eason, 1886. The Canadian Champion.

ANDERSON &

ORTERS AND DEALERS INncy Dry Goods, Milliner ess-making, Carpets, Oil Clothing, Ready-made Clothing, ave this season a most complete stock in all in the manufacturies the most of our imme e public will got the advantage of these low no. of stylish, attractive, substantial, cheap god local norms at less than 50 cents for first inse.

local news at less than 50 cents for first inse.

1212 cents for each subsequent insertion.

1212 cents for each subsequent insertion.

1212 cents for each subsequent insertion.

1212 cents for each subsequent insertion. flerent prices; but we guarantee a large that After 12 months trial of strick.

complete with any legitimate business income O, "Mummoth House," Georgeton

ONALD MONAIR timate that he is prepared to fill all order

WMI.BEWS.

---MILTON,---

did assortment of Canadian and Imported Twee Melicins: Ne., Sc., and can supply his patrons terior in material and finish to none. His pri found to be remarkably low considering

Wm. BEWS

Terri for job work strictly cash.

M. E. MITCHELL,

Solicitor, Conveyancer, de.

CHISHOLM & FLLIOTT.

Hamilton, Milton, Ont.

Barristers, &c.

ICIOR C. ISHOLM. J.W. ELLIOTT. B.A.

R. A. PRINGLE,

open Tuesdays, Thursdays and doney to loan at lowest rates of interest.

BAIN, LAIDLAW & Co.

Barristers & Solicitors.

gion Street, East. Entrance, Exchange

an daily. Gas or Vitalize? Air administrated

DENTIST,

MAIN ST., MILTON,

PRIP RTY AT 6 ? R CENT:

farm and save money. All dealings fair and es of Halton, Peel, Wentworth ellington.

Jorner King& McNab Streets.

will be in Milton on the last Tuesday of every month. Office in the Thompson

OFFICE-First door west of the CHAMPI

Sen I your repairs,

Thos. Wilso.

MILTON.

GRAFT, &c.

IN THE FOLLOWING LINES, AT

WEER HARDWARE SIM

Cutlery,

The best lamp extant for large rooms of public built

--MILTON.--

promptly attended to. campbellrie. OR "C"AMPION" OFFICE, MILTON. Cross Cut Saws, $500.00

case of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint

fleadache, Indigostion or Costiveness annot Cure with WEST'S LIVER when the Directions are strictly 1 with. Large Boxes, containing 4, 25 Cents; 5 Boxes $1.00. Sol

Canadian Chamion

VOLUME 26.

MILTON, THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1887,

A STANDARD MEDICAL WORK send for me again in such circumstances sooten of a young girl

For the Wear 1887 3 Georgetown L. Grant 18 18 do Lards of ten lines or less $5.00 per 4 Acton J. Matthews... 20 6 Burlington G. C. Bastedo

General Sessions of the Peace and County Court Sittings, with or without Jury, Tuesday 14th June County Court Sittings, without Jury, Tuesday, 4th April, and 3rd October, at 10 a. m. County Court Sittings-Formerly Terms-Monday, 3rd January, 4th April, 4th July, and 3rd Octob Judges Chambers. - Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week, except on Court days and during and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute what what week and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute is Is that what week and old. It contains 125 prescriptions for all acute is Is that what week and old.

Sittings of the Division Courts of the Co. of Halton.

kind admitted among the Audit of Criminal Justice Accounts.—Tuesday, 4th January, 5th April, 5th July & 4th October. By order, JOHN DEWAR, Clerk of the Peace.

W. H. MACNAB, Hardware Merchant. Has now taken the Agency for

THEY ARE THE ONLY GENUINE ENGLISH ARTICLES IN THE CANADIAN MARKET. Real Pebble are kept in stock! Tests are given to prove genuiness! They are recommended by and testimonials have been received from the President. who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill Vict. President, and Ex-President of the Medical Association of Canada; the President of the College of and experience. Chronic and obstinate diseases Physicians and Surgeons of Quebec; the Dean of the Medical Faculty of Laval University; the President | that have baffled the skill of all other physicians a For sale only at MACNAB'S Hardware, Store, Milton.

$5 to $8 a day. Samples and duty FREE. Bank of Hamilton OFFICE. -First door east of Bank Farms for Sale.

