

Wit and Humour.

PARENTAL INFLUENCE.—Every parent should remember that his children are affected by his constantly moulding influence.

"It is all very pretty talk," said a recently married old bachelor, who had finished reading the Rev. Dr. Fields's essay on the "Culture of Women."

Francis the First, being desirous to raise one of the most learned men of the time to the highest dignities of the church, asked him if he was of noble descent.

We publish this on the authority of an ultra marine: "How terribly the ship labors!" exclaimed the passengers to the captain, as they stood together on the high of the binnacle, what cargo have you in the hold?

Allan Ramsay, whose "Gentle Shepherd" is so much admired, having been handed an orange by the Countess of Aboyne, acknowledged it in these happy terms:—

No, my dear Countess, thou may'st be mute, For I can proudly vie with thee; Thou to the fairest gave the fruit The fairest gave the fruit to me.

"Mamma, may I go fishing?" "Yes lad, but don't go near the water. And recollect, if you are drowned I shall skin you as sure as you are alive."

A Gentleman called at a house of an honest old lady for the purpose of collecting a small debt. Not recollecting the amount, he promised to send his bill that evening.

SEPERATION.—Superstition is the speechless symbol of departed piety; or it is to religion what astrology is to astronomy—the foolish daughter is to the wise mother.

Anecdote of Bishop Butler.

Hume said that Butler's "Analogy" was the best defence of Christianity he had ever seen. It is, indeed, difficult to find in any language a work at once so profound and so useful.

Butler was afterwards elevated to the bishopric of Durham. Being applied to on some occasion for a charitable subscription, he asked the steward what money he had in the house.

"Five hundred pounds," said the bishop; "what a shame for a bishop to have such a sum in his possession." And he ordered it all to be immediately given to the poor.

Print it in letters of Gold.—A father bade his son drive a nail into a certain post whenever he committed a certain fault, and agreed that a nail should be drawn out whenever he corrected an error.

LOVE.—At three years of age we love our mothers; at six, our fathers; at ten, holidays; at sixteen, dress; at twenty, our sweethearts; at twenty-five, our wives; at forty, our children; at sixty ourselves.

There are two classes of disappointed lovers; those who are disappointed before marriage, and the more unhappy who are disappointed after it.

A Welsh editor says: "If we have offended any man in short but brilliant course of our career, let him send us a new hat and say no more about it."

What is it you must keep giving it to another?—Your word.

A boarding house keeper advertises "Board for two gentlemen with gas."

He is a man of power who controls the storms and tempests of his mind.

Useful Receipts.

To PRESERVE POTATOES FROM THE ROT.—The Following, which is taken from a correspondent of the Scientific American is a well worthy trial on the part of our farmers, who have any fears that they are likely to be troubled with the potato rot.

These Pills strike at the root of each disease, and are the cure of every ailment incidental to Man, Woman, and Child, such as all eruptions on the Skin, Indigestion, Bilious, Liver, and Stomach Complaints, General Weakness, Gout, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains in the Limbs, Headaches, Sore Throats, and every complaint caused by irregularities of the bowels, obstructed perspiration, and deteriorated and unhealthy blood. A clean body will contain pure blood, when the stomach, body and blood are pure, from regulating and cleansing the bowels, health is certain. Begin at the beginning, waste no time; strike at the root of your ailment.—Again, I say, look to your stomach. One trial of these PILLS will force conviction. One trial of
