

IN WOMAN'S REALM

CHRISTMAS TIME
Yes, Christmas time is no longer here. The season people send out cheer. Andrig down in their dip. To see if they have any glow. But find it is so very low. It gives them all the lip.

Today's Fashion

In Cinnamon-Brown Wool
By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

NICE for home or school is this dress for a 14-year-old. It is of cinnamon-brown wool with black velvet collar and cuffs. The dress is double-breasted with the buttons continuing onto the hips, outlining and buttoning the pockets. The back has a low-placed hip-yoke. The circular skirt is flared.

advising making a loop and knitting from this and not casting off over the finger. Sometimes the cuff is not the desired four inches in length. To remedy these mistakes, they do not knit the whole sock, but cut off the edge and then knit it to give the desired length and width. They watch very carefully for knots as there must be no knots in the wool. Bunched up toes are occasionally found and these too must be altered so as to make the toes a comfortable shape. They are anxious to have socks made of three-ply wheeling yarn, for the sailors. This makes a very heavy sock, which the sailors use inside their rubber boots. Many of the city women object to using the heavy wheeling wool as they are accustomed to knitting with the fine fingering wool. These objections are met with the fact that the country women as they are accustomed to knitting their husband's socks from the heavy wool as it is more suitable for heavy work. There is a need for rifle mitts. These have a first finger as well as a thumb.

The men say they like the Balachava helmets which have the large bills both from and back, as they keep them warmer. The Ottawa Branch of the Red Cross will be pleased to answer any questions or help in any way possible.

Uses for Bacon Fats
When we read of the scarcity of fats in some of the European countries we realize how fortunate we are in Canada, where many of us have more fats than we can use. We use considerable bacon and so cannot begin to use all our bacon fat. I always manage to find someone who can. Lately I have been giving it to a Scotch woman who is a very good cook. She tells me she uses it to replace the salt pork when she bakes beans. She also uses it instead of a ham bone in pea soup. I have not used bacon fat in pea soup but I have used a chunk of bacon when I did not have the usual ham bone. We have enjoyed having pea soup in Ottawa. When in London I could not get split-peas that would boil soft. It seems silly to say they would not get soft, but that is the truth. Finally I quit trying to make it. The first time I made pea soup here I was amazed to find the peas nice and soft in just over an hour. A steaming plate of pea soup is a mighty fine supper in a cold winter's night. The legumes, that is peas, beans and lentils, are the only vegetables which have any appreciable amount of protein, and because of this they may be substituted for meat.

Oatmeal Drop Cookies
1/2 cup butter, 2/3 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1/4 cup milk, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 cup rolled oats, 1 cup chopped date, 1 cup cranberries.

The Barrie Drama Club's presentation of two fifteenth century plays was well received by a large audience in Public Library Hall Thursday evening. The first play, "The Devil Among the Skins," was a farce directed by David Smith with a cast including Kay Higgins, Jack Rouse, Howell Partridge and Maurice Park.

The Play of the Tailors and the Shearmen was a nativity play and had a much larger cast and many short scenes. It was directed by Miss Florence Billcliffe, with the chorus by the Barrie Collegiate Glee Club directed by Angus Ross. In the cast were Sandy Coutts, Margaret Hinds, Charles Robinson, Glen Morley, Earlston Doe, Fred Kuit, Phyllis Haughlin, Dorothy Norris, David Smith, Jack Johnston, Howell Partridge, Joe McBride, Walter Alexander and Elsie Raikes.

The Drama Club is to be congratulated on the fine way the small stage was arranged. A draw curtain had been put up by the club for its plays and very effective scenery and lighting were used.

Others who assisted in the productions were Leila Hunter, Frances Hurlbert, make-up; Mrs. Bram Hawkins, Mrs. E. O'Brien-Saint, Mrs. David Smith, costumes; Miss M. Livingstone, curtains; Sandy Coutts, Mrs. Hawkins, Frances Hurlbert, Ken Partridge, Elsie Raikes, David Smith, production committee.

Commitments to Mr. and Mrs. Morris Miller, 28 Elizabeth St., who celebrated their silver wedding December 24. An interesting party was held in honor of the anniversary, while the happy couple also received beautiful gifts of silver, flowers and many congratulatory telegrams.

Mrs. Miller received the "many guests handsomely gowned in wisteria blue chiffon, with a matching applique jacket." Mrs. Roy Benson wearing ice blue chiffon, assisted in receiving.

The tea table was prettily decorated in pink and silver with roses and narcissi and a three-tier wedding cake in the centre. The cake was arranged on a musical pedestal playing the wedding march. Mrs. J. R. Reid, gowned in chablis lace, and Mrs. S. Stranman, in beaded gown of French violet, presided at the tea table.

The coming of the New Year was as usual well celebrated by Barrie with special theatre programmes, public dances, and many private parties.

Then, too, a number of Barriettes were guests of the officers at Camp Borden at the New Year's dances at the Permanent Force officers' mess and at the R.C.A.F. officers' mess. Among those who noticed at these dances were Mrs. D. F. McLaren, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gaultier, Mr. Percy Plummer, Wanda Watters, Ruth Craig, Monica McGibbon Gill, Phyllis Matthews, Dorrie Wharton and Patricia Irwin; Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Burt, Allison.