> Achoice list of Fruit, Grain, Stock, and Dairy Farms, Wild Lands, Suburban Residences, Mills and other properties, with thirty provincial and unty maps, comprised in "CANADIAN LAND ADVERTISER." sent free on receipt of 3c. stamp W. J. FENTON & CO., Real Estate Agents,

Adelaide street east. Toronto. DUNNS worth of Newspaper advertising, get our prices. The exact cost of any paper, or list o

Send for New Catalogue J. C. HOUGH, Detroit, Mich

ventions and patents ever published. Every numher illustrated with splendid engravings. This receipt of price.

are noticed in the Scientific American free. The Gooderham's,

EACH PLUG OF THE Myrtle Navy

IN BRONZED ETTERS

HOUSE FURNISHINGS

BASE, &c.

Lumber Matched and ressed

Factory-Mill Street, Milton.

for 25 years is such as probably never before fel' the lot of any physician. 200 pages, bound

The science of Life is a superb and masterly but I must go home." treatise on nervous and physical debility. Detroit;

Science of Life will not be useful, whether youth. parent, guardian, natructor or clergyman,-Aldress as Peabody Medical Institute, or Dr. "Mamma darling, take care—so many need never loss in it, let me say with the say be consulted on all diseases requiring skill them perceive the pain you feel."

The say of the

HER MARTYRDOM

"It does not matter." she returned. the face that had flushed with anger now ing sobs; she was frantic with her pas- should give it up." paling with pain. "But you should not sionate jealousy and keen mizery. Then Do you suppose, Gladys, that, if you and daughter together. he said awkwardly, for on the fair white that her husband had ceased to love answered; "but, as in all probability he yet you have never had a lover, you any good. the strong cruel hand that had shown when she looked up at her daughter and give it up.

little mercy in its grasp. He tried to examine it; but she shrank back from him, pale and scared. Deposits received and interwould kill me for the sake of Gladys est allowed at best current rate. No notice of withdrawal —From 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Reserve Fund

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMY.

'ulsions, Fits, Nervous Neuralgia, Headache,

FINE OLD

Walker's,

138 Y unge St., Toronto.

Canvassers Wanted.

IMMEDIATELY IN THIS COUNTY

"OUR NORTH LAND,

Photograph Albums in over 300 varieties.

Milton, Nov., 18, 1856.

J. BUTTERFIELD,

"It does not matter," she repeated. seemed to assuage her grief. grasp; hard as iron; but it is as nothing tremble!" to the hard grasp in which you hold the her having betrayed him into a cowardly, it tortures slowly."

cenes are unendurable."

should like you to feel the pain, the What could be done? fever, the despair. just once; you would my prescuce from hers wearing the very flower that she has given you?" Let about it, but she was powerless to effect she went. me place a flower in your coat, Vance." any change. No idea came to her as to things upon earth, a jealous woman is "There must be an end to this," she while." tine worst!" And the capt in strode said to herself; "it cannot last." from the room, barging the door behind tered something between his teeth as ly. he thought of the black bruise on the or even cared for her, it vanished when happy or bright again, Angel."

Laura by nature, she went to the in miserable and unondurable. Leave love. nocent cause of her present grief and him !" } thing that struck Angela was the broad what it is to love!" who were waiting at table-once. The captain's handsome face but, though she was silent, Fate was that never existed. llushed, and Lady Laura grew pale. busy.

"I hurt it badly this morning, Angel." and bruised it."

But that evening, when it was time to keep up her friendship with him, if she her mother. The captain was the only a dress for Mrs. Hardesstle's reception, chose. Lady Laura found her arm so swollen "There would be no objection to your society; and painful as to render it impossible Giendship," said Lady Kinloch, "if it welcomed. He soon became as popular Ther to go out, and Angels became were of a ordinary kind; but you must in Nice as he had been in La And Gladys whispered to him as he acknowledge that he devotes his time he was rather pitied than otherwise for

You may be sure or anat, no as Gladys quickly. "He likes my society knew that it was he himself who had They reached Brighton safely, and is swered. "I am compelled to go," said the and seeks it, and I see no harm in that. driven the bloom from his wife's cheeks found the queen of watering places it.

"I am compelled to go," said the and seeks it, and I see no harm in that." I see and had wrecked her happiness?

apparent? You are attracting public offers of marriage while Captain Wyn ma." Exhausted Vitality, Nevous and Physical Debility, attention, and that is bad for her, if not yard is always by your side." "Is that what you wanted to say-all "You do not want any offers of mare heart."

looked straight at the stage.

"I am going back then; and I am go- tend to do with your life?" Do not send for me sgain." He went back to Gladys Rane: but, aghast.

