HEAVY SNOWFALL BRINGS WINTER UP TO MINUTE

Mercury Drops to 17 Below Zero Tuesday Morning for Coldest of Winter Season

During the past few days, the weather has been featured by a very heavy snowfall, thus making up for the lack of it during the early winter season. Today there were from 15 to 18 inches of snow lying on the ground in the lower districts. That is deep snow, if you ever tried to walk through it. The mercury took a nice dive this morning, and many cars were difficult to start. The weather today was bright and cold with plenty of snow. There was a heavy snowfall last evening. In fact, probably the heaviest in the shortest time this winter. The trees are providing a very attractive appearance.

SNOW PLOWING IS UNDER FIRE TOWN COUNCIL

The town's snowplowing services, under stress because of the heavy snowfall, came in for some criticism at Tuesday evening's meeting of the Town Council. Ald. G. W. Clark asked what sort of job they were doing with the snowplowing. There had been a pretty poor sample of it to date in Ward Six. Rev. D. F. MacLaren said that they were not getting out very fast in the morning. Ald. Clark stated that whole blocks on Cumberland St. had not been touched at all. In other cases, the plow had not gone in a straight line. Ald. E. A. Twiss, chairman of the Board of Works, declared that the Engineer had received only one complaint and taking it all round, he was rather surprised to hear that there were complaints. The Mayor said he had only one complaint. Ald. Twiss said the man was new on the job and was trying to do his best. Ald. Clark stated there were six complaints on Cumberland St. They were all justifiable because he had checked them all. Ald. W. D. Paddison said that the only complaint he had heard was that they were not getting out in the mornings in time. Ald. Twiss said one man had called up the Town Engineer at 3:45 a.m. one day, which should show something.
