NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Less than a year ago several scores of Canadians got the idea that they could improve their fortunes by going to Brazil. Nothing could dissuade them from their purpose, though even the Government warned them that the results would probably be disastrous. They would heed nothing but the lessons of experience, and have paid dearly for their tuition. Venturing with the slenderest resources among a climate, they found the new conditions of China a few months ago were decap- wind triumph and send him back into unsuitable, and lived from the outset | itated by one man, which is not likein idleness, poverty, and misery where ly, is soon to renounce his trade of could sustain such a weight so long, yet on their way home. The Dominion as "Monsieur de Paris," is to resign ed in at the window. Government has just agreed to meet from his office as the public executionthe cost of returning the others. They er of France with a record of 502 of- woman's endurance give away. As her have nothing further to expect in ficial deaths to his credit. Brazil and are too poor to get away.

Every steamer from England to South Africa are carrying hundreds of emigrants who are not wanted in the countries where they have decided to live. It is to be hoped that the protests from South Africa, which are now published in England, will stop this flood of unwise emigration. We are informed that Cape Colony, Natal, and the South African Republic are overrun with the unemployed. Many men who earned from $10 to $15 a week in England and America, are working for their mere food in Johannesburg. Eighty fortune seekers, who arrived in that city last fall, have started to walk back to Cape Town, a thousand miles, hoping to obtain food by working on the farms on their route. Emigrants are warned that to enter the Boer republic seeking work, with only money enough to keep body and soul together for a month or two, means suffering and ruin.

The same cry comes from Cape Town Men and women who were well off at home are said to be working there for starvation wages, while scores of men sleep regularly on the mountain side, unable to pay for a night's lodg- ed in an embarrassing position at the ing. Many are turned from the doors of the overcrowded shelters and homes Salvation Army. Probably most of these unfortunates are industrious, worthy people, in whom the spirit of unrest overbalanced good judgment and led them thousands of miles from home on the mere chance carries the knife with him in a small of doing better. They perceive now that it was a hazardous thing to leave their own country to begin life anew in lands about which they were ill informed, and where they had no assurance of employment.

now prevailing in all civilized lands on managing the refractory criminal very few persons are wise to expatriate themselves or even to remove to distant | been an ideal " Monsieur de Paris," parts of their own country in the ex- with his black beard, iron gray hair, absolutely essential to the general pectation that they will better their circumstances. In most cases it is frock coat and tall silk hat. His do- curing enough of it within easy reach folly to seek new and distant homes mestic life has been quiet, as might of the people is considerable. without definite prospects ahead. Those naturally be supposed and his wife, who Playgrounds, too, are needed in the who cannot command success or earn a good living here, in one or another of the vast majority of pursuits, are not likely to do any better elsewhere. As for the lazy and incompetent, they merely jump out of the frying pan into the fire when they change their habitat. An Eldorado for the shiftless is yet to be discovered.

QUEENS WHO SMOKE.

According to Les Annales the Emto forty cigarettes a day. The dowager Empress of Russia, is a confirmed smoker, but confines her indulgence to her own private apartments, apparently in deference to the feelings of the young Czarina, who is opposed to the use of cigarettes, which has become prevalent among women in the best society in St. Petersburg.

The Queen of Roumania, the Queen Regent of Spain, Queen Amelia of Portugal, who in this respect follows the example of her mother, the wife of the Comte de Paris, and the Queen of Italy are all smokers.

"In France," Les Annales continues, forty years. "the association of men and women in all kinds of sports has been the cause of a greater degree of intimacy, and has brought us to accept the cigarette, whose use is extending among young women of the most exclusive cir- Bravery of His Wife Saved Him From cles. Even the most critical no longer protest when two rosy lips send out a few puffs of smoke between a couple of games of tennis. Besides, our grandmothers loved tobacco. The Duchess of Chartres and the Duchess of Bourbon under Louis XIV. even went so far as to smoke pipes, yes, pipes my dears! And in the 'Letters of a Traveller' we read that George Sand always kept tobacco on hand for her own personal

"In all times Spanish women have smoked; and not only cigarettes, but in the lake, and surmounts the massive cigars. Marbot in his 'Memoirs' tells masonry at the entrance of the tunnel us this without mincing matters. And they smoked in England and the United States, although in the latter coun- city. try it is only recently that women have begun to use tobacco. There was a story in Gil Blas not long ago to the effect that three young girls in Louisliceman and were arrested. The Judge, although recognizing that the accused were not conforming to the propcause they were violating no law."