The Science of Life points out the rocks and, ned by the cruelty of her husband's love are better than money.

ther must return home. She bent to- speak in that manner." wards her ladyship and whispered-"Mamma darling, take care—so many need never renew the subject; An hour later Lady Wynyard sat in make the test of my ruined life."

erable woman in London! She had Kirloch firmly, "does it not seem to you torn the pearls from her hair and her that your duty is to avoid him?" was the most miserable woman in the friendship to exist?"

"Oh, Angela, if I could undo it-if I of it," remarked Lady Kinloch. could undo my most miserable mar- After that conversation, Lady Kin- world, and, while I have you to love and and, with a bow to his wife, he fo "I believe," she gasped, "that you riage! Yet I love him-I love him!" Angela never found it so difficult to wisely, after all, in preventing her not believe," she added, turning with a "Angel," gasped Lady Laura, soothe or calm her mother. She bathed niece's marriage with the handsome pretty caressing gesture to her mother, think my licart will break in And in his ovil heart he knew the the tear-stained face; she smoothed the captain—whether it would not have "that even you know how much I love Let us sit down; I cannot walk. words were true; but he mercly said- golden hair, so tangled and tumbled; been better to let them find out for them- you." "I am sorry if I have hurt you, Laura." she kissed the pale quivering lips. But selves what love and poverty were like. "I know you are the best and dearest then she turned to her daughter.

"Mamma," she said gently, "you code that the world laid down—she had some time or other."

unkappy ones, as she saw the wreck and Angela to Nice. Ludy Laura had happy." "Put an end to them," she retorted that had been made of her mother's lost her brightness, her dainty bloom, romptly, "by ceasing to visit Gladys life. (It seemed strange to her that this her radiance, and there was a constant forgotten the captain and the weight man should have the power to change shadow in her eyes, and curious lines sorrow that oppressed them. "I should not do that, my dear, if their flives so completely. Before he that suggested intense mental suffering they were twice as bad," he declared, had met them they had known nothing were round her lips. She was but the You talk of jealousy as a pain, Laura; but happiness; now it seemed as though wreck of the bright beautiful woman they would never be happy again. An who had left Rood Abbey but a short "Yes," she answered, with a dreamy gela was seriously alarmed and anxious time before. One by one she had given " her face; " it is madness, Vance." with respect to her mother, for she felt up the pleasures of the season. "She to a close, and the captain had begun to , after a pause, she asked suddenly, that much more of this misery would could not attend the balls, the late hours tire of Switzerland. The beauties of crush her entirely. Her beautiful fra- tried her too much; she could not en- nature had but little charm for him, "I think not," he answered-"nay, I gile mother, who had always been so in- dure the fatigue of garden-parties, of and he would have found time hang ter-in dulgently loved, was untit to battle with "At homes" or receptions. One by one ribly heavy on his hands but for a small other day just as a class of the ask you one question. Do you not think "Oh, if I could but get her back to captain suggested Nice for the winter, change. But the real truth remained—and then hesitates.

and his wife was quite willing. It was he wanted to see Gladys Rane once part " promps the tent it needless cruelty to come straight into Road!"

Of all intolerable the misgry that surrounded her.

no visitors were present; and the first him up. Ah, Angel, you do not know had done, and she never asked.

CHAPTER XXVI.

and attention to you as though he were having "a delicate wife." He was my lover once," retorted ladies remarked; but who amongst them faint gleam of h

FOR Young & Middle-Aged Men with an extended and the sum is warm, and the air charming the sum is fresh. The band is playing and there are some charming faces to be seen. Will make he charming the sum is fresh. The band is playing and there are some charming faces to be seen. Will make he charming the sum is warm, and the air charming the sum is the sum is warm, and the s

Why did you send for me ?" her." She did not turn to answer him, but "I do," returned Lady Kinlock em darling," rejoined the girl, with intense Laura which slways attracted attention phatically, "I wonder that you do love shining in her eyes. "I always and Angela was the ideal of girlish grace "I wanted to ask you if you are not not see how blind you are to your own do and always shall. My greatest and beauty: making your devotion to Miss Rane too interests; You cannot expect any good earthly delight is to be with you, main-Premature Decline in Man. Errors of Youth, and for you. You have been in that box the "I do not want them," said Gladys father, child! He had the same lov. She was looking at the sea and listen the untold miseries resulting from the little of the sea and listen.

you have to say?"

