SCHOOL RATE TO BE LOWER

Estimates Passed by Board of Education and 1926 Levy Shows Big Decrease

The Report on the estimates for the Board of Education for this year give thorough indication of a big reduction in the tax rate for 1926. Taken on the basis that the town assessment will be identical with that of 1925, this year's rate will see a total reduction of approximately 10 mills. There will be a saving of nearly 7 mills on the High School rate, it having been reduced from an excess 13 to 6.72, and one of 3 1/4 mills on the Public Schools.

Such a cut in the school rate is made possible from the surplus on hand from the levy of 1925 amount-

Alfred G. Vanderbilt in Oakville.

To See the Live Stock at Mr. H. C. Cox's Farm.

Mr. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, the well-known multi-millionaire of New York, in his handsome private car, the Wayfarer, attracted some attention at the Union Station to-day. His car came in attached to the C. P. R. train at 11.45. Mr. Vanderbilt, at that time, in true millionaire style, was just sitting down to breakfast, and on account of his peg-leg suit, did not at once receive Mr. Hugh S. Wilson, manager of Mr. H. C. Cox's stock farm at Oakville, who was at the depot to meet him. At 12.15, the car containing the millionaire party, was put on the Grand Trunk and whisked back to Oakville, where Mr. Vanderbilt will spend the day inspecting the stables and kennels of Mr. Cox.

The millionaire is a tall man, of presumably 32 years of age. He is thin and has no moustache or beard. He was attired in a quiet ulster overcoat and derby hat.

"We return to-night at 10.30 to the Adirondacks," said a member of the party to The Star—Toronto Daily Star.

Millionaire Vanderbilt's special mission from New York was to purchase Mr. Cox's four-in-hand to take to London and Paris, but no arrangement has yet been made. Mr. Vanderbilt was taken to Ennisclair Farm and made a survey of the kennels, buildings, horses and other live stock. Before leaving a few were shown through the luxuriant private car.