HIS OFF DAY.

Is your papa a Christian, Georgie?

M. DEIBLER, OF PARIS, HAS GUIL-LOTINED 502 CRIMINALS.

Years-Will Soon Retire to Private of wind struck him, and he was hurl-

Speaking of his retirement the Figaro says editorially: "He is very old, braced her knees against the stone his hand trembles, and his extensive wall, and her left arm was torn and services should give him the right to bleeding. The sudden jerk when he rest. His achievements are known to it, yet she had not given in. "I knew all; he has dealt more than 500 wounds, there was no time to faint," she said, all of which have been fatal, but not when she opened her eyes and looked for him. Lately it was noticed that he in his face. "You were at the other has become enfeebled; he had no long-er the skill the wim of his worth er the skill ,the vim of his youth.

other day he came near bungling the vince are very particular. In a few days, possibly even to-morrow, the gruesome identity of 'Monsieur de Paris' will have fallen upon another than M. Deibler, who will retire from the world, knows only as 'M. Moreau,' a yet sufficient income."

M. Deibler has been an executioner for thirty-nine years, From 1858 to 1863 he assisted Roch, his predecessor, in ple. eighty-two executions, and then became executeur des hautes oeuvres" himself. He is now seventy-three years of age. If such a term be permissible, may be said that he is the most popular "bourreau" that France has ever had, and he has very seldom been plac-scaffold. He carefully tests the guillotine beforehand, and even again at the last moment, just before the execution. The knife he keeps in his own possession cent reign, and at the same time conat his home. The different places in fer a great and lasting benefit upon France appointed for executions have each their own scaffolds. In journeying to and from an execution M.Deibler gotten. The memory of its deeds play in. Neat paths, closely trimseem to haunt one.

tended victims, and it rarely happens When he does the police are there to The fact is that under the conditions do his bidding, but he usually insists dark mournful eyes and pale visage. He always dresses in black, with long died a few months ago, was a delicate, country as well as in cities. It is often refined and well-read woman, hardly assumed in the country that boys and the spouse that one would expect to girls have all outdoors in which to play, find in the home of "Monsieur de Par- and that special provision for them is descendant of the famous Samson, who beheaded Louis XVI. That is a mistake, Samson had but one son, who was named Henri, and who was Roch's predecessor until 1848, when he retired from office, with rather an unenviable name. About fifteen or twenty years ago he published the famous "Memoirs de Samson." Mme. Deibler was the daughter of the executioner of Algiers. press of Austria smokes from thirty SNOWBALL, RUNAWAY, SUICIDE.

Peter Joseph Dreis was the cldest druggist in St. Paul, Minn., and one of the city's leading politicians. His son, 13 years old, threw a snowball at a man in a cutter the other day, and it struck the horse, causing it to run away. This runaway resulted directly in three other runaways, in which much demanded damages. Without making any answer Mr. Dreis walked directly into the office at the rear of the store, put a revolver behind his right ear, and fired. Death was instantaneous. Mr. Dreis has been in the drug business here

LIGHTHOUSE - KEEPER'S RETURN.

Watery Grave.

The lonely life of a lighthousekeeper calls for stern, unswerving devotion to duty, and sometimes for real Europe heroism. A story is told of the wife of a lighthouse-keeper of Chicago which shows that the heroism is not always confined to the keeper himself. The light which this keeper tended is at a place called the "Crib," two miles out which receives the water supply of the