"Yes," she replied. "I say I ask what you in him, mamma," said the girl, well that he hoped sounded as if he were ing home to supper with Lady Kinloch. "West it away, as others do," she "You do indeed, my dear; and there saw the dark fascinating face of Gladys answered drearily. "Aunt, it was you is something in your voice which grows Rane, flushed with delight, her dark The brightest of smiles was on his who made a mistake; you should have more like his. It is like sweet music to eyes shining like stars. Lady Laura body. Bend now. Gold medal awarded face as he left the box. He knew that let me marry Captain Wynyard." me." the author by the National Medical Association, to the arrow had gone straight home, that "Why, you would have had nothing "I am delighted to hear you say beating.

had struck the gentle loving heart. to live upon?" cried Lady Kinloch, that," declared Angela. "I have often The Science of Life is worth more to the young when he looked in triumph at his wife's "I begin to think that would not remember his bright face and laughing she acknowledged the introduction with have mattered so much," she replied. eyes so well. How kind he was to every a formal bow. She could not speak. . For one minute Lady Laura sat stun- "I have found out that happiness and one-how good he was, how true! love to think of him." nicksands on which the constitution and hopes of words; then she rose from her seat her "It is all very well to say so while Out fof the fulness of her heart she veted on her husband's face; she heard have been fatally wreaked words; then she rose from her seat her "It is all very well to say so while out fof the fulness of her heart she veted on her husband's face; she heard. you live in the midst of luxury; but you told many little anecdotes of the father, as in a dream arrangements being made The Science of Life is of greater value than all . "Angel," she said quietly to her would soon change your ideas if you whom she had loved so much. Lady for driving that afternoon. She heard be medical works published in this country for the lady in the lady in the lady in this country for the lady in the lady he medical works published in this country for the daughter. "I am sorry to disturb you; tried love and poverty. I have done my Laura listened with a smile on her her own name mentioned; but she did ast 50 years.—Atlanta Constitution.

best for you, Gladys,, and, if you marry face, and for once the captain was not know who uttered it. When Angela saw the look of despair well, I shall leave you my property; but forgotten. Some of the lost peace There is no member of society to whom The on the pale face, she know that her mo- I must say I do not like to hear you and happiness came back to the fra. band's desire to see Brighton, of his gile lady who had once been so dearly kindness to her. He wished to keep on "Aunt," said Glass frankly, "we loved.

that I ought to have married Captain Lady Laura Wynyard and her daugh. from the group, held out her daintily "Take me liome, Angel!" said the des. Wynyard. I should have been happy ter passed the next summer in Switzer. gloved hand and smiled a fascinating then; now all that I have to do is to land, and one beautiful morning in Au- triumphant smile, as she said gust they were together in the grounds "What a charming, surprise, Lady her dressing-room, surely the most mis- "Knowing that, Gladys," said Lady of their villa. The golden sun shone on Laura! How much better you are lookthe blue waters; the air was fresh and ing! When did you come? invigorating. An invalid-chair had been breast; her golden tresses lay in dis-! "No," she replied. "I have confi- placed for Lady Laura under the droop- which her mother laboured, hastened to hevelled masses over her shoulders. She dence in myself. His friendship is plea- ing boughs of a tall tree, so that she the rescue. beat her breast, and gave vent to wail- sant to mo, and I do not see why I might rest in the shade. The captain had gone to a picuic, leaving mother could wish her,"shereplied. are strangely unlike other girls.

Her laugh was not pleasant to hear. neither gentle words nor loving caresses Still she had this satisfaction—she had daughter in the world," responded her acted for the best-she had followed the ladyship; "but, Angel, you must marry its [disfiguring mark, must not agitate yourself in this way; followed the highest light she knew. "I do not see the absolute necessity, in her mother's face. " she cried. "It was a cruel you will make yourself ill. See how you However, she resolved upon one thing: mamma," the girl said gravely. she would for the future keep her niece can imagine a very happy life without Laura said-"Oh, Angel, it would be easier to die as far apart from Captain Wynyard as marriage. I met many nice men in love deeply to be jealous. Still I must only laugh me to scorn," she thought "Change of air and perfect rest." The much better—it was time they had a seven, eight, nine," continues Augela thought long and anxiously a matter of indifference to her whither more. Her ladyship might, from his queen, king, ace." concludes the youth "I shall not be able to remain at gotten her; but she knew the days on "I how she could help her mother out of Nice the whole time," the captain an- which the mail brought letters from lan, mapester of penitenciaries, has connounced; "but I shall be there for a Paris. She knew the envelopes with cluded inspecting the pententiary. He the change, the captain being kind to and ruined her life by marrying a mun for after he had gone. If she retained any . "No, I am not," replied her ladyship her in a lazy indifferent fashion. He his good looks, and she must pay the inflicted a wound. Gentless was Lady stay with him ? He makes your life in every deed, she traced his want of time.

