

ABOUT ALLANDALE

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Langdon and Dr. F. A. Anley, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. F. McFadden and family, Alliston, were guests during the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. E. McFadden. The greater part of the bay was frozen over on Wednesday night of last week with a temperature of around six below and now the fish shanties are beginning to set up in business. C.N.R. engineer Henry Potts, who was badly shaken up by a fall from the engine while on duty at South River on Dec. 24, is doing nicely at North Bay Hospital and is expected home soon. The Gl'd Club of St. George's Church, Allandale, gave Mrs. Edgar Matchett a beautiful toilet set on the latter's departure last week for Port William, where she has gone to join Mr. Matchett. Victor Reynolds attended the Goodyear-St. Catharines senior game in St. Catharines on Friday night last and spent Friday and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Reynolds. Joseph Debb, well known retired railway employee, decided to get away from the present display of real winter and left this morning to spend what is left of it in San Diego and Los Angeles. Visitors for part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. W. Graham were Mr. and Mrs. S. Thomas of Newmarket and Miss Bernice Thomas of Toronto. Mrs. Graham and daughter Miss Irene, were in Toronto for part of the week. Wins Window Display Prize The Examiner extends congratulations to Miss Dorothy Webb of Webb's Jewellery Store, who captured first prize in the Dominion-wide window display contest sponsored by the Western Clock Co. held in October. The win is all the more remarkable because of the fact that nearly all of the larger firms in most of the Canadian cities had entries in the competition. Burton Ave. United Church On Sunday morning at Burton Ave. United Church, Miss Barbara Jones of Toronto University, a guest at the parsonage, sang "Come Unto Him," from the Messiah. The evening service was set for 10:45 to meet the New Year and Rev. W. A. E. Doe spoke on "Beginning and Ending" with the thought that a good ending also means a good beginning. Both choirs were present and two anthems were sung by the regular choir "Oh God Our Help" and "Ring Out, Wild Bells." W. A. Doe also sang a solo, "I Shall Not Pass This Way Again." Joint Prayer Services A splendid spirit of co-operation has been manifest between the three churches in Allandale during the past, and this year a series of prayer services was arranged for the week. On Tuesday night in the Essa Road Presbyterian Church with Rev. N. R. D. Sinclair presiding, Rev. J. H. Jamieson, rector of St. George's Anglican Church, gave an address on "Our Heritage, the Universal Christian Church, Divided Yet United." On Wednesday night at St. George's Memorial Hall, Rev. J. H. Jamieson was in charge and Rev. W. A. E. Doe of Burton Ave. United Church gave the address. Tonight, Thursday, the service will be at Burton Ave. Church.

SEED POTATOES MOVING BRISKLY

Ontario farmers should secure supply for planting immediately as many enquiries are being received from other provinces and export agencies, says J. T. Cassin, potato expert.

Many potato growers have not yet obtained their supply of seed. They should not delay much longer, says J. T. Cassin, potato expert of the Ontario Dept. of Agriculture. Stocks of certified seed are becoming depleted. Enquiries are being received from different provinces and for export for Irish Cobblers, Warbas, Katakhdins and Chippewas. Export shipments have been made of Katakhdins and further shipments may follow. This good seed should be planted in Ontario, and growers should not let the opportunity pass to buy before it is too late.

