

Science sideshow at Petawawa library

A science sideshow is coming to Petawawa.

Remember how much fun you used to have at a circus sideshow? Well, there's a science sideshow coming to town and not only is it fun, it's informative.

The Ontario Science Centre's show is coming to the Petawawa Village and Township Union Library June 19 to June 21. More than 15 exhibits and activities will delight visitors.

You can pedal a bicycle to make electricity, explore the super cold using liquid air, change your voice, or check out the insides of George, the life-size torso.

There's puzzles, illusions, skill tests and lots more.

Science sideshows visit communities throughout Ontario each year. Enjoy all the fun of this one during Civic Centre Days June 19 from noon until 8 pm, June 20 from noon until 5 pm and June 21 from noon until 4 pm.

It's all free.