One day in early winter the keeper went ashore for supplies. Night came, and he did not return. A wild storm ville, Ky., were seen smoking by a po- had swept suddenly down, and it was impossible for a boat to cross the lake; but though the keeper was not there, the light burned steadily and the wife kept her lonely watch, tending the light and looking for her husband. It was two or three days before he life insurance)—Now what did your came, and even then the waves ran father and mother die of? high and the wind roared. She stood small cargo. It was soon safely housed, and the rope descended for the keeper. Just as he grasped it the waves swept his boat from under him, and carried it away beyond his reach. His safety depended on the strength of his wife's arm, and he trusted himself to it. Slowly, very slowly, he was drawn up, till Something About the Headsman of France he reached the window's edge, but be--Has Held the Position Thirty-Nine fore he could grasp it a heavy gust ed back into the water. Once more the rope was thrown with-The man in France who has probably in his reach, and inch by inch he felt killed more human beings than any oth- himself ascending the rough wall of er person in the world, unless those the stone tower tossed to and fro by strange people who did not need them, 2,000 rebellious Mussulmans who were strength of the wife hold out till the and into an unaccustomed and trying executed in the Northwestern province final effort was made, or would the the raging water?

It seemed impossible that the woman they had expected work and plenty. blood and retire to private life. In oth- he slowly ascended till the critical spot Most of those who survived are now er words, M. Deibler, popular known was reached, and with a long, brave

Then, and not till then, did the brave husband touched the floor she fainted. It was no wonder. He found her clothes worn through where she had fell had wounded her arm and disabled ceremony; and the people of that pro- The Great Benefit Which They Confer on accordance with the conditions upon Old and Young.

been suggested in England for com- of playing the Russian anthem is memorating worthily the sixtieth anniversary of the coronation of Queen Victoria in June next, none seems to good, honest citizen, living on a small, find more favor than the proposition for a concerted movement for setting A HEADSMAN THIRTY-NINE YEARS aside plots of ground or places of historic interest to be dedicated to the common use and enjoyment of the peo-

It is pointed out that this is a plan which will give the people of each town and country a personal interest in the celebration, while it will give them also the feeling that they are sharing in the great national movement. Should this plan be adopted, hundreds of "Queen Victoria" gardens, parks, playgrounds and fields, dotted over the kingdom, may express the popular appreciation of Queen Victoria's benefi-

There are one or two errors which should be guarded against, however. black case of leather made for the pur- | For one thing, places set apart for the pose. This case once seen is never for- public use should not be too good to med sods and signs of "Keep off the M. Deibler seemed to have a strange grass" do not meet the need. These almost supernatural power over his in- are all well, but somewhere in the park there should be grass which one can that he meets with any resistance. stretch out upon, and ground that the boys can trample over. Another mistake is that communities do not begin soon enough to set aside land for commons and public In personal appearance M. Deibler has grounds. They wait until the pressure of population makes breathing-space health, By that time land commands a large price, and the difficulty of se-not necessary; but it often happens in It has been reported that she was a rural communities that there is no place in which children may romp freely. They either play in the roads or trespass in private fields and pastures. Rural communities which move in season to secure open grounds for the public use not only provide for the children of to-day, but save large expenditure later, when population presses upon them, and land comes to be reckoned at so much the square foot.

PRUSSIAN SABLE.

Ten thousand dollars seems a big price to pay for a second-hand garment, but the members of the Royal house of Europe do not hesitate to spend this amount frequently to obtain one for winter wear. The first owners of the costly dress are endowed by nature with damage was done. Two of the injured a precedence in the matter of wearing persons called at the drug store, and that no amount of money can overcome, and the millionaire or titled representative of a European monarchy must be content to purchase the garments after they have been worn for years. But the Russian sable is not a human being and, no matter how much the animal may drag the fur through the mire and dirt, no one will consider it a dishonor to wear it. In Russia and many of the Northern countries a sable coat or cloak is worn as a mark of distinction, and Svengali, in his expressed ambition to wear "ze big fur coat," undoubtedly referred to the fine Russian sable that is seen so commonly at the courts of

While the fashion in most fur changes year by year, sable invariably holds its own, and the possessor of a rich garment of this material can well feel the pride that comes from owning something not commonly worn. mand for sable has never been so extensive here as in Europe, and very few understand the difference between the relative value of the American and Russian furs. At the court of Russia every member must have his sable furs for state occasions, and it is estimated that this equipment must cost each one not far from $25,000. In Germany the maids of honor are compelled to have their garments trimmed with sable tails and clippings, while in the court dresses of several other European nations the sable figures in various ways.

