pleased to give him a little exercise with the pump-handle, just to see if it works satisfactorily.

All Bosh and Nonsense.
"It's all bosh and nonsense," said a railroad official on Saturday evening to a gentleman who was talking to him of the completion of a night's jollification (last week, that the next time they would find it far easier if they took a little exercise along and a boy to wheel them home in time. And if the boy would kindly rest his load under a convenient pump, and notify me I should be pleased to give him a little exercise with the pump-handle, just to see if it works satisfactorily.

A Practical Joke on Our Inspector.
(Spartan.)
An application for the police chiefship has been received from Wm. Boshors of Milton. The application was supposed to be bogus. The applicant speaks very highly of himself, assuring the commissioners that he is "traced by the lawless manner in which he has brought offenders to justice"—so much so that he is called by the criminal classes of Milton "Bully the Boomer."

The Turf.
The winners in the Jockey Club and Hunt Club races at Toronto on Saturday were: Greyhound, Viola, open cash handicap, Wild Rose, with Geo. L. second; hunt cup, Bruce; open cash handicap, Echo; hunters' race, Pawbroke. Shamrock was killed in the open steeplechase, and the favorite, White W. broke.
