

Hints as to Thriving.

Work.—Hard work is the grand secret of success. Nothing but rags and poverty come of idleness. Elbow grease is the only thing to make gold with.

Don't Henny.—Believe in travelling on, step by step; don't expect to be rich in a jump. Slow and sure is better than fast and shiny.

Be sensible.—Do not be above your business. He who turns up his nose at his work quarrels with his bread and butter.

What young men should do.—Every young man should make the most of himself, intellectually, morally, physically.

None but the brave deserve the fair.—and none but the brave can live with some of them.

How a boy understood it.—There lives in the village of E—, in Indiana, a good Baptist clergyman, whose son, some four years old, had never until a few Sundays since witnessed the rite of baptism.

Did you understand what I said to the lady?—'Oh, yes! you put your hand on the top of her head, and said, 'I baptize you in the name of the Father and the Son, and here she goes.'

A young lady having 'set her cap' for a rather large specimen of the opposite sex, and having failed to win him, was telling her sorrows to a couple of her confidants, when one of them comforted her with these words: 'Never mind, Mollie, there is as good fish in the sea as ever yet were caught.'

The responsibility of educating your children is one you cannot escape. It is a task imposed on you by Divine Providence, and you may look for confidence and guidance and aid. In short, you educate your child, whether you choose it or not; for every action, every word and look, the very tone of our voice, and the round ordinary daily events, which form the moral atmosphere in which you breathe, will influence them far more than the original lessons which they receive, however excellent.

CATARH, HEADACHE, NEURALGIA, &c., no matter how distressing, instantly relieved and quickly cured with Dr. J. Briggs' Alligator. To be had at Findlay & Shaw's.

Feeding for Milk Cows.

Many dairymen get the impression that great yields of milk are the result of particular breeds of cows and of special breeding of stock for the dairy.

We notice from time to time accounts of remarkable yields of milk made by cows of different breeds; and dairymen often look the matter of food and feeding, thinking that the great product is due wholly to the particular breed named.

Good food and plenty of it, is necessary in order to have cows do well. When cows are coming in the last of March or first of April, feeding should be commenced as soon as the middle of March at least.

From four to six quarts of corn oatmeal, one quart of oil meal, and eight quarts of wheat or rye bran (rye is best) makes a good feed. This should be fed until the middle of May, if grass is plenty, the meal may be dropped off, and about twelve quarts of bran fed per day, up to the first of January or until the cow is dry.