NOTHING SERIOUS.

Applicant-Well, sir, I can't say as Not to-day, sir. He's got the neu- at the window of the tower waiting for I 'xactly remember; but 'twarn't nothhim, with a rope ready to draw up the ing serious.

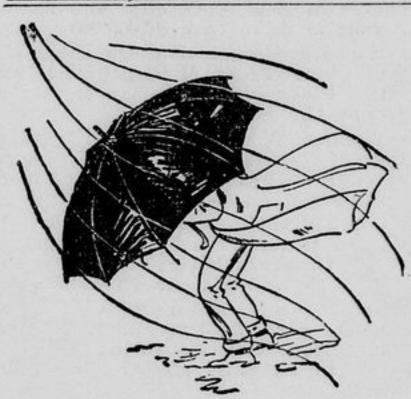

THE BRITISH GRENADIERS.

This Quick-step is Said to Date From the Sixteenth Century.

That fine old English quick-step, "The British Grenadiers," is usually considered to be the peculiar property of the Grenadier Guards; but such is not the case. The march is used by the artillery the engineers, and by all the fusiliar regiments as well. Originally the air, which dates from the sixteenth century, was played only by those regiments which were armed with the grenade; that is to say, by, the artillery, the engineers, and the Royal Fusiliers-the Grenadier Guards only received their title after Waterloo. The words of the song were composed about the year 1690, and contain a reference to "fusees"-often mis-spelt "fuses;" they were really fusils, that is, muskets-and to "hand grenades." The Twelfth Lancers," for some reason nicknamed "The Supple Twelfth," have a curious and unique custom, called the "Penance." This consists of the playing by the band every night throughout the year, after the last post, the trumpet call which signifies the time for going to bed,-the Spanish Chant, the Vesper Hymn and the Russian national anthem. During the Peninsular war, the regiment is said to have sacked a convent, and as a punishment for this sacrilegious proceeding, the authorities imposed the performance of "At this 502d execution at Nancy the VALUE OF PUBLIC PLAYGROUNDS. the Spanish Chant by way of atonement. The Vesper Hmyn is played in which the widow of an officer presented new instruments to the band about Among the many plans which have a hundred years ago. But the origin shrouded in mystery.

CATCHING THE PACE.

I don't mind the city so much now -I'm getting accustomed to its ways. Are you? How? Well, I used to turn two somersaults every time I got off a street car, and now I turn only one.

In the... Rain Storm

the man got very wet. The wetting gave him a cold. The cold, neglected, developed to a cough. The cough sent him to a bed of sickness. A dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, taken at the start, would have nipped the cold in the bud, and saved the sickness, suffering, and expense. The household remedy for colds, coughs, and all lung troubles is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Send for the "Curebook." 100 pages free. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Our Manufacturing Interests.

What a Hamilton Manufacturer Has to Say.

Mr. James Brayley speaks for the public good.

THE PROPER POLICY.

Our representative interviewed Mr. James Brayley, of Hamilton, at his office, 58 King William Street. Mr. Brayley is an enterprising business man, and one of Hamilton's foremost manufacturers. His goods, Saddlery hardware, punches, dies, etc., are known from Halifax to Vancouver, and stand very high in the estimation of the trade.

Mr. Brayley said: "For years I have been troubled with gravel and weakness of the kidneys. I had to stand up and clench my teeth when urinating, so intense was the pain. The pains around my loins where almost intolerable, and I felt as though a cat were being pulled down my back by the hind legs.

"I went from bad to worse till at last I could not urinate at all, and had to be operated on. I had no confidence in anything, and made up my mind to suffer torture to my dying day. Reading the testimony published by the Doan Kidney Pills Co., I saw a similar case to my own, and, being in constant agony, decided to give them a trial, and got a box of the pills from Spackman's drug store, at the corner of Market

"It did me no good, so I got another, and another, until I had taken four boxes, and was about giving up when relief came. I continued to take them till the pain left my back, and I am now as limber as an eel. Instead of getting up a dozen times a night I never get up more than once now. The urine is now perfectly clear and has no sediment of any kind.