Then matters improved for a time.

him. I know he has ceased to love me; never volunteered any information. It was seldom that the family sat he is obld, indifferent, cruel even; but When he returned, he never said any. down to luncheon alone; but on this day I could not leave him, I could not give thing of where he had been or what he minor interests had died in her heart: "I/am very glad to say that I do not, the one great fact lay ever before herwrist. Never suspecting what it meant, mainma. It seems to me that what he did not love her—a fact that shashe asked suddenly, before the servants people call love, as a rule, brings no- dowed her life and darkened the whole world to her. She made many efforts she were waiting at table—

Never had mother a more devoted Vance," she replied. ninloch took ber period. Invitations were lavished upon utilised in time, dear, and my maid bound it nicely seriously about the handsome captain, to decline them because of her health, a skin he saw a livid bruise, the mark of her. There came a quieter moment, will not be a wise man, I shall have to have nover met any one you care "I am glad you take so sensible a view "No," laughed Angela, "I am fancy intended to be a careless, good free, mamma. I love you best in the ed voice. "I will join you do loch doubted whether she had done to care for, I want no one else. I do Miss Rane in the opposite direction

But her words failed to touch him. There was a time when I believed that captain was going to Nice with Lady able; but I never met one whom I go home." His dislike is her was increased from grief killed quickly; but it does not Laura, who was in delicate health, she should care to marry." She looked at Two hours later the captain returned decided upon a trip to Paris, and thither her mother with laughing eyes, as to the hetel, full of good humour and Lady Loura Wynyard was very ill with her lovely niece Gladys she went. she added, "I will wait, mamma, un. high spirits. Hastily and somewhat "I wish, Laura, that you would be that night. Angela would not leave Rumour for once spoke the truth. The til I find some one like my father, and noisily he entered his wife's roo "These her, and the girl's thoughts were very captain had arranged to take his wife I will marry him; then I must be "So many invitations, Laura!" he

"If I were to humble myself and go able physician was consulted. He knew stopping in the same place. He made begins. could not be jealous of me, for one must make my mother happier, he would called in, and gave his opinion at once— of the Continent—Lady Laura was six," said the teacher, kindly.

To be shut up in a villa with a deli-sweet subtle odour of violets that dis- tion. The inmates number

She wondered if her mother would cate wife and an antagonistic step- tinguished everything belonging to single noteworthy incident occ consent to leave-that was the only re- daughter was not in the line of life best Gladys Rane. She saw that on the ing the year. One hundred "I would rather never enter the house medy she could hit upon—and on the suited to the dashing captain. He felt days these letters came her husband engaged outside the walls in the quarries. again than have to submit to such day following, when Lady Laura, look- however that he had done his duty in was always light-hearted and happy. The gang performed valuable work last scenes! " he said to himself, as he ing very weak and ill, sat in her boudoir, consulting the most fashionable physi- She would find him sitting alone, with a last taken place. There are thirty nice. walked towards his club; and he mut. Angela broached the subject to her gent- cian in London and in hastening to happy brooding smile on his face, and he mut. Angela broached the subject to her gent- cian in London and in hastening to happy brooding smile on his face, and he mut. Angela broached the subject to her gent- cian in London and in hastening to happy brooding smile on his face, and he mut. How could she get well? Why need take you back to Rood. You are not Lady Laura enjoyed and benefited by she get well? She had wantonly spoiled ence for serious offences. faint hope that her husband loved her, sadly, "I do not think I shall ever be drove out with her; he sat with her at penalty. One thing however Lady jubilee, is to be signalized by the issue "I hope you will, mamma," she sigh. his complacency so far as to read the that Gladys Rane had written to the issued in America—the Carnival num-

