He was pulling his level best and his hind feet were braced against a cellar-door, which suddenly yawned open and let the hind-quarters of the animal through. In spite of every effort to drag him out he gradually slipped in till he disappeared into the cellar below. Strange to say he was neither cut nor hurt, and seemed to take things as a matter of course. The hole through which he fell is about three feet square, and it is a mystery how he got through so small an aperture. The division took place at 9:30, and the government obtained leave to bring in a bill, the vote standing 164 to 19. The home rulers left the house in a body. The bill was then read for a first time. The second reading was fixed for noon to-day. The house adjourned after sitting forty-two hours.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The Times says that the supreme court, if Matthews' bill were confirmed, would consist practically of seven justices, of whom three are known to be in favor of reversing the decision of last winter, which affirmed the constitutionality of the Pacific railroad funding bill. A majority of the court could make a decision that would imperil the interests of the government to the amount of one hundred million dollars. The Central Pacific railroad is prepared, should Matthews' bill be confirmed to bring suit against the railroad commissioners of California, which, on appeal to the supreme court, would bring up the question of the constitutionality of the funding act for re-determination. It is generally believed Matthews nomination will be reported adversely. The World says should the  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. funding bill be reported from the committee and pass the senate it may be safely said the house would not agree to it.

The Shadow of the Scaffold. WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Feb. 2.—To-morrow

(Thursday) the gaol here will be the scene of a double execu-tion. Mrs. Catharine Miller and George W. Smith will expiate with their lives the murder of the husband of the former, a tragedy which bore many features of similarity to that of the Meierhoffer case in the neighboring state of New Jercey. The usual amount of maudlin sympathy is displayed for the criminals in this instance, and there are many who are inclined to place credence in the woman's assertions of innocence. A lingering hope of a respite at the last moment has roused Mrs. Miller from her accustomed state of apathy, and she has improved very much in health and spirits during the last few days. The scaffold was erected on Saturday by Sheriff Wilson and theusual tests were applied. The three little children of the condemned woman will be brought to the gaol some day before the execution to take their leave of her. Her paramour (Smith) appears to be resigned to his fate and gives himself up wholly to religious exercises. He parted with his mother, sisters, and little children on Saturday and the interview was most affecting. Great care is taken by Sheriff Wilson to exclude all visitors from the cells of the prisoners except the clergymen who are attending them. It is expected that there will be an immense crowd around the gaol on Thursday. A strong force of police has been detailed to form a cordon around the building. Public excitement is intense on account of one of the doomed criminals be### ing a woman. NOTES ABOUT THE HOUSE. What our Local Legislators are Doing—Private Bills Committee.

The railway committee meets Thursday at eleven o'clock. The member for west Toronto will this afternoon give notice of his bill TO REDUCE EXEMPTIONS.

The bill respecting the Toronto gravel and concrete company will be considered by the private bills committee to-morrow. bill is to stop the company using a steam motor on the Kingston road tramway. The speaker gives a dinner party to-morrow evening.

The member for Hamilton has prepared a bill to amend the liquor licence act. Mr.

Gibson's principal amendments are: Double the penalties for selling liquor without license; incorporate the confiscation clauses of the Scott act; double the penalties for selling during prohibited hours, and TAKE AWAY THE LICENSE after second conviction; make parties buying and selling during prohibited hours subject to prosecution for violation of the act and liable to its penalties. Mr. Gibson reports that the general feeling regarding the increase of penalties is that it is a step in the right direction.

The private bills committee sat this forenoon, Hon. Mr. Fraser in the chair. A bill respecting the Hawkeye gold and mining company was passed, as also was a bill to change the name of the village of Mill-point to Deseronto. The Anglo-Canadian mortgage company's bill, of which the member for Hamilton has charge, was referred to the judges. The bill changing the name of Petersville, a suburb of the Forest City, to West London was reported. The bill to incorporate Brockton as a village was allowed to stand, the local representatives not being present. A bill to legalize by-law 174 of the county of Frontenae and the sale of debentures issued thereunder was passed. The bill to amend the act incorporating the ROMAN CATHOLIC BISHOPS of Toronto and Kingston was the subject of a short discussion, but no exception was taken to it. It gives them power to mortgage lands and confirms existing mortgages. It was reported.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

How the Forty-two Hours' Session Came to a Close Biggar Expresses a Hope for the Success of Fenianism-A Measure to Fight Ob-