"I am delighted to testify in behalf of Doan's Kidney Pills, as they cured me after the less may of hope had fled."

The D. & L Emulsion

down, as it is a food as well as t a medicine. The D. & L. Emulsion

Is invaluable, if you are run

Will build you up if your general health is The D. & L. Emulsion Is the best and most palatable preparation of Cod Liver Oil, agreeing with the most deli-The D. & L. Emulsion Is prescribed by the leading physicians of

The D. & L. Emulsion Is a marvellous flesh producer and will give:

you an appetite. 50c. & $1 per Bottle Be sure you get | DAVIS & LAWRENCE CO., LTD.

Do without Implements, because they can't sow or reap profitably without them. But when ther buy, they naturally want to do so as cheaply as possible. This is why so many deal with us, for we buy for cash and sell at a modest profit. We keep in stock in our Big Warerooms in Upper Town, all kinds of Farm Implements, including the makes of

FROST & WOOD, WILKINSON, MAXWELL,

and other well-known manufacturers.

ALSO

Buggies, Road Carts, Waggons, Stoves, and Musical nstruments

All kinds of Repairs kept on hand

BE SURE AND CALL.

DURHAM

IMPLEMENT AGENT,

UPPER TOWN,

The People

When they go to buy an article is to find the price in accordance with the time.

Our prices are always low All we ask is an honest profit Has your clock gone astray or is your watch not keeping time? Bring them to us and we will set them right.

A. GORDON,

Watchmaker and Jeweler

IN THE TOWN OF DURHAM.

County of Grey, including a valuable W
Power, Brick dwelling, and many elegible
Building lots, will be sold in one or more lots.
Also lot No. 60, Con. 2, W. G. R., Township of Bentinck, 100 acres, adjoining Town plot, Mortgages taken for part purchase money Apply to JAMES EDGE,

The "Chronicle" is the only 12-Page Local Newspaper in Western Ontario.

Edge Hill, P.O.

About the

OUR OLD CHAIR, NE Holding us weary in thy Our minds from anxio Even as her fretful chi calms-For us thy beauty bor Thy faded garment wr

That thou wert old w Yet bless we still the lo To deck thee now in

TO COOK KI Kidneys, if properly a particularly nice dish lamb kidneys are used, chased for a small sum are the most delicate Kidneys can be serve ways, and thus are of to the housewife in ma menu. They require slowly, and too muc toughen them. For a plain kidney wash the kidneys and in plenty of water 1 hour. Remove them rinse them in cold wa into a saucepan with ough to well cover cook them until the Let the kidneys ren until they are thore them out with a skin into square pieces. to the same liquid, salt, and pepper, a a teaspoonful of ch the pan over the fi Meat. Serve with t

For stewed kidne kidneys, remove the white centre, wash in weak salt and Then cut them into roll each slice in flo ter in a fryingpan, put in the floured them on each side. of good stock, or v no stocck is at han fifteen minutes. S paprika and add mushroom catsup sauce and the jui Turn them over toast.

For kidneys ster the kidneys and slices one-quarter ness and roll then ingpan over the kidney slices and of butter. When is browned, turn other side, adding ed. Add two gill and the juice of with salt and pe and let the cont twelve minutes. and sprinkle with Another way thus: Cut the ki or thin slices at cold water thirty with half an onic quart of water. the liquid will hours. Put a ta into a small par fire. When the in aspoonful of it becomes brown kidney liquid a oughly mixed tu > sherry. Remove leaf. Turn the dish and serve. skin from the with a soft clo malves. Season per, dip them foll each piece broiler with br prepared kidne a clear fire. hot platter, better upon the sley over the t with sliced ler An excellent in crumbs. Pr them in cold w them and sprin Dip each piece roll it in bread upon a fine br a bright fire. apon squares o on sauce upon soon as possil stir two table two teaspoonf it is light and ful of chopped paprika. Keep > kidney mixture

salt and cayenne

When broil small, instead in the middle and skewer t toothpicks. Lamb kidne gether are th into halves, the fat and them in cold the bacon thi two pieces; h er, then a pie them until y each skewer into melted upon the ske un a broiler, until it is nee

sides are wel are broiled finger strip lightly with butter upon