

Harrow Fair

Good entertainment is what Anger considered to be a major draw for patrons this year.

Singer-songwriter Michelle Wright graced the stage Friday night and country-styled singer George Fox followed the next night.

Still, the staples of the annual event are what keep drawing people in year after year, Anger said.

The 4-H Club held their "achievement day" by showcasing swine, beef, poultry, cattle and sheep. While competitions such as the rooster-crowing contest, the pie-eating contest and the mom-calling contest encouraged patrons to get involved.

The parade on Saturday drew thick crowds along the streets of Harrow, with numerous floats travelling along and parade participants marching and waving to the sounds of the Kingsville-Essex Associated Band and the Johnny Brunetto Jazz Quartet.

A full day of fun at the Fair

CORRECTION

A story that appeared in the Aug. 30 edition of the Essex Free Press incorrectly indicated that Councillor Peter Timmins paid his own way to the AMO Conference. The Town of Essex paid for Councillor Bill Caixeiro, Chief Administration Officer Wayne Miller, and Timmins to attend the conference.

NATIVE PLANT PROPAGATION WORKSHOP

Would you like to learn how to collect and grow your own native seeds? – Now you can!

Our upcoming workshop is a great opportunity for anyone who has ever wanted to grow their own native trees, shrubs or wildflowers from seed. Through discussions, demonstrations and handouts you can learn how to collect, prepare and grow native seeds. This workshop begins with an indoor classroom component and continues with a series of practical outdoor seed gathering excursions. Whether you are considering growing native plants as a hobby or a business venture, this workshop is for you.

Begins on Thursday, September 14
Registration is $25 per person
Seating is limited to the first 30 registrants.
Call us at 259-2407 to reserve your space