"He would have broken my arm," ed. |"We were happy enough once, newspapers to her. She tried to dismiss captain to say that Lady Kinloch would ber of the Montreal Star a work of she said, to have saved Gladys's flower." Mam ya, do not be angry with me if I the memories of the past and be happy, insist on going to Brighton for a month, national importance. We are told by On the carnet, where she had flung it, say scheetling exceptional to you." Yet, but her soul seemed to be dead within as some friends of hers were going those who know that it will evershadow It seemed to her now to the her opportunity was come, the her. She knew that he did not love thither, and how it would relieve the and outstrip all previous efforts in illike a living thing a snake the veno- words, and difficult to find. "You her, that he had never loved her; and monotony, how it would brighten her lustrated journalism. Those who can mous faugs of which had already are not heappy with the captain, why in every section of his, in every word, life, if he were going thither at the same not go to Montreal for the great Car-There was nothing however to com- unusually bright humour. He said to Star. It is to be some forty odd mani-Lady Laura started as the bold pro- plain of during those few weeks. The his wife that he thought it was time moth pages with five plate supple-

captain certainly would leave her at they left Switzerland; and asked her ments. same fashion!" she said bitterly, as she . "Leave my husband, Angel? I could times for a few days, but she never whither she would like to go. Her an. According to The St. John, N. B., Telelooked with flerce anger on the trampled not, my dear; I could not live without asked whither he was going, and he swer was "Rood." To her there was graph, a family residing on Dorchestered; then suddenly the captain took oc- where its movements can be Laura," he said. "It is some time rock, and keeps on rocking world to her. She made many efforts since I have been to Bournemouth; ceases to be a virtue. The chair has been would you like to go there, dear?" "Mamma, what have you done to your Angela, recognising the assault of the family has slept of the family has slept of the family has slept of the wrong he had done her to rock with no one near it. The There was a moment's awkward sil. in law, did not again urge the point; that there could be no renewal of a love light. How she loved him, in spite of tinued to rock with no one near it. The at one of the window change. more about me. Do you think it is pos-sible that, even if he did marry me with: out love, he might learn to love me believe that he would ever do so: She had hardly finished speaking when the captain entered the room charming; the sun is warm, and the air ing impulsive manner, the same warm ing to the wash of the waves, when sud-

I She saw as in a blinding glare the smil. better enjoy the society of her rival.

Gladys Rane, withdrawing just a litt.

come straight from that woman's pre- she clung to Angela, crying out that she marry, your husband will allow this "Angela," said her ladyship, "you long stay. Dear mamma," she added, "I am afraid I have hurt your wrist," world, that she wished she could die, "If he be a wise man, he will," she are more than eighteen years of age, stand it this hot sun; it will not do you

" He knew she was here, Angel.

His wife stood before him, tall and stately, proud and defiant, as he had | rally pale and her blue eyes flashing "You know that woman was coming here," she broke in.

TO BE CONTINUED.

and his wife was quite willing. It was he wanted to see Glady's Rane once next," promps the teacher. Ten, jack, the pretty monogram "G. R.," and the found everything in a satisfactory condi-heard, and it is stated that every night.

what it means, I shall be ready to die." "I will go wherever you please, cided to remove. That the bottom of the nort. "We will go there, then, if you prefer occupied by two valleys, the eastern ex-"You look much better to-day, Lau- and traccable as far as the equator, with an

you are while the western valley reaches from Bie

One morning moth

NO. 32.

the ladies he was escorting. There was

"But I preferred remaining with you; a certain air of distinction about Lady "I am glad I came," said Lady Laura, as she stood upon the pier. "How denly the captain stopped before a little turned pale, her heart seemed to stop friends who were with Miss Rane, and

Her husband introduced her to the ing face and shining eyes that were rigood terms with her that he might the ou Tuesday, but we shall not make a

Laura," put in the captain, in what he

"I am afraid so, mamma, replied the girl, full of pity for the suffering she saw When they had rested some time, Lady at once!" she cried. "But I cannot. she could. When she heard that the London-handsome, clever, and agree. shall not wait for the captain; I must never seen her before, her face unnatu.

am quite sure."

auugemyly toved, was unnt to nattie with "At nomes or receptions. One my one ribly neavy on his nands but for a small boys were called out to recite in arithmetic.

"I wish I could," no continued.

"I pain; yet how was it to be prevented? she had given them all up; and then, and select circle of friends, most of "Come, now, Johnny, "and the teacher, "let and blind man as libra who was it to be prevented? she had given them all up; and then man of his own calibra who was it to be prevented? The What could be done? to him if I were to implore of him to what ailed her ladyship before he was many excuses to himself—he was tired acren." "Ne; Johnny, you have skipped

"When I have fully mastered that trusting, loving woman caught his hand ghost in the house, and the elevents have

It of the captain to himself, as he product the captain to himself, as