

IN MEMORY

Of Isabella McMeeken, beloved wife of Mr. Herbert Ash, who died in Buffalo on January 17th, 1897, and one whose loss we mourn so deeply. Her sufferings were of long duration until God saw fit to take her from this world of suffering and take her to Himself as we have reason to believe she had a hope on high. She left behind a loving husband, who feels her loss very deeply, and a little daughter who will never know a mother's love.

We have to mourn the loss of one
We did our best to save,
Beloved on earth, regretted, gone,
Remembered in the grave.
We loved her, ah! no tongue can tell
How much we loved her and how well,
God loved her to and thought it best
To take her to her heavenly rest.
Yet again we hope to meet her,
When the day of life is fled,
Then in Heaven we hope too greet her
Where no farewell tears are shed.
—From one who loves her.

ROBB.

(Intended for last issue.)
We are sorry to report the loss by fire of Mr. James Crawford's saw-mill which occurred on Saturday evening last. It is supposed the fire originated in the chopper house, as it had been running till about half-past seven. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford who had been in Mr. Forest, returned about 7 p. m. No sign of fire was apparent then, but shortly after one of the boys discovered the mill ablaze but too far advanced to be extinguished. All that could now be done was to make an effort to save some of the machinery and willing hands went to work accordingly and succeeded in getting out the chopper, butting-saw, shingle machine, some belting and other articles. This is a great loss to the community as Mr. Crawford is not likely to re-build. It is rumored that he intends to go to the Rainy River district.

A concert was given by the Royal Templars of Temperance at Woodland a couple of weeks ago. The entertainment was good but a failure financially. Proceeds $8.75.

THE TRAIL OF DEATH

It begins at the Throat and ends at the Grave. How many a human life is unnecessarily sacrificed.

There are many remedies on the market for the cure of consumption, but consumption, once it reaches a certain stage, cannot be cured. In professing, therefore, to do what is impossible, these remedies prove themselves to be simply humbugs.

Consumption is a disease which destroys the tissue of the lungs. Once gone, no medicine can replace that tissue. Good medicine may arrest the disease even after one lung is wholly gone, as long as the other remains sound. Once both are attacked, however, the victim is doomed.

Just why people should risk their lives to this dread disease and go to great expense afterwards to check it, it is hard to conceive. It is much easier prevented than cured. Throat troubles and severe colds are its usual forerunners. A 25-cent bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine will drive these away. It is, without doubt, the best medicine for the purpose to be had anywhere.
