Atlantic Coast Halifax.
During the Korean War Commander Carling served in the destroyers Argonaut and Atabaskan as Division Communications Officer. On return to Canada he became an instructor in the Communications Division of the Fleet School Halifax. In 1964, he was appointed Flag Lieutenant-Commander to the Naval Board at Naval Headquarters.

Commander Carling served as Executive officer of the destroyer Huron in the Atlantic from February 1946 to August 1957 when he became Staff Officer Communications to the Flag Officer Pacific Coast Esquimaux.

In January 1958 he assumed command of the ocean escort Stn. Therese in the Pacific and in September 1960 became the Director of Supplementary Radio Activities at Naval Headquarters.

Commander Carling assumed the duties of Communications Plans Officer (General) on the staff of the Supreme Allied Commander Atlantic, Norfolk, Virginia in May 1963. In May 1966 he was appointed Commanding officer of the helicopter destroyer escort NIPIGON.

Commander Carling and his wife, the former Joan C. Pidgeon of Victoria, B.C., have one daughter, Robin Daphne, age 5.

Commander Carling has asked to extend a most sincere welcome on behalf of the crew to the people of Red Rock and Nipigon and hope that their short visit here is a memorable one for all.