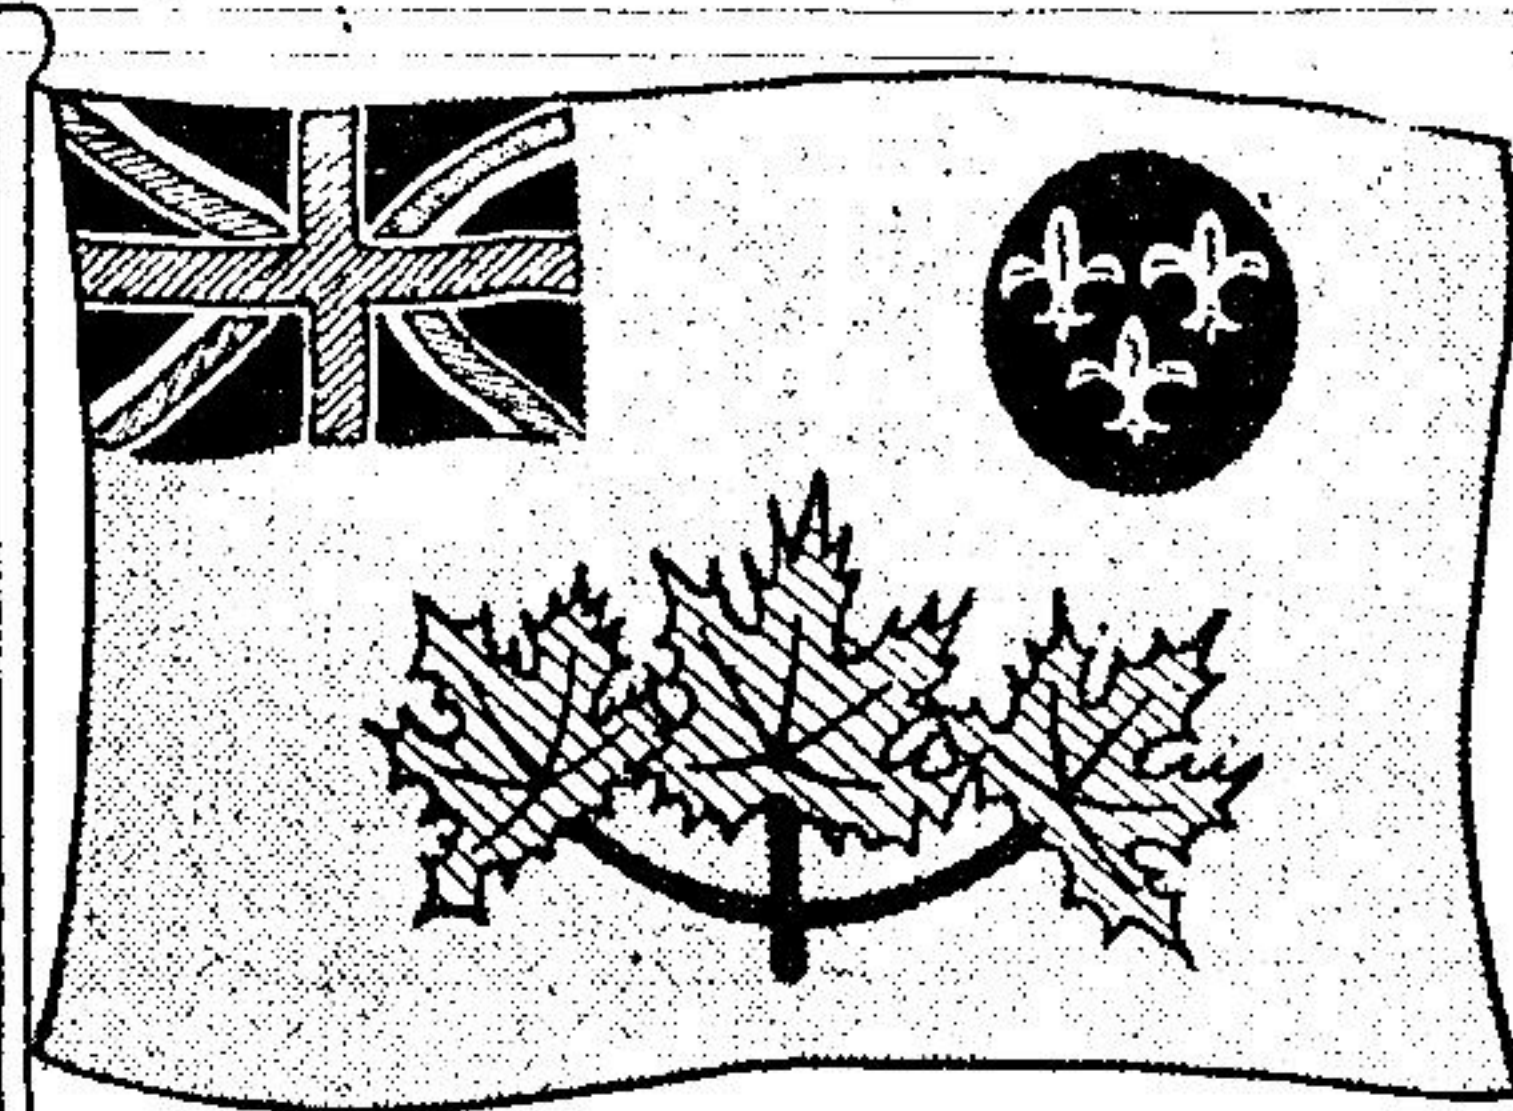

The demand for seed potatoes has been much greater this season than usual, Mr. Cassin states. Growers are realizing that it does not pay to plant diseased seed. Diseased seed compared with certified seed, not only reduces the yield very materially but diseased tubers do not cook well and the consumers do not want them.

Growers making purchases of seed potatoes with the intention of having inspection for certification should remember that such seed must be graded to the requirements for "Certified Seed" and officially tagged to receive inspection in 1940. Bin run or Canada No. 1 Grade will not receive inspection.

Certified growers who plant their own seed will be required to satisfy the inspector that the seed was selected from crops produced in fields that passed all inspections in the previous year and were free from bacterial ring rot. If their seed shows any signs of deterioration, growers should discard it and purchase the best foundation seed available now. Dealers pay premiums for table stock grown from certified seed, Mr. Cassin states.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and family and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McGinnis spent New Year's Day with Mr. and Mrs. James Frankom.

Jack Wattle is not feeling too well these days; rather cold for Mr. Wattle but it won't be too long ere we see him on the front veranda in the warm spring sunshine. Walter's club is visiting Mr. Wattle at present.

Who will be able to collect the $25.00 reward advertised in this week's Examiner? Personally, as correspondent, I only know of one person who would be sorry to hear of the person being caught and that is the culprit. Surely we will have some protection another year against such people taking well developed trees that have made this part since so beautiful.

Additions to Springwater Zoo Two white deer bucks, a pair of Canada geese, three wild turkeys and some black ducks were added to the zoo at Springwater Park recently.

As To Publishing Names Of Givers

(Mount Forest Confederate) The Windsor Star says that in connection with Red Cross campaigns in London and St. Thomas—and probably in many other centres—lists of givers and the amounts of their donations are being published in the local press. In Windsor, the committee in charge has decided against this procedure, apparently on the ground that it would be embarrassing to some donors.