LONDON, Feb. 2. - It is understood that the appeal to the authority of the chair, which was eventually successful in stopping the obstruction in the house, was agreed upon by the leaders of both the Liberal and Conservative parties. The final speech before the intervention of the speaker was by Biggar, who concluded by expressing a wish for

THE SUCCESS OF FENIANISM. During Biggar's speech Mr. Gladstone entered the house. He was loudly cheered. At this point the speaker resumed the chair at 9 a.m. He immediately said: "During forty-one hours the house has been occupied by repeated motions for adjournments, supported by small minorities in opposition to the general sense of the house. A crisis has arisen which demands the prompt interposition of the chair and house. A measure

RECOMMENDED AS URGENT in her majesty's speech a month ago, being arrested by an inconsiderable minority, it is necessary to vindicate the authority of the house. I am satisfied I shall best carry out its will and may rely on its support if I decline to call upon any more members to speak, and immediately propose to put the several questions to vote. It will be necessary for the house to assume more efficient

CONTROL OVER ITS DEBATES and entrust greater authority to the chair.' The speaker was repeatedly enthusiastically cheered. The vote of 164 to 19 on the division was that by which the amendment to adjourn the debate was rejected. The speaker then put the motion that leave be given to bring in the protection bill. The home rulers here for two minutes shouted, "privilege, privilege," and then as the speaker still remained standing, they all

LEFT THE HOUSE IN A BODY, bowing to the speaker as they did so, the other members cheering their departure. The motion that leave be given to bring in the bill was unanimously agreed to. Mr. Gladstone announced that he would move on Thursday that if, on notice being given that the business of the house is urgent, and if, on a call by the speaker, forty members shall support the demand for urgency, the speaker shall forthwith put the question without debate on the amendment or adjournment, and if the question of urgency be decided in the affirmative by three to one, then the powers of the house for the regulation of its business shall be vested in and remain with the speaker till he shall declare the state of public business no longer urgent.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH. The Mail Dictator's Warning to Orange Civil

A World reporter, in an interview with a prominent Orangeman this morning, learned that for some time past there has been an active agitation in progress in Orange circles to establish an Orange or third political party, the members of that body being dissatisfied with their present relation with the Conservative party. The matter having assumed shape, it was expected that some definite action in relation thereto would be taken at the Orange grand lodge meeting, which will be held in St. Mary's towards the end of the month. Prominent among the leaders of the new party is Major Jas. Bennert of the inland revenue department in this city, and he being grand master of the Orange order of western Ontario, is frequently called upon to speak and preside at Orange gatherings. At many of such meetings he has boldly expressed his opinion of Roman Catholicism, and this seems to have given umbrage to Roman Catholic supporters of the C n ervatives. The government, in order to appease the Catholies, and at the same time crush out the new party, consulted with the dictator of the Mail, with the result of having a semi-official warning issued editorially to all Orange civil servants to publicly utter nothing offensive to the Roman Catholic church or its institutions. This article appeared in yesterday's Mail, and has created intense excitement in orange circles. It was not brought under the notice of the county orange lodge last night, but it is expected that the grand lodge of Ontario west will have something to say on the matter at its approaching meeting. In the meantime it will tend to widen the breach between the Orangemen and the Conservative leaders, and further strengthen the hands of the leaders of the new party. The local Orange leaders are unanimous in their denunciation of the Mail's attempt to suppress freedom of speech, and call upon Major Bennett-in his capacity as grand master-to inform the government that the religious convictions of civil # servants, who are Orangemen, must not be interfered with. A SAD ACCIDENT.

A Graduate of Toronto University Accidentally Shot at Ann Arbor, Mich.

The sad intelligence was received here this afternoon that H. A. Fairbank, B.A., had accidentally shot himself at Ann Arbor, Michigan, and died soon afterwards. Mr. Fairbank was a promising young man of about twenty-two, son of Mr. Fairbank, the well known banker of Petrolia, and took his degree of B.A. last year from the university of Toronto. For the last four university of Toronto. For the last four years he has been a student here occupying quarters in the college residence. This winter he went to Ann Arbor to take a post graduate course, with the intention of going into medicine. Mr. Fairbank was an ardent sportsman and always had revolvers or guns in his room, and it may have been in handling these that the sad accident occurred.

At the meeting of the county council today the committee on education suggested that some remedial legislation be sought in respect to county model schools. The report said the time of the headmaster was too much taken up with modelites, and suggested that the number of modelites educated each year should be limited, especially as many, after getting through, followed other callings, and consequently made no return for the money expend-ed upon them. The council adopted the report and appointed a com-mittee to lay the report before the minister of education. This afternoon the com-
