All the voter's lists should be returned to the Clerk of the Peace by the 3rd of December, in order to be in time for the ensuing Provincial elections. The writs will be dated the 4th December.

Sarnia Observer: Mr. C. O. Ernster, Tory M.P.P. for Elgin, finds it necessary to repudiate the statements put in his mouth by the Mail's special Scott Act interviewer. That versatile genius takes the cake for perverting the truth.

So early as this in the campaign does the Hamilton Spectator denounce Mr. Blake as a demagogue. The Times has not yet characterized Sir John as a demijohn, but it will come. Everything and everybody comes to the elector who waits.—World.

Up to late the esteemed Mail has not denounced any Roman Catholic or anti-Prohibitionist Conservative, or eulogized any Protestant Prohibitionist Liberal in Ontario. This barking at the bear and biting the huntsman must be mighty straining on the mouth.—World.

The Ottawa Conservative organ, the Citizen, repudiates the Mail as "an organ turned by cranks for the delectation of cranks." Some people profess to think that this sort of thing is "all put on" for the purpose of catching the protestant vote in Toronto without losing the Catholic vote at Ottawa. If so it is a dangerous disguise to put on. It is a question if the support of any leader by organs which differ widely in sentiment and indulge in recriminations is not likely to do him more harm than good.—World.

The long-awaited match to settle the disputed championship between the Montreal and Toronto Lacrosse Clubs was played on Saturday afternoon on the Shamrock grounds at Montreal, and resulted in a draw, darkness intervening after one game had been secured by the Montrealers in 1 hour 40 minutes.

A new dodge, says the Ottawa Journal, is being practised in adjacent counties under the Scott Act. Black-mailers write informing supposed illicit vendors that they have evidence to secure their conviction and that unless they are paid a certain sum a prosecution will be entered. In this way several persons have been victimized.

Precaricature in all its windings and twistings were apparent at the Scott Act trials here last week, and the fact was continually made clear that the enforcement of the Act has no sympathy from witnesses—that 99 out of 100 will side with the liquor interest and take advantage of every dodge they can think of to shield their guilty.—Uxbridge Journal.

The city of St. Catharines is considerably agitated over Sunday work. A meeting was held last week, at which it was decided to petition the government against opening the Welland canal on Sundays. An attempt was also made to stop the running of street cars between St. Catharines, McRitton and Thorold on Sunday.

Mrs. Margaret Ball, who died at Thorold a few days ago in the 97th year of her age, was born in the township of Niagara before it became a town, and before any civil organization existed in the Province. The deceased was of a Loyalist family, who came from the Mohawk Valley at the time of the Revolution. Her father, Captain Fry, was killed by a cannon ball in the street of Niagara during the bombardment of the town from the America fort opposite, in the war of 1812. Her husband, John C. Ball, was captain of the Provincial artillery, and commanded the only field-piece used by the British soldiers in the battle of Queenston on October 13th, 1812.

The Church Temperance Society of New York which does not believe in prohibition but favors high license, said that the greatest difficulty it has had to contend with in agitating the temperance question has been the disengagement of the people of the rural districts to consider the comparative advantages of the two systems of proposed legislation. It has decided, therefore, to direct its energies towards awakening a sentiment in favor of high license throughout New York State.

The surveys for the water supply of Philadelphia have been completed. The city will have to pay $12,665,911 for a daily supply of 210,000,000 gallons, of which 90,000,000 gallons would come from Tookerton Creek by gravity; and 120,000,000 gallons would be pumped by water-power into an aqueduct at Point Pleasant at the Delaware. To obtain this information the city has paid $20,000, and has had as many as 100 men employed at various time during the last three years.