Another enjoyable dance was given by the officers of the local company of the Grey and Simcoe Foresters at the officers' mess in the Armouries.

Among those who attended were Miss Kay McCarthy, Toronto; Major Gordon Longman, Capt. and Mrs. C. D. Raikes, Lieut. and Mrs. Angus McNabb, Lieut. and Mrs. Douglas Oliver, Lieut. and Mrs. Alvin Hamner, Mr. and Mrs. George Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crossley, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McBride, Mr. and Mrs. D. Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. William McGuire, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sinclair, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Adamson, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Russell McLaren, Avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Art McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wilgar, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Walls, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Easton, Mr. and Mrs. John Woods, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Little, Dr. and Mrs. Neil Laurie, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Payne, Dr. and Mrs. Randall Richardson.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pigott, Theresa St., who were twenty-five years married on December 30. The couple celebrated the happy occasion with an informal party with friends present from Toronto, Alliston, Midhurst, Guthrie and Crown Hill. An enjoyable evening was spent with games and music.

The dining room table, centred with a wedding cake and white center was presided over by Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Harris.

The highlight of the Star Christmas in by the World-Smiths, who were followed by the Christmas following.

Good music, special dances, such as a balloon dance, elimination dance and such, added to the pleasure of the occasion. Marion Vair and Norman Hubbell, London, received the prizes for the elimination dance. Seldom have we seen so many lovely gowns on Barrie ladies as we did Monday evening.

Among the many guests we noticed Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Cameron, the latter wearing a gold and wine brocade gown; Mr. and Mrs. George McConkey, the latter in a chic gown of blue chiffon with contrasting American Beauty velvet bow; Mrs. M. Bell, handsomely gowned in silver; Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Thomson, the latter wearing black net; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. McKinnon, the latter in a black and gold flowered brocade gown; Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Empeke, the latter in wine and brocade gown; Squadron Leader and Mrs. George R. Rodgers, the latter wearing peach lace; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rodgers, the latter in blue chiffon with contrasting jacket; Mr. and Mrs. George Hubbard, the latter wearing navy blue moire; Mr. and Mrs. A. Decarie, the latter smart in orchid chiffon; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sinter, the latter wearing violet taffeta, with matching velvet jacket; Mr. and Mrs. George F. Johnston, the latter smart in peach lace; Mr. and Mrs. S. Bryson, the latter in black velvet; Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Walls, the latter smart in a gown of blue chiffon with brilliant; Mr. and Mrs. Russell McLaren, the latter in wine lattice; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wiles, the latter in wine velvet; Mr. and Mrs. R. Livingston, the latter in white crepe with gold sequin trim; Mr. and Mrs. A. Crossland, the latter wearing wine chiffon; Mr. and Mrs. A. McKenzie, the latter wearing wine taffeta with contrasting blue velvet bow; Doris Kearns, George Graham, Marjorie Ineson, Marguerite Thomson, Phyllis Smith, Dr. Bruce Johnston, Patricia McBride, Leah Lowe, Don Fell, Helen Bartley, Douglas Smith, Catherine McKenzie, smart in a gown of plaid taffeta; June Thomson, with a full black net skirt and smart flame military jacket; Morton Knox; Ruth Simpson, in white chiffon with a gold sequin girde; Ted Ineson; Mona Beatty in a black period dress; Ralph Patterson, Adine Seagram, in black net brightened with gold bows; Charles Seagram, Bob Ramsay, Allan Patterson and many others.

Anderson-Ross
Knox College Chapel was the setting for a pretty wedding yesterday when Phyllis Bryson Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bruce Falconer Anderson, son of Mrs. C. E. Bennett of Stayner. Only the members of the families were present. The Right Rev. Stuart C.

organist, and soloists were Miss Mae O'Neill, Phelpston, and Mrs. T. D. O'Neill, Seaforth.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the groom's brother, Toronto, Mrs. T. D. O'Neill pouring coffee. Guests from a distance at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. T. D. O'Neill, Seaforth; Mrs. Frank Corrigan and daughter, Elmvale; Peg Stone, Elmvale; Mae O'Neill, Catharine and Albertine Coughlin, Madyn Coughlin, Eugene Mulroy, Jerry and Dan Coughlin, all of Phelpston, and Jim Coughlin, Subury.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvert will reside in Kirkland Lake.

Parker performed the ceremony and the wedding music was played by Mr. David Guchterony. Miss Vivian Miller was the soloist. The chapel was decorated with white mums and palms. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and attended by her sister, Miss Shirley Ross. Mr. Thomas Currier of Ottawa was best man, and the ushers were James Ross and Lieut. Richard Ross, cousins of the bride, and both of Ottawa. The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin and lace with long train, a tulley veil arranged with a lace cap and carried a bouquet of pale Japanese Hill roses. Her sister was in a chic blue crepe fashioned with draped bodice and full skirt trimmed with silver kid. Her pill box hat matched her dress and she carried a purse corsage of white carnations.

The reception was held at The Clarence, the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Ross wore a short black dress trimmed with dolphin-line blue silver fox hat and corsage of sweet peas and roses. The groom's mother had chosen a wedding dress with corsage of bronze mums.