With all deference to the committee, The Star believes its members are wrong. The Red Cross campaign is a great public undertaking. It has an appeal for everyone and deserves the support of everyone. Thousands of persons would take a great deal of satisfaction from seeing their names in the lists. Their donations, in many cases, would not be large, but nevertheless would represent their desire to help and the limit of their ability to do so.

The Star suggests to the Windsor committee that a change in its decision is in order. It believes publication of the donation list would help materially in promoting the campaign and would also have the hearty approval of the general public.

We believe that The Star is quite right in this belief. Some object to publicity from motives of modesty, that one must respect. And there may be other private and personal reasons. A way out may be found by using some such term as Friend, or Wellwisher, or Anon. Others may be quite indifferent, but willing to let their light shine for the sake of the influence on others. Still others may be glad to let others know that they are in sympathy with the cause they support. Others may be influenced to give more than they otherwise would give, out of a sense of respect of themselves and others. The subscribing public have a right to know what others give or do not give in a great public undertaking.

When Douglas Smith of Belleville joined his brother in the ranks of the Hastings and Prince Edward regiment at Picton, officers decided they had the biggest pair of brothers in the Canadian army. Douglas (LEFT) is six feet, six inches tall, weighs 220 pounds, and hasn't a coat yet because it has to be specially tailored. J. R. Smith (RIGHT), is the same height, but weighs only 195. They dwarf Pte. Charles Ayres, who stands 5 feet 6. J. R. is already acting as military policeman while Douglas is slated for the same duty shortly.

Last Photograph Taken in Canada of Commandant of First Overseas Force

THIS, the last photograph taken in Canada of Major-General G. L. McNaughton, Commandant of the Canadian Forces now overseas, was made in Halifax just before the First Division embarked. General McNaughton is now with his boys "somewhere in England." Seeing him off is Alistair Fraser, K.C., Traffic Vice-President of the Canadian National Railways.
